Competency Based Assessment (CBA) – An Introduction for Assessors

Assessment is the process of identifying a participant's current knowledge, skills and attitudes sets against all elements of competency within a unit of competency.

Suggested Assessment Methods

For each unit of competency a number of assessment tools have been identified including:

- Work Projects
- Oral Questions
- Written Questions
- Third Party Statements
- Observation Checklists.

Instructions and Evidence Recording Sheets have been identified in this Assessment Manual for use by Assessors.

Alternative Assessment Methods

Whilst the above mentioned assessment methods are suggested assessment methods, the assessor may use an alternate method of assessment taking into account:

- a) The nature of the unit
- b) The strengths of participants
- c) The number of participants in the class
- d) Time required to complete assessments
- e) Time dedicated to assessment
- f) Equipment and resources required.

Alternate assessment methods include:

- Practical demonstrations
- Practical demonstrations in simulated work conditions
- Problem solving
- Portfolios of evidence
- Critical incident reports
- Journals
- Oral presentations
- Interviews
- Videos
- Visuals/slides/audiotapes

- Case studies
- Log books
- Projects and Role plays
- Group projects
- Recognition of Prior Learning.

Whilst there is no specific instruction or evidence collection documents for all the alternative assessment methods, assessors can record competency in the 'Other' section within the 'Competency Recording Sheet'.

Selection of Assessment Methods

Each assessor will determine the combination of Assessment Methods to be used to determine Competency for each Competency Unit on a student by student basis.

'Sufficient' evidence to support the 'Pass Competent'/'Not Yet Competent' decision must be captured.

In practice this means a minimum of 2 – 3 Assessment Methods for each candidate for each Competency Element is suggested.

At least one method should provide evidence of practical demonstration of competence.

The following assessment methods deemed to provide evidence of practical demonstration of competence include:

- Practical Work Projects
- Third Party Statement
- Observation Checklist.

Assessing Competency

Competency based assessment does not award grades, but simply identifies if the participant has the knowledge, skills and attitudes to undertake the required task to the specified standard.

Therefore, when assessing competency, an assessor has two possible results that can be awarded:

- 'Pass Competent' (PC)
- 'Not Yet Competent' (NYC).

Pass Competent (PC)

If the participant is able to successfully answer or demonstrate what is required, to the expected standards of the performance criteria, they will be deemed as 'Pass Competent' (PC).

The assessor will award a 'Pass Competent' (PC) if they feel the participant has the necessary knowledge, skills and attitudes in all assessment tasks for a unit.

Not Yet Competent' (NYC)

If the participant is unable to answer or demonstrate competency to the desired standard, they will be deemed to be 'Not Yet Competent' (NYC).

This does not mean the participant will need to complete all the assessment tasks again. The focus will be on the specific assessment tasks that were not performed to the expected standards.

The participant may be required to:

- a) Undertake further training or instruction
- b) Undertake the assessment task again until they are deemed to be 'Pass Competent'.

Regional Qualifications Framework and Skills Recognition System

The 'Regional Qualifications Framework and Skills Recognition System', also known as the 'RQFSRS' is the overriding educational framework for the ASEAN region.

The purpose of this framework is to provide:

- A standardised teaching and assessment framework
- Mutual recognition of participant achievement across the ASEAN region. This includes achievement in individual Units of Competency or qualifications as a whole.

The role of the 'RQFSRS' is to provide, ensure and maintain 'quality assurance' across all countries and educational providers across the ASEAN region.

Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL)

Recognition of Prior Learning is the process that gives current industry professionals who do not have a formal qualification, the opportunity to benchmark their extensive skills and experience against the standards set out in each unit of competency/subject.

This process is a learning and assessment pathway which encompasses:

- Recognition of Current Competencies (RCC)
- Skills auditing
- Gap analysis and training
- Credit transfer.

Code of Practice for Assessors

This Code of Practice provides:

- Assessors with direction on the standard of practice expected of them
- Candidates with assurance of the standards of practice expected of assessors
- Employers with assurance of the standards maintained in the conduct of assessment.

The Code detailed below is based on the International Code of Ethics and Practice (The National Council for Measurement in Education [NCME]):

- The differing needs and requirements of the person being assessed, the local enterprise and/or industry are identified and handled with sensitivity
- Potential forms of conflict of interest in the assessment process and/or outcomes are identified and appropriate referrals are made, if necessary
- All forms of harassment are avoided throughout the planning, conducting, reviewing and reporting of the assessment outcomes

- The rights of the candidate are protected during and after the assessment
- Personal and interpersonal factors that are not relevant to the assessment of competency must not influence the assessment outcomes
- The candidate is made aware of rights and process of appeal
- Evidence that is gathered during the assessment is verified for validity, reliability, authenticity, sufficiency and currency
- Assessment decisions are based on available evidence that can be produced and verified by another assessor
- Assessments are conducted within the boundaries of the assessment system policies and procedures
- Formal agreement is obtained from both the candidate and the assessor that the assessment was carried out in accordance with agreed procedures
- The candidate is informed of all assessment reporting processes prior to the assessment
- The candidate is informed of all known potential consequences of decisions arising from an assessment, prior to the assessment
- Confidentiality is maintained regarding assessment results
- The assessment results are used consistently with the purposes explained to the candidate
- Opportunities are created for technical assistance in planning, conducting and reviewing assessment procedures and outcomes.

Instructions and Checklist for Assessors

Instructions

General instructions for the assessment:

- Assessment should be conducted at a scheduled time that has been notified to the candidate
- Facilitators must ensure participants are made aware of the need to complete assessments and attend assessment sessions
- If a participant is unable to attend a scheduled session, they must make arrangements with the Assessor to undertake the assessment at an alternative time
- At the end of the assessment the Assessor must give feedback and advise the participant on their PC/NYC status
- Complete the relevant documentation and submit to the appropriate department.

Preparation

- Gain familiarity with the Unit of Competency, Elements of Competency and the Performance Criteria expected
- Study details assessment documentation and requirements
- Brief candidate regarding all assessment criteria and requirements.

Briefing Checklist

- Begin the assessment by implementing the following checklist and then invite the candidate to proceed with assessment.

Checklist for Assessors

Prior to the assessment I have:	Tick (✓)	Remarks
Ensured the candidate is informed about the venue and schedule of assessment.
Received current copies of the performance criteria to be assessed, assessment plan, evidence gathering plan, assessment checklist, appeal form and the company's standard operating procedures (SOP).
Reviewed the performance criteria and evidence plan to ensure I clearly understood the instructions and the requirements of the assessment process.
Identified and accommodated any special needs of the candidate.
Checked the set-up and resources for the assessment.
During the assessment I have:
Introduced myself and confirmed identities of candidates.
Put candidates at ease by being friendly and helpful.
Explained to candidates the purpose, context and benefits of the assessment.
Ensured candidates understood the assessment process and all attendant procedures.
Provided candidates with an overview of performance criteria to be assessed.
Explained the results reporting procedure.
Encouraged candidates to seek clarifications if in doubt.
Asked candidates for feedback on the assessment.
Explained legal, safety and ethical issues, if applicable.
After the assessment I have:
Ensured candidate is given constructive feedback.
Completed and signed the assessment record.
Thanked candidate for participating in the assessment.

Instructions for Recording Competency

Specifications for Recording Competency

The following specifications apply to the preparation of Evidence Gathering Plans:

- A Competency Recording Sheet must be prepared for each candidate to ensure and demonstrate all Performance Criteria and Competency Elements are appropriately assessed. This Sheet indicates how the Assessor will gather evidence during their assessment of each candidate
- This Competency Recording Sheet is located at the end of the Assessment Plan
- It is the overriding document to record competency
- The Assessor may vary the Competency Recording Sheet to accommodate practical and individual candidate and/or workplace needs
- Assessor must place a tick (✓) in the 'Assessment Method' columns to identify the methods of assessment to be used for each candidate
- Multiple Competency Elements/Performance Criteria may be assessed at the one time, where appropriate
- The assessor and participant should sign and date the Competency Recording Sheet, when all forms of evidence and assessment have been completed
- The assessor may provide and feedback or clarify questions which the participant may have in regards to the assessment grade or findings
- All documents used to capture evidence must be retained, and attached to the Competency Recording Sheet for each candidate for each Competency Unit.

Instructions for Different Assessment Methods

Specifications for Work Project Assessment

These guidelines concern the use of work projects.

The work projects identified in the Training Manuals involve a range of tasks, to be performed at the discretion of the Assessor.

Work project tasks can be completed through any form of assessment as identified in the Trainer and Trainee Manuals and stated at the start of this section.

Assessors should follow these guidelines:

- Review the Work Projects at the end of each 'Element of Competency' in the Trainee Manual to ensure you understand the content and what is expected
- Prepare sufficient resources for the completion of work activities including:
 - Time – whether in scheduled delivery hours or suggested time participants to spend outside of class hours
 - Resources – this may involve technical equipment, computer, internet access, stationery and other supplementary materials and documents
- Prepare assessment location (if done in class) making it conducive to assessment
- Explain Work Projects assessment to candidate, at the start of each Element of Competency. This ensures that participants are aware of what is expected and can collate information as delivery takes place

- Assessors can use the following phrase as a guide (where an 'X' is identified, please input appropriate information):
 "At the end of each Element of Competency there are Work Projects which must be completed. These projects require different tasks that must be completed.
 These work projects are part of the formal assessment for the unit of competency titled X:
- You are required to complete these activities:
 - Using the 'X' method of assessment*
 - At 'X' location*
 - You will have 'X time period' for this assessment*
 - You are required to compile information in a format that you feel is appropriate to the assessment
 - Do you have any questions about this assessment?"
- Commence Work Project assessment:
 - The assessor may give time for participants to review the questions at this time to ensure they understand the nature of the questions. The assessor may need to clarify questions
 - Participants complete work projects in the most appropriate format
 - Participants must submit Work Project evidence to the assessor before the scheduled due date
- Assessor must assess the participant's evidence against the competency standards specified in each Element of Competency and their own understanding. The assessor can determine if the participant has provided evidence to a 'competent' standard
- Transcribe results/details to Competency Recording Sheet
- Forward/file assessment record.

Specifications for Oral Question Assessment

These guidelines concern the use of oral questioning.

Assessors should follow these guidelines.

- Prepare Assessment Record for Oral Questioning. One record for each candidate:
 - Enter Student name
 - Enter Assessor name
 - Enter Location
- Familiarise self with Questions to be asked
- Prepare assessment location (table and chairs) making it conducive to assessment
- Explain Oral Questioning assessment to candidate, using the following phrase as a guide (where a 'X' is identified, please input appropriate information):
"These oral questions are part of the formal assessment for the unit of competency titled X.

There are X questions and you are required to answer all of them to the best of your ability and I will record whether or not you have answered correctly.

We have 60 minutes for this assessment.

- I will give you feedback at the end of the assessment
- Do you have any questions about this assessment?”
- Commence Oral Questioning assessment:
 - Complete Assessment Record for the Oral Questioning by:
 - a) Ticking PC or NYC, as appropriate
 - b) Entering ‘Remarks’ as required
 - c) Completing Oral Questioning within 60 minutes
- Complete Oral Questioning and provide feedback to candidate
- Transcribe results/details to Competency Recording Sheet
- Forward/file assessment record.

Specifications for Written Question Assessment

These guidelines concern the use of written questioning.

Assessors should follow these guidelines:

- Familiarise self with Questions and Answers provided
- Print and distribute copies of ‘Written Questions’ for participants. Ideally this should take place with adequate time for participants to answer all questions before the expected due date
- Explain Written Questioning assessment to candidate, using the following phrase as a guide (where a ‘X’ is identified, please input appropriate information):

“These written questions are part of the formal assessment for the unit of competency titled X.

There are X questions and you are required to answer all of them to the best of your ability.

You may refer to your subject materials, however where possible try to utilise your existing knowledge when answering questions.

Where you are unsure of questions, please ask the Assessor for further instruction. This may be answering the question orally or asking the assessor to redefine the question.

We have X time for this assessment:

- The due date for completion of this assessment is X
- On this date you must forward the completed questions to the assessor by X time on the date of X
- Do you have any questions about this assessment?”
- The assessor may give time for participants to review the questions at this time to ensure they understand the nature of the questions. The assessor may need to clarify questions
- Participants may record written answers (where possible)
- Participants must submit the written answers to the assessor before the scheduled due date

- Assessor must assess the participant's written answers against the model answers provided as a guide, or their own understanding. The assessor can determine if the participant has answered the questions to a 'competent' standard
- Transcribe results/details to Competency Recording Sheet
- Forward/file assessment record.

Specifications for Observation Checklist

These specifications apply to the use of the Observation Checklist in determining competency for candidates.

Only an approved assessor is authorised to complete the Observation Checklist.

The assessor is required to observe the participant, ideally in a simulated environment or their practical workplace setting and record their performance (or otherwise) of the competencies listed on the Observation Checklist for the Competency Unit.

To complete the Observation Checklist the Assessor must:

- Insert name of candidate
- Insert assessor name
- Insert identify of location where observations are being undertaken
- Insert date/s of observations – may be single date or multiple dates
- Place a tick in either the 'Yes' or 'No' box for each listed Performance Criteria to indicate the candidate has demonstrated/not demonstrated that skill
- Provide written (and verbal) feedback to candidate – as/if appropriate
- Sign and date the form
- Present form to candidate for them to sign and date
- Transcribe results/details to Competency Recording Sheet for candidate
- Forward/file Observation Checklist.

This source of evidence combines with other forms of assessment to assist in determining the 'Pass Competent' or 'Not Yet Competent' decision for the participant.

Specifications for Third Party Statement

These specifications relate to the use of a relevant workplace person to assist in determining competency for candidates.

The Third Party Statement is to be supplied by the assessor to a person in the workplace who supervises and/or works closely with the participant.

This may be their Supervisor, the venue manager, the Department Manager or similar.

The Third Party Statement asks the Supervisor to record what they believe to be the competencies of the participant based on their workplace experience of the participant. This experience may be gained through observation of their workplace performance, feedback from others, inspection of candidate's work etc.

A meeting must take place between the Assessor and the Third Party to explain and demonstrate the use of the Third Party Statement.

To complete the Third Party Verification Statement the Assessor must:

- Insert candidate name
- Insert name and contact details of the Third Party
- Tick the box to indicate the relationship of the Third Party to the candidate
- Present the partially completed form to the Third Party for them to finalise
- Collect the completed form from the Third Party
- Transcribe results/details to Competency Recording Sheet for candidate
- Forward/file Third Party Statement.

The Third Party must:

- Record their belief regarding candidate ability/competency as either:
 - Pass Competent = Yes
 - Not Yet Competent = No
 - Unsure about whether candidate is competent or not = Not Sure
- Meet briefly with the assessor to discuss and/or clarify the form.

This source of evidence combines with other forms of assessment to assist in determining the 'Pass Competent' or 'Not Yet Competent' decision for the candidate.

A separate Third Party Statement is required for each Competency Unit undertaken by the candidate.

UNIT TITLE: RESEARCH AND SHARE INFORMATION ON INDIGENOUS CULTURES		NOMINAL HOURS: 90
UNIT NUMBER: D2.TTG.CL3.18
UNIT DESCRIPTOR: This unit deals with skills and knowledge required to investigate and communicate information generally available on indigenous cultures, in a culturally appropriate way.
ELEMENTS AND PERFORMANCE CRITERIA		UNIT VARIABLE AND ASSESSMENT GUIDE
Element 1: Research information on indigenous cultures 1.1 Identify sources of information on indigenous cultures 1.2 Research and interpret sources of information 1.3 Demonstrate respect for indigenous people and their culture(s) 1.4 Determine how information on indigenous cultures should be used Element 2: Share information on indigenous cultures 2.1 Communicate general knowledge to colleagues 2.2 Use indigenous guides and/or interpreters where possible 2.3 Brief tour groups regarding appropriate behaviour when interacting with indigenous people		Unit Variables The Unit Variables provide advice to interpret the scope and context of this unit of competence, allowing for differences between enterprises and workplaces. It relates to the unit as a whole and facilitates holistic assessment. This unit applies to investigating and communicating information in a culturally appropriate way, within the labour divisions of the hotel and travel industries and may include: 1. Tour Operation Sources of information may be related to: - Printed material, including books, magazines, brochures, as well as historic, scientific and anthropologic literature - The people of different cultures, including elders and key individuals and leaders within various cultures - Colleagues, including other guides and those with specialised knowledge of different peoples and cultures - The internet

2.4 Communicate general knowledge to tour groups 2.5 Reply to tour group questions on indigenous cultures 2.6 Monitor and respond to culturally inappropriate behaviour Element 3: Maintain contact with local communities 3.1 Liaise with local communities to identify and respond to changed circumstances 3.2 Modify information provided in accordance with issues raised by the local community	• The general media • Formal training courses • Museum, galleries and cultural centres. Indigenous cultures relate to local indigenous communities which may include any community that is in the vicinity of a tour group while the tour is being conducted. The community may be domestic or foreign, small or large, nearby or remote. Cultural sites may include, but are not limited to, towns/villages, including individual homes and/or buildings, significant sites, galleries, cultural centres, ceremonies, activities and natural sites. Research will include: • Talking and listening to indigenous people, including visiting their communities and interacting with them • Organising information from personal memory and personal experiences • Watching, reading and listening to the media, including specific articles and programs on travel and indigenous peoples • Reading books and other targeted reference sources • Undertaking internet desktop research • Visiting museums and cultural centres, including discussions with curators and interactive displays. Information on indigenous cultures may be related to: • History of the people, including the time before contact with western or other cultures and societies and after this contact • Traditional life of the people, including a contrast with their contemporary life which should address the following topics: ▪ Art, dance and music ▪ Storytelling, including legends and histories

	▪ Tools and implements ▪ Foods ▪ Artefacts ▪ Symbols and symbolic actions ▪ Rituals, rites, ceremonies and celebrations ▪ Heroes and significant figures and individuals ▪ Beliefs, assumptions, values and attitudes ▪ Language ▪ Religion ▪ Education ▪ Social institutions and cultural sites ▪ The environment. Demonstrate respect may include: • Displaying behaviours consistent with cultural sensitivity and awareness, such as observing and respecting nominated protocols when: ▪ Conducting research ▪ Talking to communities ▪ Seeking permission to hold certain cultural information ▪ Seeking their permission to share their cultural information. Culture/s can be described as the socially constructed and learned ways of behaving and believing that identify individual and distinct social groups Determine how information on indigenous cultures should be used may include: • Verifying with the indigenous community that researched information has been correctly interpreted

	• Checking with the indigenous community that researched information is able to be used and shared with tour groups, including identifying information that is culturally sensitive and is not allowed to be shared with outsiders • Identifying how and in what context identified information can be shared with tour groups, including meeting with indigenous communities to encourage their participation in the development of appropriate activities and commentaries to share their culture. Communicate general knowledge to colleagues may include: • Passing on information gathered • Explaining aspects of the culture • Accompanying colleagues to communities, including organising and leading such visitations in conjunction with elders and key people from communities • Providing demonstrations and activities to assist understanding • Advising colleagues about what can and what cannot be shared with others • Introducing colleagues to local communities. Brief tour groups regarding appropriate behaviour may include: • Demonstrations of acceptable and unacceptable actions and behaviour • Providing written or verbal presentations regarding culturally sensitive behaviour • Explaining potential consequences of failing to observe appropriate behaviour. Communicate general knowledge may include: • visiting communities to experience the culture, including interaction with people and items, where appropriate • Providing written or other graphic representations of the culture, including sample items, appropriate/approved film/video and drawings

	• Provide commentaries, including historical and contextual matters • Applying the interpretive approach to the provision of explanations. Reply to tour group questions may include: • Maintaining truthfulness, including a total ban on fabrication of answers • Respecting requests from communities regarding information that cannot be shared • Referring customers to information sources for their later research • Deferring questions where the correct response is not known. Respond to culturally inappropriate behaviour may include: • Reinforcing previously presented information on culturally sensitive and acceptable behaviour • Demonstrating culturally sensitive and acceptable behaviour as part of the tour guiding process • Asking tour group members to modify unacceptable behaviour while on tour and/or when interacting with a community • Terminating an activity or visitation where there is unacceptable tour group behaviour • Liaise with local communities may include: • Keeping in regular contact with the local community to encourage communication • Being available to meet with the local communities when requested • Following-up on issues that may have arisen during previous tours, such as unacceptable and/or disrespectful behaviour in order to demonstrate respect for indigenous people and their culture.

	Modify information provided may involve: • Demonstrating a willingness to vary information provided and commentaries to suit local community needs • Altering scheduled itineraries and activities on the basis of feedback received from the local community • Being receptive to suggestions for change, including suggestions to reduce or extend existing arrangements. Assessment Guide The following skills and knowledge must be assessed as part of this unit: • Enterprise policies and procedures in regard to dealing with indigenous communities • Ability to undertake culturally-based research • Principles of interpretive guiding • General knowledge about indigenous communities and their culture • Ability to communicate on indigenous communities including cultural general knowledge, respectfully • Ability to communicate and negotiate with indigenous communities • Sensitivity to cultural issues of unique cultures • Ability to communicate with colleagues and customers. Linkages To Other Units • Develop and update tourism industry knowledge • Work as a tour guide • Coordinate and operate a day-tour (or short excursions) • Manage and facilitate an extended tour experience
--	--

- Plan, develop and evaluate interpretive activities
- Prepare and present tour commentaries
- Develop interpretive content for eco-tourism activities
- Conduct interpretive activities in the field
- Develop and coordinate appropriate cultural tourism activity.

Critical Aspects of Assessment

Evidence of the following is essential:

- Understanding of host enterprise policies and procedures for dealing with indigenous communities
- Demonstrated ability to research general information on nominated aspects of culture for a nominated indigenous community and produce hard copy information and a scripted commentary suitable for presentation to a tour group
- Demonstrated ability to share identified general information with colleagues and customers on a tour
- Demonstrated ability to maintain contact with a nominated community in order to identify and to respond effectively to cultural tour-related issues raised by that community.

Context of Assessment

Assessment must ensure:

- Actual workplace application of research and general information sharing activities in conjunction with an actual indigenous community.

Resource Implications

Training and assessment must include research of an actual indigenous community and sharing of general information with customers on an actual tour.

	Assessment Methods The following methods may be used to assess competency for this unit: • Observation of practical candidate performance • Portfolio of research material, material developed for distribution to customers and colleagues and script(s) for commentaries • Role plays • Oral and written questions • Third party reports completed by a supervisor • Project and assignment work. Key Competencies in this Unit Level 1 = competence to undertake tasks effectively Level 2 = competence to manage tasks Level 3 = competence to use concepts for evaluating
	Key Competencies	Level	Examples
	Collecting, organising and analysing information	3	Researching and developing general knowledge about the culture of a community
	Communicating ideas and information	3	Communicating and negotiating with a community to determine general that can be shared with tour groups
	Planning and organising activities	2	Organising arrangements with communities to use a local interpreter and guide to share general cultural information with tour groups

	Working with others and in teams	3	Developing and maintaining rapport with communities
	Using mathematical ideas and techniques	-
	Solving problems	3	Dealing with inappropriate and unacceptable tour group behaviour
	Using technology	1	Using the internet for research

Written questions

Research and share information on indigenous cultures – D2.TTG.CL3.18

Student Name: _____

Answer all the following questions and submit to your Trainer.

1. In your own words describe/define the following words/terms:

Indigenous:

Indigenous culture:

2. List six possible sources of information for research on indigenous cultures.

3. Identify four activities included in the process of researching information.

[illegible][illegible]

6. Identify five activities included in the process of interpreting research information.

7. Describe four tips/pieces of advice to observe when researching information on indigenous communities.

8. Name one source which can be used when researching information on indigenous communities/cultures and identify activities inherent in the process.

9. Name another source (different to the one used in the answer to Question 8) which can be used when researching information on indigenous communities/cultures and identify activities inherent in the process.

10. List ten topics which may be the focus of research into indigenous communities/cultures.

11. List six factors underpinning the need for respect for indigenous cultures.

12. Describe three requirements underlying demonstration of respect for indigenous people and their culture/s.

13. List six practical actions to demonstrate respect for indigenous people and their culture/s when researching information.

14. Give four reasons it should be standard practice to document meetings and talks with local communities and indigenous people when researching information.

15. Describe four standard practices which have evolved as effective and respectful methods for determining the acceptable use of information sourced from indigenous cultures and communities.

16. Name four reasons there is a need to conduct a session to share with colleagues the information learned/gained from research on indigenous communities/cultures.

17. Identify the four generic activities/procedures for internal sharing information on indigenous communities and cultures with colleagues.

18. Identify the four generic activities/procedures for external sharing information on indigenous communities and cultures with colleagues.

19. Give six examples of positive issues which have been associated with introducing tourism to indigenous cultures.

20. Give six examples of negative issues which have been associated with introducing tourism to indigenous cultures.

21. Describe six roles indigenous people may take in relation to tourism activities within their communities.

22. Identify four reasons Tour Operators should involve indigenous people in tour activities in their communities.

23. Give six reasons why it is important to notify tour group members of appropriate/inappropriate and acceptable/unacceptable behaviour when on-tour in an indigenous community.

24. Name the three commonly used locations for providing a briefing to tour groups regarding appropriate/inappropriate and acceptable/unacceptable behaviour when on-tour in an indigenous community.

25. List six topics commonly covered by briefings on appropriate/inappropriate and acceptable/unacceptable behaviour when on-tour in an indigenous community.

26. Provide six examples of specific topics which might be covered as part of a briefing to tour group members regarding acceptable/unacceptable behaviour when on-tour in an indigenous community.

27. List the five generic ways to share general knowledge with tour groups.

28. Select and detail the implementation of one technique/option for sharing general knowledge with tour groups.

- [illegible]

30. Identify the three times when general knowledge about an indigenous culture might be shared with tour groups.

- [illegible]

32. Detail four requirements/considerations for Tour Guides when responding to tour group questions on indigenous cultures.

33. Describe four techniques a Tour Guide might use when they do not know the answer to a question asked by a tour group member.

34. What are the three basic ways of monitoring tour group behaviour/language when on-tour in an indigenous community?

35. Describe six keys for Tour Guides when responding to culturally inappropriate behaviour.

36. List six tips a Tour Guide can use when handling problems with tour group members.

37. Detail the three generic actions which are necessary in maintaining contact with local communities.

38. Name four activities involved in liaising with local communities.

39. Describe four orientations Tour Operator must adopt to the potential need to modify information provided to the public/tour group members regarding indigenous communities.

40. List four items/materials which may need to be modified in relation to feedback/comment from local communities.

41. Describe six practical actions which may need to be made and/or changes which may need to be taken to information to be provided to tour group members as a result of modifications made to information provided by indigenous communities.

Answers to written questions

Research and share information on indigenous cultures – D2.TTG.CL3.18

The following are model answers only – Trainers/Assessors must use discretion when determining whether or not an answer provided by a Student is acceptable or not.

1. In your own words describe/define the following words/terms:

Indigenous:

Answer should address:

- There is sometimes confusion about exactly what the term 'indigenous' means
- In reality it has a very straight-forward definition
- It simply means people who are native to a particular country
- The term is synonymous with the 'aboriginal' people of a country.

Indigenous culture:

Answer should address:

- There is commonly variations between the cultures of different countries – despite there often being several points of similarity
- Different cultures can exist within different communities/groups within the same nation/country
- Cultures of countries and communities evolve over time as they change to accommodate internal events and external pressures
- Countries and communities are proud and protective of their culture – regardless of how different they may be to the cultures of other countries and communities
- Enterprises (such as Tour Operators) are increasingly aware of:
 - The commercial value of different indigenous cultures
 - The need to research and share information on indigenous cultures in a respectful and sensitive manner.

2. List six possible sources of information for research on indigenous cultures.

- Printed material – books, magazines, advertising material
- General media – TV, radio, newspapers
- Relevant people from identified communities
- Identified personal from peak bodies, government agencies, staff/colleagues, joint venture partners, Visitor Information centres
- Internet
- Formal training courses
- Institutions – museums, galleries, cultural centres.

3. Identify four activities included in the process of researching information.

- Systematic and structured investigation
- Watching, reading, listening and experiencing
- Finding and capturing information
- Fact-finding
- Exploration and visitations.

4. Differentiate between ‘qualitative’ and ‘quantitative’ research.

Qualitative research is about capturing information relating to:

- Thoughts, feelings and impressions
- Reasons and causes
- Opinion, motivation and preferences
- Why people behave/take action the way they do
- Things which are not statistical in nature.

Quantitative research is about capturing and manipulating:

- Numbers and statistics
- Percentages and ratios
- Measurable facts and data.

5. Differentiate between ‘secondary’ and ‘primary’ research.

Secondary research is research conducted using materials which already exist.

It is essentially desk-top research involving:

- Reading existing material and reprints
- Looking at research undertaken by other people
- Becoming aware of what is available without the need for further effort.

Primary research involves taking action to generate fresh/new research findings and information that has never been collected previously.

It can involve:

- Talking to people to obtain their input
- Asking questions
- Conducting tests and trials
- Implementing various market research techniques.

6. Identify five activities included in the process of interpreting research information.
- Making sense of what has been obtained/discovered
 - Identifying meaning from the information
 - Working out how information can/might/will be used
 - Analysing data
 - Evaluating information
 - Performing calculations
 - Assessing the usefulness of material gathered
 - Sequencing facts and putting them in the correct order.
7. Describe four tips/pieces of advice to observe when researching information on indigenous communities.
- It is always best to use a combination of sources to generate research data when researching any aspect of indigenous culture
 - Always note/record the sources used to capture information
 - Use a mix of research approaches
 - Make notes, obtain copies or capture images when researching
 - Check the currency of the materials used as the basis for research
 - The research process can be a complex activity and it needs to be properly resourced.
8. Name one source which can be used when researching information on indigenous communities/cultures and identify activities inherent in the process.
- No model answer – response will depend on the source chosen by the student.
9. Name another source (different to the one used in the answer to Question 8) which can be used when researching information on indigenous communities/cultures and identify activities inherent in the process.

No model answer – response will depend on the source chosen by the student.

10. List ten topics which may be the focus of research into indigenous communities/cultures.

- History of the people
- The traditional life of the people
- Art, dance and music
- Oral history of the people
- Tools and implements
- Foods of the people
- Artefacts of the local community
- Symbols and symbolic actions of the people
- Rituals, rites, ceremonies and celebrations
- Heroes and significant figures and individuals
- Beliefs, assumptions, values and attitudes
- Language
- Religion
- Education
- Social institutions which exist within communities (such as governments, health and welfare systems, educational systems, business structures, judicial systems)
- Cultural sites
- Geography
- Entertainment.

11. List six factors underpinning the need for respect for indigenous cultures.

- The need to preserve unique cultures so that what they have and what they represent is not lost to mankind through being absorbed into other cultures and/or over-taken by other priorities
- A desire to share knowledge so more/other people learn about a rare/unique culture/community, what they are, how they function and how they live
- A need change the attitudes of visitors
- Realisation by society in general, a country/Government of a range of issues including:
 - Valuing individuals and different cultures and communities for who they are and the individual way they live their lives
 - Recognising the contribution people/communities have made to other cultures and/or the wider world
 - Acknowledging the right of different people to live in different ways
- Acceptance on the part of society in relation changing attitudes – such that what was ignored or treated with suspicion or indifference years ago is now a valid and legitimate way of life or orientation.

- A need on the part of the Tour Operator (and associated Government agencies/tourism bodies) to ensure no offence is given by tour group when they visit indigenous communities/cultures – in relation to things such as:
 - How visitors speak and dress in their presence
 - The way in which tour group interact with them
 - Actions taken by individuals when in indigenous communities
- A desire of the part of tours/Tour Operators to protect the 'normal' way of life of indigenous cultures – from:
 - Unintended consequences of interacting with other peoples/cultures
 - The encroachment of other civilisations
 - Unwanted intrusions across a range of fronts such as political, economic, moral, religious
- A vested interest on the part of a Tour Operator in creating a more positive relationship/rapport with the communities which will be more conducive to:
 - Future deals/negotiations involving tours and visitations to their communities
 - More lucrative financial arrangements between the parties
 - Better working relationships between everyone
- An obligation to comply with legislation – which is imposed by law to protect the various rights of certain cultures, communities and people such as their:
 - Human rights
 - Civil rights
 - Constitutional rights
 - Civil liberties.

12. Describe three requirements underlying demonstration of respect for indigenous people and their culture/s.

- A genuine desire to engage with the communities
- A willingness to learn from the people
- Preparedness to:
 - Walk away from a community if they are not interested/do not want to be involved with the Tour Operator
 - Accept decisions made by the people in the community
- A working framework (Tour Operator policies and procedures) which underpin respectful treatment of/engagement with indigenous people and their culture/s.

13. List six practical actions to demonstrate respect for indigenous people and their culture/s when researching information.

- Doing desk-top or other research (speaking to recognised experts; undertaking web-based research; reading relevant texts) about the community before making initial direct contact with the community
- Asking' permission to meet
- Only communicating with designated persons
- Seeking approval/permission to undertake certain activities which historically have raised issues with indigenous communities
- Displaying visible behaviours and practices consistent with cultural sensitivity and awareness
- Giving prior notification of intentions and requests
- Accommodating local preferences for critical communication factors
- Speaking with the community to establish meeting and/or communication protocols
- Being prepared to pay for the time and contribution of individuals and/or the local community
- Stating clearly and being prepared to commit to writing the intention of the Tour Operator to abide by identified protocols
- Seeking local community permission to share their cultural information.

14. Give four reasons it should be standard practice to document meetings and talks with local communities and indigenous people when researching information.

- Provide a basis for future reference – so materials produced reflect the wishes expressed by the people during the talks, visits and meetings
- Show evidence of the consultation process – in order to help maintain the reputation of the Tour Operator as being sensitive to local communities and indigenous people
- Create a growing body of knowledge – about the communities and cultures
- Generate a document which can be shared with stakeholders – to:
 - Provide a record of what was discussed
 - List stated agreements and arrangements made at meetings
 - Provide a basis for future discussion/follow-up
- Show respect for the consultation process – in that recording the meetings demonstrates proof of the value of the talks and shows a serious orientation to matters discussed.

15. Describe four standard practices which have evolved as effective and respectful methods for determining the acceptable use of information sourced from indigenous cultures and communities.

- Differentiating between, and agreeing about, material which is already in the public domain – and already/readily available to others
- Establishing a schedule for communication in this regard
- Informing the community of the specifics of Tour Operator intention to use material and information provided before research and meetings commence
- Verifying with the indigenous community that researched information has been correctly interpreted – and:
 - Allowing the community the right to review materials produced to:
 - Approve and/or amend the proposed items
 - Reject the way certain information is presented
 - Giving the community the right to veto material – so they know they:
 - Are respected as an integral part of the process
 - Retain final control over the information released/provided
- Understanding with all communities there will nearly always be a range of sensitive and/or contentious issues
- Never making assumptions relating to the community and the information it provides
- Checking with the indigenous community about material which has been researched through desk-top procedures and via primary research techniques – to determine:
 - Truth and accuracy of the content
 - Whether or not the information is able to be used and shared with tour groups
 - Preferences/limitations which might apply to the dissemination or sharing of certain pieces of information
- Deciding on follow-up protocols – as these might apply to:
 - Monitoring activities
 - Reporting procedures
 - Review and revision practices
- Developing an ongoing rapport/connection with the local people.

16. Name four reasons there is a need to conduct a session to share with colleagues the information learned/gained from research on indigenous communities/cultures.
 - To demonstrate evidence regarding the time and effort spent undertaking the research
 - To provide general background knowledge about the intentions of the Tour Operator
 - To explain relevant other matters
 - To make sure relevant others have full knowledge of all material gained
 - To foster a culture of sharing and consultation.
17. Identify the four generic activities/procedures for internal sharing information on indigenous communities and cultures with colleagues.
 - Scheduling communication sessions
 - Planning the session – in terms of
 - What to say/present – this is the content of the presentation/details of the information which will be provided
 - Sequence of presentation – this is the order in which material will be delivered and is often prepared the form of a written ‘session plan’ to guide the presentation
 - Duration and timing issues
 - Form of presentation
 - Developing the range of materials to be used during the session
 - Conducting the session – which will traditionally include:
 - Welcoming the colleagues and thanking them for attending
 - Explaining reason for the session
 - Following the plan for the session.
18. Identify the four generic activities/procedures for external sharing information on indigenous communities and cultures with colleagues.
 - Determining persons who are to attend
 - Requesting permission from the community to visit them and introduce nominated staff
 - Arranging necessary travel arrangements
 - Visiting the community.

19. Give six examples of positive issues which have been associated with introducing tourism to indigenous cultures.

- Growth of existing businesses
- Development of new businesses
- More jobs and employment opportunities
- A more sustainable economy
- Improved quality of life for people/families flowing from employment, economic growth and stability
- Greater investment in local infrastructure and public transport systems from governments
- Maintenance, growth and improvement in local facilities
- Cultural empowerment and increased sense of pride as locals become ambassadors for tourism in their region
- Tax revenue for governments
- Enhanced public/international awareness of the country/location
- Economic diversification and general economic benefits to the local community
- Opportunity to share the culture and educate visitors
- Investment opportunities from the private sector in relation to businesses, real estate, and infrastructure
- Improved health and training facilities
- Opportunity to enhance the preservation of endangered or threatened aspects of the local culture, customs and community
- Opportunity to make the wider community aware of the problems facing the community.

20. Give six examples of negative issues which have been associated with introducing tourism to indigenous cultures.

- Impact of tourism on the social fabric of society
- Child protection and child sex trade concerns
- A fear regarding prostitution and other crimes
- Trivialisation and/or dilution of the culture
- Lack of local workers to fill the jobs which are generated
- Provision only of menial and low-paid jobs
- Seasonal employment only (in some areas)
- Loss of a sense of community within the area
- Ultimate dependency on tourism and consequent need to accommodate whatever is required regardless of the consequences
- Damage to the land and environment including additional pollution
- Money leaving the area because businesses are owned by external operators

- Unacceptable level of use of/stress on community resources by tourists to the detriment of the local community – over-crowding and (traffic) congestion
- Over-development resulting in decreased amenity of the area
- Increased living costs
- Unwanted intervention by tourists in normal everyday activities
- Control of the local area may move (more) to external people, businesses or authorities
- Cultural change – as tourism negatively impacts/influences the lives of the locals.

21. Describe six roles indigenous people may take in relation to tourism activities within their communities.

- Assisting in the development of suitable, interesting and acceptable tours and interpretive activities
- Welcoming tourists and tour groups
- Providing generic Tour Guide services
- Presenting interpretive activities
- Providing entertainment
- Providing specialist Tour Guiding services
- Providing local travel/transport services
- Delivering ancillary services.

22. Identify four reasons Tour Operators should involve indigenous people in tour activities in their communities.

- Many tour groups expect this to occur
- The involvement of local people allows their participation to be advertised in promotions for the tour
- Their presence on-tour and in activities provides a unique experience for tour group members
- The use of local guides and interpreters has traditionally been shown to be more effective – in terms of:
 - Reducing adverse impact of tours on the local community
 - Lessening the potential for damage to the local environment
 - Lowering threat levels which may be posed by local communities and/or conditions
- Their participation in tours may create a point of difference for the purposes of sales and marketing – where competition does not feature engagement with locals
- Local people are obviously best able to perform a number of common and necessary tour-related tasks – such as:
 - Explain local conditions and customs
 - Lead the way to areas where required sighting can be made and nominated experiences can be had

- Describe the local landscape, flora, fauna, weather, environmental conditions and similar aspects relevant to the tour and in response to questions asked by the tour group
- Monitor the actions of tour groups in relation to behaviour likely to give local offence or cause other problems
- Discuss the indigenous family and social structures
- Speak the language
- Demonstrate local skills
- Mediate disputes/problems between locals and tour groups
- Genuine engagement with the local community by the Tour Operator demonstrates a positive Tour Operator orientation to the people
- It may be a mandated requirement.

23. Give six reasons why it is important to notify tour group members of appropriate/inappropriate and acceptable/unacceptable behaviour when on-tour in an indigenous community.

- Maintain the dignity of the local community – through:
 - Taking actions which respect their values and beliefs
 - Refraining from actions which cause offence
- Protect indigenous people from unwanted intrusion – in terms of:
 - Being observed by others
 - Being engaged in discussions and interactions with tourists
- Prevent interference with normal indigenous activities – such as:
 - Family activities
 - Traditional day-to-day life
 - Religious celebrations and rites
- Present the boundaries of acceptable behaviour and language – and unacceptable behaviour and language (see ‘Content of the briefing’ below)
- Set tour group members ‘at ease’ – by advising them in advance of what they can and cannot do and say.
- Describe consequences for the tour group if the requirements are not complied with – see below
- Honour tour-related agreements made with local people – in terms of:
 - Actually presenting the briefing to every group for every tour, excursion or activity
 - Content of the briefing identified by the local community as being essential to their individual need
- Abide by Codes of Practice by which the Tour Operator is bound – or to which they subscribe which requires such a briefing to precede all such tours and activities.

24. Name the three commonly used locations for providing a briefing to tour groups regarding appropriate/inappropriate and acceptable/unacceptable behaviour when on-tour in an indigenous community.
- In a room or other designated location at the offices of the Tour Operator before the tour/activity commences as part of the wider 'Tour Briefing' which commonly precedes all tours, activities and excursions
 - On the tour vehicle as it approaches the destination or as it is parked in the agreed parting area for the tour, excursion or activity
 - At an agreed muster point for the tour/activity which is inside or near the entry to the indigenous community.
25. List six topics commonly covered by briefings on appropriate/inappropriate and acceptable/unacceptable behaviour when on-tour in an indigenous community.
- Detailing where people can and cannot go/enter
 - Specifying what they can do and say and what they cannot do and say
 - Illustrating and ensuring adherence to required dress codes when in the area/community
 - Describing and demonstrating protocols to observe when in a tour vehicle/riding an animal
 - Naming action to optimise group safety, comfort, engagement and enjoyment
 - Identifying cultural issues which must be respected
 - Nominating environmental issues which must be taken into account
 - Stating social protocols which must be observed.
26. Provide six examples of specific topics which might be covered as part of a briefing to tour group members regarding acceptable/unacceptable behaviour when on-tour in an indigenous community.
- Prohibiting access to certain areas
 - Limiting the taking of photographs or video or other recordings
 - Controlling engagement with local people
 - Explaining and demonstrating appropriate interactions with local
 - Focussing on resources/items taken into a community
 - Designating items which can and cannot be removed from the community
 - Stressing the need to conserve (and/or not use at all) local and limited resources
 - Describing action to take in relation to local flora and fauna.

27. List the five generic ways to share general knowledge with tour groups.

- Delivering verbal presentations – in terms of:
 - Formal, structured presentations
 - Casual, supplementary contributions
- Providing handout materials
- Using recorded presentations
- Making community visits
- Implementing interpretive activities.

28. Select and detail the implementation of one technique/option for sharing general knowledge with tour groups.

No model answer – response will depend on the option chosen by the student.

29. Select and detail the implementation of a different technique/option (to the one detailed in the answer to the previous question) for sharing general knowledge with tour groups.

No model answer – response will depend on the option chosen by the student.

30. Identify the three times when general knowledge about an indigenous culture might be shared with tour groups.

- Pre-tour advice
- During-tour notification
- Post-tour communication.

31. Describe six tips which can be used by Tour Guides for answering questions asked by tour group members as part of a tour.

- Thank the person for the question
- Mention the person's name when thanking them
- Smile when responding – if appropriate
- Use polite and respectful language when replying
- Provide a direct answer to the question which was asked
- Ensure personal opinion in an answer is specifically identified as such and not offered as fact
- Present the answers to the most appropriate 'target'
- Respond promptly
- Check the response has answered the question to satisfaction of the person who asked it.

32. Detail four requirements/considerations for Tour Guides when responding to tour group questions on indigenous cultures.

- Maintaining truthfulness at all times – in the content provided for all responses
- Imposing a total ban on fabrication of answers if answer is not known
- Respecting requests from communities – regarding:
 - Information that cannot be shared with the public
 - Details which are sensitive or confidential
- Putting answers into context – by (as appropriate):
 - Providing background and history relevant to the issue
 - Supplying detail to provide a framework for reference/comparison purposes
 - Raising additional issues which are related and relevant to the question
- Including local indigenous people in the reply.

33. Describe four techniques a Tour Guide might use when they do not know the answer to a question asked by a tour group member.

Apologise for not knowing:

- Maintain positive relations with the person/group
- Give information on an associated topic
- Refer the question to the rest to someone else
- Refer customers to sources that may provide the relevant information at the conclusion of the tour
- Make arrangements to research the question at the conclusion of the tour and:
 - Pass on the answer face-to-face at the point of disembarkation, if the person is willing to wait a few minutes
 - Send a reply via email to the person if they are able to provide an address
 - Give an SMS reply if they provide a number.

34. What are the three basic ways of monitoring tour group behaviour/language when on-tour in an indigenous community?

- Watching the group
- Listening to the group
- Receiving advice from others.

35. Describe six keys for Tour Guides when responding to culturally inappropriate behaviour.

- Reinforcing previously presented information on culturally sensitive and acceptable behaviour
- Demonstrating culturally sensitive and acceptable behaviour
- Responding promptly
- Intervening as required/necessary
- Warning the individuals or the group (as appropriate) of the consequences
- Being prepared to adjust the tour or an activity:
 - Modifying the content, location or duration of the tour or activity
 - Changing the focus/nature of the tour
 - Terminating an activity or visitation.

36. List six tips a Tour Guide can use when handling problems with tour group members.

- Realise no problem will ever resolve itself – problems require action to fix/address them
- Take responsibility for taking action – it is part of the job to do so
- All identified issues must be addressed – never simply ignore a problem
- Treat people with respect – talk politely with them allow them their dignity
- Talk with people who need to be spoken to away from others in order to respect their right not to be embarrassed or challenged in front of others
- Try to stay calm – when a need to intervene and say something to a participant arises: ‘act’ but do not ‘over-react’
- Avoid using a loud voice and try to speak so the conversation is private – and so the participant/s do not feel as if they are being reprimanded in front of the rest of the group and being made to look silly or ‘small’
- Phrase what is said so it is not a personal ‘attack’ on the other person – for example, instead of saying “You must not do that”, re-phrase the statement to “We prefer such action does not take place while here/on tour/in this location”
- Try phrasing statements as asking people to modify their behaviour as ‘requests’ – rather than ‘commands’ to do things
- Look through the eyes of the tour group member and try to see things from their perspective.

37. Detail the three generic actions which are necessary in maintaining contact with local communities.

- Determining how and when the local community prefers to communicate
- Keeping the lines of communication open
- Actively monitoring the relationship.

38. Name four activities involved in liaising with local communities.

- Keeping in regular contact with the local community to encourage communication
- Responding to community concerns
- Adjusting and/or removing activities and/or the provision of information to tour groups
- Suggesting and/or assisting with the development of new tours and/or activities
- Responding appropriately to any examples where tourist activity is having a negative impact on the local community.

39. Describe four orientations Tour Operator must adopt to the potential need to modify information provided to the public/tour group members regarding indigenous communities.

- Proving a willingness to vary information provided to suit local community needs – via verbal and non-verbal language/cues
- Being receptive to suggestions for change – including suggestions to reduce or extend existing arrangements
- Taking prompt action (see below) on the basis of comment/input from the community – as opposed to delaying and deferring changes
- Doing what needs to be done without complaining – and without making the community feel as if their requests/requirements are an imposition
- Not challenging the changes which are required/requested – but accepting the changes which are identified as being necessary
- Showing the local community new materials/commentaries which have been produced – so they can see the positive response of the Tour Operator
- Seeking approval from the community – for the changes which are made before they are released/used.

40. List four items/materials which may need to be modified in relation to feedback/comment from local communities.

- Advertisements and promotions for tours and interpretive activities
- Material included in hard copy handouts supplied to tour group members
- Scripted commentaries prepared for tours and activities
- Comments/unscripted commentary provided by Tour Guides and tour staff
- Advice and detail used to explain, describe and/or demonstrate an interpretive activity.

41. Describe six practical actions which may need to be made and/or changes which may need to be taken to information to be provided to tour group members as a result of modifications made to information provided by indigenous communities.

- Reviewing existing materials – to determine:
 - The exact items which need to be changed
 - Nature and extent of changes needed
- Liaise with local communities – to:
 - Clarify issues surrounding required changes
 - Confirm required changes
 - Seek help with making the required changes
 - Gain approval for the changes which have been made
- Revising/re-writing items adverts, commentaries, fact sheets and similar to reflect modifications required
- Removing unacceptable, unwanted, out-of-date and/or incorrect items from circulation
- Correcting text and/or script – with Mistakes, Spelling, Grammar, Omissions
- Updating internal training – to reflect required changes
- Keeping previously disclosed information secret – as/if required
- Altering scheduled itineraries and activities – on the basis of:
 - Feedback received from the local community
 - Changed priorities of the community
 - Concerns raised
- Up-dating facts and figures relating to the local community – regarding (for example):
 - Population numbers
 - Employment rates
 - Crime
 - Achievements
- Applying another method of communication/transmission of information – which may mean:
 - Using a Tour Guide/presenter from the local community
 - Speaking in a different language/local language
 - Presenting the same information in a different way/location.
