

UNIT TITLE: PREPARE AND DELIVER A PRESENTATION		NOMINAL HOURS: 35
UNIT NUMBER:	D1.HSM.CL5.04 D2.TCS.CL5.19
UNIT DESCRIPTOR: This unit deals with skills and knowledge required to plan and make a presentation to groups of people either within, or outside, the host enterprise. It does not refer to impromptu speeches.
ELEMENTS AND PERFORMANCE CRITERIA	UNIT VARIABLE AND ASSESSMENT GUIDE
Element 1: Prepare a presentation 1.1 Describe different types of presentations that may be made 1.2 Identify the logistics of the presentation 1.3 Identify audience for the presentation 1.4 Research the topic for presentation 1.5 Select material for inclusion in the presentation 1.6 Plan and write the presentation 1.7 Develop and/or acquire supporting materials and visual aids for the presentation 1.8 Determine presentation equipment required for the presentation 1.9 Trial and practice the planned presentation 1.10 Revise the presentation on the basis of the trial Element 2: Deliver a presentation 2.1 Set-up and organize the venue, where applicable 2.2 Thank audience for the opportunity to make the presentation	Unit Variables The Unit Variables provide advice to interpret the scope and context of this unit of competence, allowing for differences between enterprises and workplaces. It relates to the unit as a whole and facilitates holistic assessment. This unit applies to a wide variety of presentations across all labour divisions on a diverse range of topics within the labor divisions of the hotel and travel industries and may include: 1. Front Office 2. Housekeeping 3. Food and Beverage Service 4. Food Production 5. Travel Agencies 6. Tour Operation Different types of presentations may be related to: • sales and marketing presentations • mentoring and coaching • staff meetings • conference addresses • staff briefings • business planning meetings.

2.3 Make the presentation according to prepared plan 2.4 Modify presentation to optimize impact and success as required on the basis of immediate feedback from audience 2.5 Respond to questions as required 2.6 Conclude presentation Element 3: Review a presentation 3.1 Follow-up on matters raised during the presentation 3.2 Evaluate personal performance in the planning and delivery of the presentation	Logistics of the presentation may include: • day and date • time of day – including duration of presentation • location and style of venue • content and topic/s of presentation – including parameters and level of detail to be covered • nature of presentation – including a straight presentation, inclusion of ‘Question and Answer’ session, inclusion of demonstrations, handouts, samples and/or products • objectives for the presentation – including main points to be covered or made • context of the presentation • guidelines imposed or required for the presentation. Audience for the presentation may relate to: • number in the audience • seating arrangements in the room/area where the presentation will take place • age and gender • seniority or status of people who will be at the presentation • nature of the relationship between the speaker and the host enterprise • their existing knowledge and understanding of the presentation topic • their need to obtain information from the meeting. Research may include: • studying internal information – including documentation, books, policies, procedures, data and other relevant material • investigating external information and data – including, where appropriate, data produced by competitors, government agencies, industry peak bodies, national and international bodies, and suppliers • identifying relevant trends and recent activity related to the topic
---	---

	• identifying similar presentations that have been made by the host enterprise on the same or similar topic • identifying material that may be released for public consumption and material that is commercial-in-confidence • using desktop research techniques – including the Internet. Select material may relate to: • determining relevancy of material • confirming validity of material • guaranteeing currency of material • ensuring selection of substantial and significant material • ensuring material chosen supports the objectives that have to be made • matching content to topic, objectives and main points of the presentation. Plan and write may include: • allowing sufficient time to prepare the presentation • structuring and sequencing the presentation – including development of the three key elements of: ▪ introduction ▪ body – on a point-by-point basis ▪ summary/conclusion • ensuring smooth flow of information • preparing a written draft for the presentation • revising and editing the written draft presentation. Supporting materials and visual aids may include: • PowerPoint presentation
--	---

	• handouts – including menus, brochures, notes, photographs, quotations and supplementary information • sample materials, giveaways and real products • reports • slides • props • videos and DVDs • charts. Presentation equipment may include: • microphone • overhead projector • slide and PowerPoint projector • video monitor • computer • white boards and chalk boards. Trial and practice may include: • timing the presentation • presenting to an actual audience of selected people who will provide supportive feedback • presenting required information in a clear and concise manner • promoting the host enterprise, where appropriate, during the presentation • involving the audience in the presentation, where appropriate • gaining and maintaining interest • applying suitable public speaking techniques – including voice, body language, eye contact, dress and humor, where appropriate
--	---

	• operating technologies that will be used to support the delivery • recording the rehearsal for later analysis • using all technologies and supporting materials as planned for the actual presentation. Set-up and organize the venue may include: • arranging seating • setting-up presentation equipment and technologies • providing refreshments, where appropriate • adjusting lighting and air conditioning, if necessary • distributing support materials • posting direction signage at venue • checking personal presentation. Modify presentation may include: • altering pace of presentation • departing from prepared presentation plan • using additional and/or alternative examples to illustrate points • adjusting the environment • speaking louder or changing tone • refraining from activities identified as distracting to audience • omitting or modifying planned points. Conclude presentation may include: • summarizing the presentation • identifying points for future action as a result of the presentation and/or Question and Answer session • promising action on identified points
--	--

	• making presenter available for future contact by the audience – including providing contact details • thanking audience. Follow-up may include: • contacting people to respond to questions asked during the presentation • providing information on the basis of questions asked during the presentation • investigating and responding to issues raised during the presentation • distributing materials promised during the presentation. Evaluate personal performance may include: • assessing the time and activities undertaken as part of the planning and preparation process • evaluating the support materials used during the presentation • appraising the content of the presentation – including the sequencing, extent, relevance, currency and applicability of same to the target audience • evaluating personal presentation techniques and style • considering venue set-up and facilities • seeking feedback from colleagues who attended the presentation • seeking feedback from attendees at the presentation • making notes for future reference to assist in improving performance when making presentations. Assessment Guide The following skills and knowledge must be assessed as part of this unit: • principles of planning and presentations including public speaking techniques • ability to use technologies and equipment associated with making presentations • ability to produce a range of materials to support the delivery of presentations • ability to undertake internal and external research.
--	--

	Linkages To Other Units • Access and retrieve computer-based data • Promote products and services to customers • Gather and present product information • Use common business tools and technology • Prepare and deliver training sessions • Access and interpret product information • Plan and implement sales activities • Promote tourism products and services • Source and present information. Critical Aspects of Assessment Evidence of the following is essential: • demonstrated ability to plan and prepare a presentation for a nominated audience on a nominated topic within given guidelines • demonstrated ability to prepare a nominated range of materials to support the delivery of the presentation • demonstrated ability to deliver an effective presentation for a nominated audience on a nominated topic within given guidelines • demonstrated ability to operate a nominated range of technologies to support the delivery of the presentation • demonstrated ability to respond to audience requirements that arise during the presentation • demonstrated ability to obtain feedback on the delivery of the presentation from relevant persons. Context of Assessment Assessment must ensure:
--	---

	• actual delivery of a presentation, using support materials, to a live audience. Resource Implications Training and assessment must include use of real people, audio-visual equipment and materials and a suitable setting for a presentation. Assessment Methods The following methods may be used to assess competency for this unit: • observation of practical candidate performance • simulation • role plays • oral and written questions • third party reports completed by a supervisor • project and assignment work. Key Competencies in this Unit Level 1 = competence to undertake tasks effectively Level 2 = competence to manage tasks Level 3 = competence to use concepts for evaluating <table border="1"> <thead> <tr> <th>Key Competencies</th><th>Level</th><th>Examples</th></tr> </thead> <tbody> <tr> <td>Collecting, organizing and analyzing information</td><td>3</td><td>Researching the audience that is the target of the presentation; researching information for use in the delivery of the presentation</td></tr> <tr> <td>Communicating ideas and information</td><td>1</td><td>Using public speaking techniques to deliver the presentation</td></tr> </tbody> </table>		Key Competencies	Level	Examples	Collecting, organizing and analyzing information	3	Researching the audience that is the target of the presentation; researching information for use in the delivery of the presentation	Communicating ideas and information	1	Using public speaking techniques to deliver the presentation
Key Competencies	Level	Examples
Collecting, organizing and analyzing information	3	Researching the audience that is the target of the presentation; researching information for use in the delivery of the presentation
Communicating ideas and information	1	Using public speaking techniques to deliver the presentation

	Planning and organizing activities	3	Developing a plan for the presentation; setting-up the venue for the presentation
	Working with others and in teams	2	Liaising with host to arrange and organize details of presentation; cooperating with others to generate material and data for use in the presentation
	Using mathematical ideas and techniques	-
	Solving problems	2	Modifying presentation on the basis of feedback or requests during delivery of presentation
	Using technology	1	Using audio-visual equipment and technologies to support delivery of presentation; researching information using the Internet