Competency Based Assessment (CBA) – An Introduction for Assessors

Assessment is the process of identifying a participant's current knowledge, skills and attitudes sets against all elements of competency within a unit of competency.

Suggested Assessment Methods

For each unit of competency a number of assessment tools have been identified including:

- Work Projects
- Oral Questions
- Written Questions
- Third Party Statements
- Observation Checklists.

Instructions and Evidence Recording Sheets have been identified in this Assessment Manual for use by Assessors.

Alternative Assessment Methods

Whilst the above mentioned assessment methods are suggested assessment methods, the assessor may use an alternate method of assessment taking into account:

- a) The nature of the unit
- b) The strengths of participants
- c) The number of participants in the class
- d) Time required to complete assessments
- e) Time dedicated to assessment
- f) Equipment and resources required.

Alternate assessment methods include:

- Practical demonstrations
- Practical demonstrations in simulated work conditions
- Problem solving
- Portfolios of evidence
- Critical incident reports
- Journals
- Oral presentations
- Interviews
- Videos
- Visuals/slides/audiotapes

- Case studies
- Log books
- Projects and Role plays
- Group projects
- Recognition of Prior Learning.

Whilst there is no specific instruction or evidence collection documents for all the alternative assessment methods, assessors can record competency in the 'Other' section within the 'Competency Recording Sheet'.

Selection of Assessment Methods

Each assessor will determine the combination of Assessment Methods to be used to determine Competency for each Competency Unit on a student by student basis.

'Sufficient' evidence to support the 'Pass Competent'/'Not Yet Competent' decision must be captured.

In practice this means a minimum of 2 – 3 Assessment Methods for each candidate for each Competency Element is suggested.

At least one method should provide evidence of practical demonstration of competence.

The following assessment methods deemed to provide evidence of practical demonstration of competence include:

- Practical Work Projects
- Third Party Statement
- Observation Checklist.

Assessing Competency

Competency based assessment does not award grades, but simply identifies if the participant has the knowledge, skills and attitudes to undertake the required task to the specified standard.

Therefore, when assessing competency, an assessor has two possible results that can be awarded:

- 'Pass Competent' (PC)
- 'Not Yet Competent' (NYC).

Pass Competent (PC)

If the participant is able to successfully answer or demonstrate what is required, to the expected standards of the performance criteria, they will be deemed as 'Pass Competent' (PC).

The assessor will award a 'Pass Competent' (PC) if they feel the participant has the necessary knowledge, skills and attitudes in all assessment tasks for a unit.

Not Yet Competent' (NYC)

If the participant is unable to answer or demonstrate competency to the desired standard, they will be deemed to be 'Not Yet Competent' (NYC).

This does not mean the participant will need to complete all the assessment tasks again. The focus will be on the specific assessment tasks that were not performed to the expected standards.

The participant may be required to:

- a) Undertake further training or instruction
- b) Undertake the assessment task again until they are deemed to be 'Pass Competent'.

Regional Qualifications Framework and Skills Recognition System

The 'Regional Qualifications Framework and Skills Recognition System', also known as the 'RQFSRS' is the overriding educational framework for the ASEAN region.

The purpose of this framework is to provide:

- A standardised teaching and assessment framework
- Mutual recognition of participant achievement across the ASEAN region. This includes achievement in individual Units of Competency or qualifications as a whole.

The role of the 'RQFSRS' is to provide, ensure and maintain 'quality assurance' across all countries and educational providers across the ASEAN region.

Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL)

Recognition of Prior Learning is the process that gives current industry professionals who do not have a formal qualification, the opportunity to benchmark their extensive skills and experience against the standards set out in each unit of competency/subject.

This process is a learning and assessment pathway which encompasses:

- Recognition of Current Competencies (RCC)
- Skills auditing
- Gap analysis and training
- Credit transfer.

Code of Practice for Assessors

This Code of Practice provides:

- Assessors with direction on the standard of practice expected of them
- Candidates with assurance of the standards of practice expected of assessors
- Employers with assurance of the standards maintained in the conduct of assessment.

The Code detailed below is based on the International Code of Ethics and Practice (The National Council for Measurement in Education [NCME]):

- The differing needs and requirements of the person being assessed, the local enterprise and/or industry are identified and handled with sensitivity
- Potential forms of conflict of interest in the assessment process and/or outcomes are identified and appropriate referrals are made, if necessary
- All forms of harassment are avoided throughout the planning, conducting, reviewing and reporting of the assessment outcomes

- The rights of the candidate are protected during and after the assessment
- Personal and interpersonal factors that are not relevant to the assessment of competency must not influence the assessment outcomes
- The candidate is made aware of rights and process of appeal
- Evidence that is gathered during the assessment is verified for validity, reliability, authenticity, sufficiency and currency
- Assessment decisions are based on available evidence that can be produced and verified by another assessor
- Assessments are conducted within the boundaries of the assessment system policies and procedures
- Formal agreement is obtained from both the candidate and the assessor that the assessment was carried out in accordance with agreed procedures
- The candidate is informed of all assessment reporting processes prior to the assessment
- The candidate is informed of all known potential consequences of decisions arising from an assessment, prior to the assessment
- Confidentiality is maintained regarding assessment results
- The assessment results are used consistently with the purposes explained to the candidate
- Opportunities are created for technical assistance in planning, conducting and reviewing assessment procedures and outcomes.

Instructions and Checklist for Assessors

Instructions

General instructions for the assessment:

- Assessment should be conducted at a scheduled time that has been notified to the candidate
- Facilitators must ensure participants are made aware of the need to complete assessments and attend assessment sessions
- If a participant is unable to attend a scheduled session, they must make arrangements with the Assessor to undertake the assessment at an alternative time
- At the end of the assessment the Assessor must give feedback and advise the participant on their PC/NYC status
- Complete the relevant documentation and submit to the appropriate department.

Preparation

- Gain familiarity with the Unit of Competency, Elements of Competency and the Performance Criteria expected
- Study details assessment documentation and requirements
- Brief candidate regarding all assessment criteria and requirements.

Briefing Checklist

- Begin the assessment by implementing the following checklist and then invite the candidate to proceed with assessment.

Checklist for Assessors

Prior to the assessment I have:	Tick (✓)	Remarks
Ensured the candidate is informed about the venue and schedule of assessment.
Received current copies of the performance criteria to be assessed, assessment plan, evidence gathering plan, assessment checklist, appeal form and the company's standard operating procedures (SOP).
Reviewed the performance criteria and evidence plan to ensure I clearly understood the instructions and the requirements of the assessment process.
Identified and accommodated any special needs of the candidate.
Checked the set-up and resources for the assessment.
During the assessment I have:
Introduced myself and confirmed identities of candidates.
Put candidates at ease by being friendly and helpful.
Explained to candidates the purpose, context and benefits of the assessment.
Ensured candidates understood the assessment process and all attendant procedures.
Provided candidates with an overview of performance criteria to be assessed.
Explained the results reporting procedure.
Encouraged candidates to seek clarifications if in doubt.
Asked candidates for feedback on the assessment.
Explained legal, safety and ethical issues, if applicable.
After the assessment I have:
Ensured candidate is given constructive feedback.
Completed and signed the assessment record.
Thanked candidate for participating in the assessment.

Instructions for Recording Competency

Specifications for Recording Competency

The following specifications apply to the preparation of Evidence Gathering Plans:

- A Competency Recording Sheet must be prepared for each candidate to ensure and demonstrate all Performance Criteria and Competency Elements are appropriately assessed. This Sheet indicates how the Assessor will gather evidence during their assessment of each candidate
- This Competency Recording Sheet is located at the end of the Assessment Plan
- It is the overriding document to record competency
- The Assessor may vary the Competency Recording Sheet to accommodate practical and individual candidate and/or workplace needs
- Assessor must place a tick (✓) in the 'Assessment Method' columns to identify the methods of assessment to be used for each candidate
- Multiple Competency Elements/Performance Criteria may be assessed at the one time, where appropriate
- The assessor and participant should sign and date the Competency Recording Sheet, when all forms of evidence and assessment have been completed
- The assessor may provide and feedback or clarify questions which the participant may have in regards to the assessment grade or findings
- All documents used to capture evidence must be retained, and attached to the Competency Recording Sheet for each candidate for each Competency Unit.

Instructions for Different Assessment Methods

Specifications for Work Project Assessment

These guidelines concern the use of work projects.

The work projects identified in the Training Manuals involve a range of tasks, to be performed at the discretion of the Assessor.

Work project tasks can be completed through any form of assessment as identified in the Trainer and Trainee Manuals and stated at the start of this section.

Assessors should follow these guidelines:

- Review the Work Projects at the end of each 'Element of Competency' in the Trainee Manual to ensure you understand the content and what is expected
- Prepare sufficient resources for the completion of work activities including:
 - Time – whether in scheduled delivery hours or suggested time participants to spend outside of class hours
 - Resources – this may involve technical equipment, computer, internet access, stationery and other supplementary materials and documents
- Prepare assessment location (if done in class) making it conducive to assessment
- Explain Work Projects assessment to candidate, at the start of each Element of Competency. This ensures that participants are aware of what is expected and can collate information as delivery takes place

- Assessors can use the following phrase as a guide (where an 'X' is identified, please input appropriate information):
 "At the end of each Element of Competency there are Work Projects which must be completed. These projects require different tasks that must be completed.
 These work projects are part of the formal assessment for the unit of competency titled X:
 ■ You are required to complete these activities:
 a) Using the 'X' method of assessment
 b) At 'X' location
 c) You will have 'X time period' for this assessment
 ■ You are required to compile information in a format that you feel is appropriate to the assessment
 ■ Do you have any questions about this assessment?"
- Commence Work Project assessment:
 - The assessor may give time for participants to review the questions at this time to ensure they understand the nature of the questions. The assessor may need to clarify questions
 - Participants complete work projects in the most appropriate format
 - Participants must submit Work Project evidence to the assessor before the scheduled due date
- Assessor must assess the participant's evidence against the competency standards specified in each Element of Competency and their own understanding. The assessor can determine if the participant has provided evidence to a 'competent' standard
- Transcribe results/details to Competency Recording Sheet
- Forward/file assessment record.

Specifications for Oral Question Assessment

These guidelines concern the use of oral questioning.

Assessors should follow these guidelines.

- Prepare Assessment Record for Oral Questioning. One record for each candidate:
 - Enter Student name
 - Enter Assessor name
 - Enter Location
- Familiarise self with Questions to be asked
- Prepare assessment location (table and chairs) making it conducive to assessment
- Explain Oral Questioning assessment to candidate, using the following phrase as a guide (where a 'X' is identified, please input appropriate information):
"These oral questions are part of the formal assessment for the unit of competency titled X.

There are X questions and you are required to answer all of them to the best of your ability and I will record whether or not you have answered correctly.

We have 60 minutes for this assessment.

- I will give you feedback at the end of the assessment
- Do you have any questions about this assessment?”
- Commence Oral Questioning assessment:
 - Complete Assessment Record for the Oral Questioning by:
 - a) Ticking PC or NYC, as appropriate
 - b) Entering ‘Remarks’ as required
 - c) Completing Oral Questioning within 60 minutes
- Complete Oral Questioning and provide feedback to candidate
- Transcribe results/details to Competency Recording Sheet
- Forward/file assessment record.

Specifications for Written Question Assessment

These guidelines concern the use of written questioning.

Assessors should follow these guidelines:

- Familiarise self with Questions and Answers provided
- Print and distribute copies of ‘Written Questions’ for participants. Ideally this should take place with adequate time for participants to answer all questions before the expected due date
- Explain Written Questioning assessment to candidate, using the following phrase as a guide (where a ‘X’ is identified, please input appropriate information):

“These written questions are part of the formal assessment for the unit of competency titled X.

There are X questions and you are required to answer all of them to the best of your ability.

You may refer to your subject materials, however where possible try to utilise your existing knowledge when answering questions.

Where you are unsure of questions, please ask the Assessor for further instruction. This may be answering the question orally or asking the assessor to redefine the question.

We have X time for this assessment:

- The due date for completion of this assessment is X
- On this date you must forward the completed questions to the assessor by X time on the date of X
- Do you have any questions about this assessment?”
- The assessor may give time for participants to review the questions at this time to ensure they understand the nature of the questions. The assessor may need to clarify questions
- Participants may record written answers (where possible)
- Participants must submit the written answers to the assessor before the scheduled due date

- Assessor must assess the participant's written answers against the model answers provided as a guide, or their own understanding. The assessor can determine if the participant has answered the questions to a 'competent' standard
- Transcribe results/details to Competency Recording Sheet
- Forward/file assessment record.

Specifications for Observation Checklist

These specifications apply to the use of the Observation Checklist in determining competency for candidates.

Only an approved assessor is authorised to complete the Observation Checklist.

The assessor is required to observe the participant, ideally in a simulated environment or their practical workplace setting and record their performance (or otherwise) of the competencies listed on the Observation Checklist for the Competency Unit.

To complete the Observation Checklist the Assessor must:

- Insert name of candidate
- Insert assessor name
- Insert identify of location where observations are being undertaken
- Insert date/s of observations – may be single date or multiple dates
- Place a tick in either the 'Yes' or 'No' box for each listed Performance Criteria to indicate the candidate has demonstrated/not demonstrated that skill
- Provide written (and verbal) feedback to candidate – as/if appropriate
- Sign and date the form
- Present form to candidate for them to sign and date
- Transcribe results/details to Competency Recording Sheet for candidate
- Forward/file Observation Checklist.

This source of evidence combines with other forms of assessment to assist in determining the 'Pass Competent' or 'Not Yet Competent' decision for the participant.

Specifications for Third Party Statement

These specifications relate to the use of a relevant workplace person to assist in determining competency for candidates.

The Third Party Statement is to be supplied by the assessor to a person in the workplace who supervises and/or works closely with the participant.

This may be their Supervisor, the venue manager, the Department Manager or similar.

The Third Party Statement asks the Supervisor to record what they believe to be the competencies of the participant based on their workplace experience of the participant. This experience may be gained through observation of their workplace performance, feedback from others, inspection of candidate's work etc.

A meeting must take place between the Assessor and the Third Party to explain and demonstrate the use of the Third Party Statement.

To complete the Third Party Verification Statement the Assessor must:

- Insert candidate name
- Insert name and contact details of the Third Party
- Tick the box to indicate the relationship of the Third Party to the candidate
- Present the partially completed form to the Third Party for them to finalise
- Collect the completed form from the Third Party
- Transcribe results/details to Competency Recording Sheet for candidate
- Forward/file Third Party Statement.

The Third Party must:

- Record their belief regarding candidate ability/competency as either:
 - Pass Competent = Yes
 - Not Yet Competent = No
 - Unsure about whether candidate is competent or not = Not Sure
- Meet briefly with the assessor to discuss and/or clarify the form.

This source of evidence combines with other forms of assessment to assist in determining the 'Pass Competent' or 'Not Yet Competent' decision for the candidate.

A separate Third Party Statement is required for each Competency Unit undertaken by the candidate.

UNIT TITLE: DEVELOP HOST COMMUNITY AWARENESS PROGRAMS		NOMINAL HOURS: 40
UNIT NUMBER: D2.TCS.CL5.10
UNIT DESCRIPTOR: This unit deals with skills and knowledge required to develop and deliver informational programs that will raise awareness in the host community of the benefits and costs associated with local tourism.
ELEMENTS AND PERFORMANCE CRITERIA		UNIT VARIABLE AND ASSESSMENT GUIDE
Element 1: Identify the basis for a host community awareness program 1.1 Identify the stakeholders in relation to a host community awareness program 1.2 Research the tourism-related issues that are impacting on the host community 1.3 Assemble information on the tourism-related issues that are currently impacting on the host community 1.4 Identify tourism-related opportunities and threats facing the host community 1.5 Identify motivations for visiting the local community 1.6 Seek resolutions to the potential for community conflict relating to tourism		Unit Variables The Unit Variables provide advice to interpret the scope and context of this unit of competence, allowing for differences between enterprises and workplaces. It relates to the unit as a whole and facilitates holistic assessment. This unit applies to the development and delivery of programs by staff that will inform local communities of the advantages and disadvantages attaching to tourism in their area, within the labour divisions of the hotel and travel industries and may include: 1. Travel Agencies 2. Tour Operation Stakeholders may include: • General public • Elected officials including politicians with responsibility and influence in the travel and tourism industries • Senior bureaucrats from local, regional and national government agencies • Community groups and elders • Tourism operators, tour operators and travel agents

Element 2: Prepare for delivery of a host community awareness program 2.1 Develop objectives for the education of the host community 2.2 Develop target audiences for delivery of host community awareness programs 2.3 Decide on the format of programs to deliver host community awareness programs 2.4 Plan strategies to disseminate information 2.5 Develop the content 2.6 Generate a timetable to guide the delivery of host community awareness programs 2.7 Secure resources to enable delivery of programs Element 3: Present and monitor a host community awareness program 3.1 Prepare materials for distribution 3.2 Release information to the media 3.3 Make personal appearances to deliver information 3.4 Respond to questions arising and issues raised by the local community 3.5 Undertake ongoing research of the local community and the impacts of tourism 3.6 Record and investigate the effects and impacts of tourism on the local community	• Travel and tourism industry associations and peak representative bodies • Trade unions • The media. Host community refers to: • Any community that receives tourism visitations. Research the tourism-related issues may include: • Identifying tourism goals and objectives of the enterprise • Identifying tourism goals and objectives of the local community • Seeking views and opinions from stakeholders • Investigating the history of the local community in relation to tourism and its impacts • Speaking to those affected by tourism within the local community • Understanding the changes in demand for local services and facilities • Researching relevant reports to identify secondary research data including anecdotal evidence, media articles, formal reports and market research data • Undertaking primary research. Assemble information on the tourism-related issues may be related to: • Classifying the results of research • Quantifying data • Establishing factual trends and statistics • Evaluating input from stakeholders taking into consideration potential bias that may exist • Validating contributions that appear suspect • Ignoring material and data that is not verifiable

3.7 Revise and adjust existing programs on the basis of new information	• Listing and describing the costs to local communities of tourism, which may include: ▪ Trivialisation of culture ▪ Effect on social structures ▪ Introduced negative influences and factors ▪ Dilution of culture ▪ Increase in crime ▪ Damage to the local environment including pollution ▪ Increased stress on existing buildings, facilities and infrastructure ▪ Increased living costs ▪ Low-paid jobs ▪ Dependency on tourism ▪ Seasonal employment ▪ Traffic congestion • Listing and describing the benefits to local communities of tourism, which may include: ▪ Economic benefits to the local community ▪ Creation of employment opportunities ▪ Opportunity to share the culture and educate visitors ▪ Investment opportunities in businesses, real estate, and infrastructure ▪ Maintenance, growth and improvement in local facilities ▪ Improved health and training facilities ▪ Improved public transport systems ▪ Opportunity to enhance the preservation of endangered or threatened aspects of the local culture, customs and community • Opportunity to make the wider community aware of the problems facing the community.

	Opportunities and threats facing the host community may be related to: • Changing economic conditions locally and internationally • Changing expectations of visitors • Changing political situations locally and elsewhere • Changing the cost of travel • Changing market place activities undertaken by other business sectors and industries • Changing government direction in relation to tourism • Emerging preferences of tourists • Changing local environmental conditions. Motivations for visiting may include consideration of: • Visitor types including families, special interest groups, business, family, general and repeat visitors • Motivations including relaxation, study, sport, culture, adventure, retreat and novelty • Activities including natural and man-made activities. Potential for community conflict relating to tourism may include: • Competition for local government resources • Conflicting opinions about tourism development options • Perceived threat to local amenity by high visitor numbers • Conflicting opinions regarding local government levies for tourism • Conflict between environmental and business groups • Misunderstanding regarding the relative benefits and disadvantages of tourism to the host community • Misinterpretation and misunderstanding of the effects of tourism on other host communities.

	Objectives may include: • Persuading the general public, businesses and/or the government • Rectifying errors in understanding and misinformation • Providing information as the basis for discussion and decision making • Advising the population of intended action • Encouraging participation in the industry • Responding to threats and misinformation • Protecting the image and reputation of the host enterprise. Target audiences may include identified stakeholders with increased targeting of: • Individual people • Specified group • Nominated schools • Specific media • Certain government officials and/or agencies • Certain stakeholder classifications as identified by specified demographic characteristics relevant to the identified issues • People, businesses or agencies that have generated initial comment and/or discussion relating to tourism and its effect on the local community. Format of programs may include: • Structured educational programs featuring modules and non-accredited certification on completion • Self-paced format • Trainer-driven/directed program

	• Hard copy and web-based formats • Technical and statistical information supported by informal notes and information • Response-only format where the information is only available to those who seek it. Strategies to disseminate information may include: • Face-to-face meetings including one-on-one meetings, group meetings and public meetings • Media interviews and appearances including preparation of relevant media releases • Printed materials for distribution including targeted, mass distribution and response to requests • Website presentations • Making of guest speaker appearance, on request • Joining government, industry and peak body organisations and associations to lobby and influence key stakeholders and decision makers • Generating partnerships with other organisations or industry sectors to facilitate the broadcasting of information. Timetable to guide the delivery of host community awareness programs may include: • Scheduling the dissemination of information to meet identified need • Ensuring regular output of information over the targeted delivery period to maintain awareness over the long term • Setting dates and timelines for events and information releases • Determining existing local opportunities and events to communicate with the community and identified stakeholders • Taking into account seasonal and regular events • Negotiating opportunities for delivery with targeted organisations.

	Materials for distribution may include: • Media releases • Fact sheets • Web-based materials • Supporting materials such as banners, T-shirts, caps, pens and rulers, as appropriate • Competitions • Brochures and leaflets • Samples. Information to the media may include: • Press and media releases • Media kits • Media events • Interviews • Photography opportunities • Arranging meetings for the media with relevant and key people. Respond to questions arising and issues raised may include: • Undertaking fresh research and seeking additional input • Revising positions and stances taken • Ensuring honesty and transparency in responses • Accepting and acknowledging emerging situations that do not align with predictions and stated positions.

	Undertake ongoing research of the local community may include: • Maintaining a relationship with stakeholders • Recording statistical information relating to issues of interest and concern • Seeking local input into issues. Assessment Guide The following skills and knowledge must be assessed as part of this unit: • Enterprise policies and procedures in regard to interactions with local communities, government agencies and industry associations, including protocols relating to public meetings, media liaison and making public comment on behalf of the enterprise • Principles of research • Ability to use communication, negotiation, planning, organisational and interpersonal skills • Knowledge of the costs and benefits of tourism to and for local communities • Knowledge of the hierarchy of tourism bodies and representative organisations • Knowledge of main stakeholders in relation to local tourism • Knowledge of typical problems and issues in the relationship between local tourism and host communities • Knowledge of media interview, training and presentation delivery techniques. Linkages To Other Units • Access and retrieve computer-based data • Develop and update local knowledge • Develop a marketing strategy and coordinate sales activities • Establish and maintain a business relationship
--	--

- Develop and implement a business plan
- Produce documents, reports and worksheets on a computer
- Plan, manage and conduct meetings
- Manage legal requirements for business compliance
- Develop and update tourism industry knowledge
- Demonstrate/observe respect for indigenous cultures
- Plan, trial and implement minimal impact operations
- Monitor tourism operations
- Construct and apply tourism product research
- Develop and monitor culturally appropriate tourism activity
- Develop, implement and evaluate regional tourism plans
- Create and update a tourism website
- Source and present information.

Critical Aspects of Assessment

Evidence of the following is essential:

- Understanding of host enterprise policies and procedures in regard to interactions with local communities, government agencies and industry associations, including protocols relating to public meetings, media liaison and making public comment on behalf of the enterprise
- Demonstrated ability to research a nominated host community and:
 - Identify the community stakeholders
 - Identify and describe the tourism-related issues impacting on the community
 - Identify and describe the potential tourism-related issues that have the potential to impact on the community

	▪ Identify and describe the costs of tourism to the local community ▪ Identify and describe the benefits of tourism to the local community ▪ Identify the motivations for visitors to visit the local community ▪ Identify, describe and suggest viable solutions to tourism issues that have the potential to cause conflict in the host community • Demonstrated ability to prepare appropriate and accurate resources and information for inclusion in a host community awareness program on a nominated tourism issue impacting on a specified host community and deliver that program to a designated group in a specified setting. Context of Assessment Assessment must ensure: Actual or simulated workplace and host community settings for the planning, research, consultation and delivery of host community awareness programs. Resource Implications • Training and assessment must include a real host community, real people, real issues and actual information and data regarding relevant tourism issues and contexts. Assessment Methods The following methods may be used to assess competency for this unit: • Observation of practical candidate performance • Portfolio of documentation produced by the candidate, including records of interviews and meetings, research material identified, plans and program materials developed • Feedback from stakeholders who have participated in the consultative and delivery process relating to project work • Oral and written questions • Third party reports completed by a supervisor • Project and assignment work.

	Key Competencies in this Unit Level 1 = competence to undertake tasks effectively Level 2 = competence to manage tasks Level 3 = competence to use concepts for evaluating
	Key Competencies	Level	Examples
	Collecting, organising and analysing information	1	Research issues that are relevant to and impact on the host community
	Communicating ideas and information	2	Share information with identified stakeholders
	Planning and organising activities	3	Determine the research, planning, presentation and dissemination functions of the program
	Working with others and in teams	2	Organise community and other meetings
	Using mathematical ideas and techniques	1	Calculate statistics that relate to identified tourism issues
	Solving problems	2	Resolve tourism issues that have the potential to negatively impact on the host community
	Using technology	1	Use communication technologies to disseminate host community awareness programs

3. Describe the information you assembled in relation to the issues that were impacting on the host community in relation to the previous answer.	☐	☐
4. For the community being used as the focus for these answers, what were tourism-related opportunities and threats facing the host community, and the motivations people to visit the local community?	☐	☐
5. Give me an example of how a potential community conflict in relation to the above was resolved.	☐	☐

Questions	Response
	PC	NYC
6. For the host community we are discussing what were the objectives for the host community and what were the target audiences for the programs? How were these developed?	☐	☐
7. For the previous answer, what was the format and content of the awareness program that was developed and what strategies were used to disseminate information about it?	☐	☐
8. Name a host community awareness program you have been involved in developing and describe the timetable and how this was decided on.	☐	☐

Questions	Response
	PC	NYC
9. For the program described in the previous answer what resources were required and how did you acquire/secure them?	☐	☐
10. Identify a host community program you have been involved in developing and explain how you prepared materials for it.	☐	☐
11. Give an example of when, how and why you released information about a host community awareness to the media.	☐	☐

Questions	Response
	PC	NYC
12. Describe a situation where you have made personal appearances to present information in relation to host community awareness programs and responded to questions/issues arising from the local community.	☐	☐
13. Tell me about a situation where you have recorded and investigated effects and impacts of a local community program and explain the impact it had on reviewing and/or revising the program.	☐	☐

Written questions

Develop host community awareness programs – D2.TCS.CL5.10

Student Name: _____

Answer all the following questions and submit to your Trainer.

1. In your own words describe what is meant by a 'host community awareness program'.

2. Give four examples of possible stakeholders in a host community awareness program.

3. In terms of this unit what is 'CBT'?

4. Describe four techniques which have proved effective when conducting research in identifying issues impacting on a host community.

5. Differentiate between 'secondary' and 'primary' research.

6. Differentiate between 'qualitative' and 'quantitative' research data.

7. Give an example of a hypothesis and three accompanying questions which may be developed to research a proposed host community awareness program.

8. Name four market research activities which are commonly used to generate primary research data.

9. What is 'raw data'?

10. Give four examples of activities which may be involved in 'data manipulation'.

11. What are the four elements of a SWOT analysis?

12. What generic factors would a STEEPLE analysis consider?

13. Give four examples of possible tourism-related threats and opportunities which might face a community in relation to a host community awareness program.

14. What two factors are commonly used as the basis for classifying visitor types?

15. Identify and define the three basic forms of tourism as identified by the United Nations World Tourism Organization.

This image shows a blank sheet of white paper with horizontal ruling lines. The lines are evenly spaced and run across the width of the page. There are no margins, text, or other markings on the paper.

16. With reference to your own country, identify how the ASEAN Tourism Strategic Plan and/or the ASEAN Tourism Marketing Strategy might assist or influence your development of host community awareness programs.

[illegible]

17. Identify four common causes of conflict/problems with communities when attempting to develop tourism initiatives in communities.

18. Describe four practices which have proven effective in resolving conflict with communities when attempting to develop tourism initiatives in communities.

19. Identify six factors which might be influential when determining the objectives for a host community awareness program.

20. Give four generic examples of possible objectives which might be developed for a host community awareness program.

21. Give four reasons it is necessary to target delivery of host community programs to specific groups.

22. Identify four possible audiences who may be targeted for the delivery of a host community awareness program.

23. Name six ways proponents can work out the formats to use when delivering host community awareness.

24. Name four strategies which might be used to deliver host community awareness programs.

26. List six tips for developing content for a host community awareness program.

27. List six important points which need to be observed in relation to the context for delivering/time-tabling delivery sessions for a host community awareness program.

28. What are four pieces of scheduling advice provided in the notes in relation to delivery sessions for a host community awareness program?

29. What are the four resource classifications required to support/enable implementation of a host community awareness program?

30. Give four generic requirements relating to materials to be prepared for distribution when presenting a host community awareness program.

31. Give four examples of external assistance which may be obtained to help with the production of presentation materials for a host community awareness program.

32. What is a Distribution List and what information does it contain?

33. Name four options of materials which might be used to distribute information about a proposed host community awareness program.

34. Select one of the options from your answer to Question 33 and explain the requirements which apply to that choice.

35. Describe the contents of a Media Plan.

36. Describe three important considerations regarding the timing of the release of information to the media.

37. What are 'media kits' and what are they used for?

38. Explain the concept of a 'media events' and give four examples.

39. Give four reasons why personal appearances are important to the promotion of host community awareness programs.

40. List eight factors you would take into account when selecting 'the right person' to make a personal appearance to promote a host community awareness program.

41. Identify four tips to help make effective and credible personal appearances when presenting a host community awareness program.

42. Give three reasons it is always necessary to listen to those who raise questions and issues about a host community awareness program.

43. Name six keys in responding to questions and issues raised about a host community awareness program.

44. Identify four generic needs to monitor implementation of a host community awareness program.

45. Give six possible activities involved in monitoring/collecting data with reference to the implementation of a host community awareness program.

46. List six important considerations inherent in recording information generated as a result of monitoring activities into the implementation of host community awareness program.

47. Describe six activities possible involved in investigating data captured as a result of monitoring activities into the implementation of host community awareness program.

48. Provide six keys when communicating the results/findings of a host community awareness program.

49. Give six reasons it is important to revise and adjust existing host community awareness programs based on research findings.

50. List six possible options for action in response to monitoring data which show positive findings for a host community awareness program.

51. List six possible options for action in response to monitoring data which show negative findings for a host community awareness program.

Answers to written questions

Develop host community awareness programs – D2.TCS.CL5.10

The following are model answers only – Trainers/Assessors must use discretion when determining whether or not an answer provided by a Student is acceptable or not.

1. In your own words describe what is meant by a ‘host community awareness program’.

Answer must address the key points below:

- They are a series of planned and formal, structured activities designed to raise awareness of tourism within the target audiences
- Programs seek to:
 - Inform the target audiences/communities about tourism
 - Create a more positive community orientation and attitude towards tourism
 - Identify and exploit natural and created attractions as attractive and viable tourism destinations and activities
 - Achieve a win-win outcome
 - Identify, address and resolve problems and issues associated with tourism in the host communities
 - Generate reasons for people to visit the target destinations
- They are presented to local communities
- Their implementation is monitored
- An awareness program would normally be for a whole region or local area but may sometimes apply to the development of a particular tourism venue or individual touring product.

2. Give four examples of possible stakeholders in a host community awareness program.

- Employers:
 - Tour Operators and tourist agencies
 - Hotels and accommodation venues
 - Food and beverage operators
 - Attractions
 - Support services
- Current and potential employees for all sectors
- Government agencies, authorities and departments
- The media
- Vocational training organisations
- Members of the local community/general public.

3. In terms of this unit what is 'CBT'?

Answer must relate to the following statement:

- CBT is a type of sustainable tourism that promotes pro-poor strategies in a community setting. CBT initiatives aim to involve local residents in the running and management of small tourism projects as a means of alleviating poverty and providing an alternative income source for community members
- CBT initiatives also encourage respect for local traditions and culture as well as for natural heritage
- There are a number of different models for CBT projects
- Some are run and operated by one or more entrepreneurial families who employ other community members and in this way spread economic benefits to the community at large. Others may be managed and operated by a village cooperative or community group, perhaps with the support of a donor agency or NGO.
- Often CBT projects develop a system for redistributing tourism income to the community through education or health projects
- (Source: http://www.snvworld.org/files/publications/a_toolkit_for_monitoring_and_managing_community-based_tourism.pdf - A toolkit for monitoring and managing Community-Based Tourism, Box 5, page 9).

4. Describe four techniques which have proved effective when conducting research in identifying issues impacting on a host community.

Answer needs to address:

- Identifying needs of the proponent/enterprise through talking to management and relevant people, reading internal documents
- Determining the specific tourism goals and objectives for the local community as identified by community groups, interested parties, other businesses, Government agencies, especially tourism authorities/bodies and peak industry groups representing tour/tourism operators
- Seeking views and opinions from stakeholders
- Investigating the history of the local people/community in relation to tourism and its impacts
- Speaking to a broad cross-section of those affected by tourism within the local community
- Understanding the changes in demand for local services and facilities.

5. Differentiate between 'secondary' and 'primary' research.

- Secondary research data is information that already exists
- Primary research data is generated to fill gaps in the knowledge which exist after the secondary research data has been read and analysed. It is new, freshly-generated data.

6. Differentiate between ‘qualitative’ and ‘quantitative’ research data.

Qualitative data:

- Qualitative data is also known as ‘soft’ data
- It captures information about:
 - Feelings and opinions
 - Reasons people do what they do
 - Reasons people do not do certain things
- Qualitative data seeks to answer ‘Why?’ questions.

Quantitative data:

- Quantitative data is also known as ‘hard’ data
- It captures information about:
 - Facts
 - Statistics and figures
 - Percentages and ratios
 - Money/revenue/sales
 - Frequency
- Quantitative data seeks to answer ‘quantifiable’ questions.

7. Give an example of a hypothesis and three accompanying questions which may be developed to research a proposed host community awareness program.

No model Answer

8. Name four market research activities which are commonly used to generate primary research data.

- Conducting interviews – with individuals and/or groups
- Consulting with groups and communities
- Applying surveys and questionnaires
- Using focus groups
- Observing people and actions
- Doing experiments and undertaking trials and tests.

9. What is ‘raw data’?

- ‘Raw data’ is the data/information collected during the research process
- It is what is provided by the researchers in an ‘untouched’ form.

10. Give four examples of activities which may be involved in 'data manipulation'.

- Determining the classifications of data to be used
- Undertaking data entry protocols
- Checking the data and verifying the information/data
- Analysing and interpreting the data
- Developing findings and recommendations from the data.

11. What are the four elements of a SWOT analysis?

- Strengths
- Weaknesses
- Opportunities
- Threats.

12. What generic factors would a STEEPLE analysis consider?

- Social factors
- Legal factors
- Economic factors
- Political factors
- Technological factors
- Environmental factors
- Ethical factors.

13. Give four examples of possible tourism-related threats and opportunities which might face a community in relation to a host community awareness program.

- Changing economic conditions
- Changing expectations of visitors
- Changing political situations
- Changing cost of travel
- Changing marketplace activities
- Changing government direction in relation to tourism
- Changing local environmental conditions.

14. What two factors are commonly used as the basis for classifying visitor types?

- Description of the traveller/tourist – as an individual or group
- The reason for travel – business, pleasure, relaxation.

15. Identify and define the three basic forms of tourism as identified by the United Nations World Tourism Organization.

- Domestic tourism
Comprises the activities of a resident visitor within the country of reference, either as part of a domestic tourism trip or part of an outbound tourism trip
- National tourism
National tourism comprises domestic tourism plus outbound tourism, that is to say, the activities of resident visitors within and outside the country of reference, either as part of domestic or outbound tourism trips
- International tourism
International tourism comprises inbound tourism plus outbound tourism, that is to say, the activities of resident visitors outside the country of reference, either as part of domestic or outbound tourism trips and the activities of non-resident visitors within the country of reference on inbound tourism trips.

16. With reference to your own country, identify how the ASEAN Tourism Strategic Plan and/or the ASEAN Tourism Marketing Strategy might assist or influence your development of host community awareness programs.

No model answer.

17. Identify four common causes of conflict/problems with communities when attempting to develop tourism initiatives in communities.

- Competition for local government resources
- Conflicting opinions about tourism development options
- Perceived threat to local amenity by high visitor numbers
- Conflicting opinions regarding local government levies for tourism
- Conflict between environmental and business groups
- Misunderstanding about benefits/disadvantages of tourism to host community
- Misinterpretation/misunderstanding of effects of tourism on other communities.

18. Describe four practices which have proven effective in resolving conflict with communities when attempting to develop tourism initiatives in communities.

- Recognising the issue
- Communicating with the community
- Undertaking additional research
- Complying with all necessary requirements
- Making some offer of compensation
- Making viable and credible promises relating to operation of the initiative/s
- Negotiating with those who have issues and demonstrating a willingness to modify proposals and initiatives if the need to do so arises.

19. Identify six factors which might be influential when determining the objectives for a host community awareness program.

- Results of consultations with the community
- Input made by relevant stakeholder groups
- Identified opportunities and threats as revealed by the research which has been undertaken
- Government policies, initiatives and over-arching plans and strategies
- Economic imperatives
- Local government or in-country plans
- Need to care for the local environment
- Investment available for the project
- Action being taken in relation to tourism activities/initiatives by other similar communities and/or nearby areas.

20. Give four generic examples of possible objectives which might be developed for a host community awareness program.

- Persuasion in relation to the initiatives and inherent matters
- Rectification of errors
- Provision of base, supplementary and projected information
- Provision of advice to the population
- Encouragement of necessary participants
- Responses to threats and misinformation
- Protection of the image and reputation of the host enterprise.

21. Give four reasons it is necessary to target delivery of host community programs to specific groups.

- Show respect for individuals and groups
- Prove the bona fides of the proposal
- Demonstrate the proponent wishes to consult and communicate with the community
- Advertise and promote the initiative
- Respond to criticism
- Be proactive and present information
- Respond to notifications from groups or individuals.

22. Identify four possible audiences who may be targeted for the delivery of a host community awareness program.

- All stakeholders – as identified in the initial stages of the project
- Individual people – who may have contacted the proponent or registered to receive information
- Specified groups – who may:
 - Be a critical element of the initiative
 - Represent interested parties
 - Against the proposal
 - Residents in the area
 - Belong to a certain demographic as determined by the initiative
- Nominated schools – this includes secondary schools and vocation providers
- Specific media
- Certain government officials and/or agencies
- Certain stakeholder classifications as identified by specified demographics
- People, businesses or agencies – that have:
 - Generated initial comment and/or discussion relating to tourism and its effect on the local community
 - Been identified as ‘influential’ in the community and identified as an ‘opinion maker’
 - Registered to receive information
 - Shown interest
 - Been identified as important/relevant to the implementation of the initiative
 - Been identified as necessary support service industries/providers
 - Experience in similar initiatives with other communities.

23. Name six ways proponents can work out the formats to use when delivering host community awareness.

- Asking communities what they prefer
- Speaking to community leaders
- Determining the capacity and preferences of the community in terms of literacy levels and/or language/s to be used
- Looking at the infrastructure available in the community to identify whether certain technologies are a possible option
- Money available for delivering the programs funding often dictates the formats which will/have to be used
- Requests which have been made directly to the proponents by interested parties
- Mandated requirements
- Factoring in other operational imperatives.

24. Name four strategies which might be used to deliver host community awareness programs.

- Communicating with possible businesses and employers
- Talking to the media
- Providing information to the general public
- Conducting training courses
- Holding formal meetings with the community and making formal presentations
- Lobbying nominated stakeholders.

25. List and explain six options which might be used to implement/action identified strategies to disseminate information to communities about host community awareness programs.

- Conducting in-person talks
- Making formal presentations
- Structured educational programs
- Being available for people as necessary
- Developing and making available a self-paced format of information
- Using a series of trainer-driven/directed programs
- Using web-based formats
- Generating and making available across a variety of formats the necessary technical and statistical information supported by informal notes and information
- Putting in place a 'response-only' option
- Using social media
- Giving invitations to locals, designated representatives of community leaders to represent the community on relevant Boards or Committees
- Using the media
- Making available printed materials for distribution
- Joining targeted bodies to lobby and influence key stakeholders and decision makers
- Generating partnerships with other organisations or industry sectors.

26. List six tips for developing content for a host community awareness program.

- Start with the end in mind
- Use a writing team
- Organise the material to be used
- Allocate sufficient and appropriate resources
- Develop a format for the final product that is user-friendly
- Plan what is to be written for each element of the program
- Be accurate and be honest
- Be positive
- Be realistic
- Write to the individual audience
- Use graphics
- Write in a manner designed to convince and influence the reader as opposed to simply presenting facts and opinion
- Personalise the message
- For each element/proposal give the basics
- Include detail/direction for readers to obtain further information
- Include details of primary stakeholders/proponents
- Make the content 'attractive' and 'inviting'
- Make reference to facts and analysis
- Write and revise a draft
- Check the final product for errors and omissions.

27. List six important points which need to be observed in relation to the context for delivering/time-tabling delivery sessions for a host community awareness program.

- Scheduling and delivery times MUST reflect needs/preferences of audiences
- Attention MUST be paid to the local calendar and conditions when creating the delivery timetable
- Different target audiences will need to be scheduled for delivery at different times
- Changes to be made throughout delivery schedule on the basis of feedback
- The same delivery will often need to be scheduled on multiple times and at multiple locations, venues or sites
- There is a need to be flexible
- There is a need to add extra delivery sessions
- Care to ensure operational aspects of delivery can be effectively implemented
- If a Communications Plan has been developed for the proposal, the times and venues for delivery may be contained within that Plan.

28. What are four pieces of scheduling advice provided in the notes in relation to delivery sessions for a host community awareness program?

- Ensure regular output of information over the targeted delivery period
- Time-table releases and sessions
- Determine existing local opportunities and events
- Negotiate opportunities for delivery with targeted organisations and audiences
- Involve joint-venture partners
- Promote the sessions.

29. What are the four resource classifications required to support/enable implementation of a host community awareness program?

- Information
- Physical resources
- Human resources
- Financial resources.

30. Give four generic requirements relating to materials to be prepared for distribution when presenting a host community awareness program.

- Decided by proponent stakeholders – a team or committee decision is best rather than just the opinion of one person
- Developed only after the content has been created and approved – the final, approved content/material must provide the basis for materials to be distributed
- Targeted to all the audiences which have been identified – as part of earlier research
- Generated for all those audiences and individuals who have been promised materials – as part of earlier discussions and negotiations
- Written/prepared in languages relevant to the target groups – and written in terms and at a level suitable for them.

31. Give four examples of external assistance which may be obtained to help with the production of presentation materials for a host community awareness program.

- Providing advice relating to issues such as:
 - Layout
 - Print size and style
 - Formatting
 - Use of white space, colour, graphics and photographs
- Printing hard copy materials – in the quantities required
- Creating professional looking and effective PowerPoint presentations – for use at meetings

- Developing professional and interactive web pages and social media posts – to optimise engagement (spread and reach)
- Keeping the program ‘on message’ – so it is not side-tracked by trivialities and irrelevancies, and is not hi-jacked by other person/s
- Gaining necessary access – via PR organisations to:
 - Important people and organisations – to help with getting the message across to the right people
 - Media – to assist with gaining exposure for the initiative
 - Advertising space
 - Locations and venues.

32. What is a Distribution List and what information does it contain?

- A Distribution List is often generated to assist with distribution of materials
- It indicates:
 - Who is to receive what
 - Quantities required/to be provided
 - Sequencing and timing/dates of distribution
 - Method of distribution.

33. Name four options of materials which might be used to distribute information about a proposed host community awareness program.

- Media releases
- Fact sheets
- Web-based materials
- Banners and signage
- Merchandise
- Competitions
- Brochures and leaflets
- Samples.

34. Select one of the options from your answer to Question 33 and explain the requirements which apply to that choice.

No model answer.

35. Describe the contents of a Media Plan.

- The names and details of every media organisation to be used
- Names of key personnel in each organisation
- How and when each organisation is to be used
- Costs predicted in using each option as intended
- Requirements each organisation has in relation to their needs so as to optimise the likelihood program material will be used in the media.

36. Describe three important considerations regarding the timing of the release of information to the media.

In general it should:

- Precede some activities
- Not clash with any significant other local events
- Follow meetings or promotional activities and/or events.

37. What are 'media kits' and what are they used for?

- Media kits are packages developed and distributed to selected media outlets
- They may also be available 'on request'
- In the same way 'media releases' are sometimes known as 'press releases', 'media kits' are sometimes called 'press kits'
- They are used:
 - To announce a meeting or initiative
 - As support material for handout at a media event, interview or photo opportunity
 - To provide the media with information about a particular issue of interest or concern to the media
 - In order to redress negative media sentiment towards a project by putting forward positive news which may balance public views
 - To communicate in general with all the public audiences of a program/initiative.

38. Explain the concept of a 'media events' and give four examples.

- 'Media events' are planned and staged events designed to attract publicity for the program
- The central aim is the event has to be of such interest it will attract attention/coverage by the media
- Media events may be/include:
 - Appearances by sports stars and celebrities
 - Music events/bands
 - An official opening
 - A big meal
 - Speeches
 - Demonstrations and tours
 - Press conferences and interviews
 - A public happening with participation by people in games, activities or events.

39. Give four reasons why personal appearances are important to the promotion of host community awareness programs.

- Give a face to the proposal – instead of the initiative just having a name or title
- Show the human element of the initiative – the personal appearance/s 'personalises' and 'humanises' the proposal
- Allow the public and the various audiences to have someone to talk to and relate to – as opposed to having to try to relate to an organisation or a faceless entity
- Demonstrate interest, involvement and commitment to the program – by virtue of the individual taking the time to appear/attend
- Provide an opportunity for the person/s making the appearance to disseminate information about the program – and supplement the basic information with additional facts, explanations and illustrations
- Give the person/s a chance to address issues – and respond to concerns and questions relating to the community and the program
- Present a valuable opportunity to meet and connect with supporters of the initiative – and establish and start growing the necessary rapport for the program.

40. List eight factors you would take into account when selecting ‘the right person’ to make a personal appearance to promote a host community awareness program.

- Have full and total knowledge of all aspects of the program
- Be a key stakeholder in the proposal – rather than ‘the face’ for the program
- Be authorised/capable of speaking on behalf of the proponent
- Have a certain degree of authority to make decisions/promises which are binding on the proponent
- Be presentable and look ‘appropriate’
- Have excellent communication and interpersonal skills
- Be personable – for all intents and purposes they are the program
- Have a reputation and background free from blemishes
- Be available when required
- Be able to speak the language and understand the culture of the community they are in
- Have media experience
- Have credibility in the eyes of the people they will be engaging with
- Be tolerant.

41. Identify four tips to help make effective and credible personal appearances when presenting a host community awareness program.

- Make sure the total program is fully understood
- Trial the personal appearances
- Learn the appearance calendar
- Arrive at the venue early
- Engage the audience
- Follow-up.

42. Give three reasons it is always necessary to listen to those who raise questions and issues about a host community awareness program.

- It is always possible those who ask questions and/or raise issues about a host community awareness program:
 - Have a valid point to make
 - Know something which is important to the program but which has not yet been identified and/or factored in to the initiative
 - Can contribute something which will enhance the potential of the program and make it an even more effective and successful venture.

43. Name six keys in responding to questions and issues raised about a host community awareness program.

- Thanking people
- Demonstrating sincerity and honesty
- Addressing every issue
- Dealing with matters promptly
- Pre-preparing approved responses to questions which are predicted
- Practicing responses to nominated questions and concerns
- Making public statements as opposed to making promises ‘behind closed doors’
- Providing extra detail where necessary
- Admitting and acknowledging circumstances and issues where:
 - The community or speakers have legitimate concerns
 - Emerging situations do not align with predictions and stated positions
- Taking action in response to emerging issues and legitimate questions raised
- Supporting public statements made
- Re-presenting plans and the project
- Considering development of a Reference Group comprised of those who have issues/concerns.

44. Identify four generic needs to monitor implementation of a host community awareness program.

The exact need for monitoring will often depend on:

- The individual host community awareness program implemented
- The contents of the Monitoring Program
- The people from the local community who will be impacted and involved
- The areas the initiatives are expected to affect.

45. Give six possible activities involved in monitoring/collecting data with reference to the implementation of a host community awareness program.

- Collecting information on the identified indicators
- Observing people and activities
- Taking photographs and other recording
- Talking to those involved – host community members and visitors
- Recording statistical data and subjective information on pro forma sheets
- Encouraging local input and feedback
- Producing and distributing feedback forms
- Holding feedback/de-briefing sessions.

46. List six important considerations inherent in recording information generated as a result of monitoring activities into the implementation of host community awareness program.

- Noting names and contact details of those who provide data
- Keeping a list of the type of data provided by individual researchers
- Ensuring suitable security provisions and protocols exist
- Establishing suitable, standard and acceptable data management practices
- Entering data promptly
- Entering information into/against the correct indicator
- Ensuring all data/information captured is recorded
- Checking data is valid
- Following up ambiguous raw information
- Converting raw data into agreed descriptors
- Maintaining the confidentiality of the data
- Retaining original paper-based documents
- Determining if sufficient information has been captured
- Taking action to obtain additional information where necessary
- Recording other relevant issues which emerge as a result of the program but which were not noted initially as topics for the research
- Initiating new topics/indicators for research data which is collected.

47. Describe six activities possible involved in investigating data captured as a result of monitoring activities into the implementation of host community awareness program.

- Manipulating the data
- Gathering extra information where needed
- Speaking to researchers to obtain context and/or more detail
- Undertaking re-visitations to communities/individuals
- Being alert to the potential for conflicts of interest
- Using nominated data analysis tools
- Subjecting data to required levels of analysis
- Using nominated software for data analysis
- Producing valid and reliable results.

48. Provide six keys when communicating the results/findings of a host community awareness program.

- Be totally honest
- Refer to supporting material/s
- Explain outcomes and results
- Use graphics, charts, tables and/or symbols to help illustrate results
- Ensure the information to be released has been viewed by the principals of the program
- Use the identified and agreed channels of communication to communicate with the various audiences for the program
- Communicate in a timely manner
- Release the conclusions, findings/outcomes and recommendations to stakeholders first
- Be available to respond to queries about the findings/outcomes as required.

49. Give six reasons it is important to revise and adjust existing host community awareness programs based on research findings.

It is important to revise and adjust existing programs to:

- Factor in new and emerging information and input
- Maintain credibility with the local community
- Keep promises made
- Abide by requirements of various Codes and legislation
- Exploit positive results
- Minimise adverse impacts
- Demonstrate responsible project management
- Prove ongoing engagement with the local community and the program.

50. List six possible options for action in response to monitoring data which show positive findings for a host community awareness program.

Actions may include:

- Reviewing and revising plans – to:
 - Create enhanced objectives supported by what the data says
 - Expand goals
 - Increase participants
 - Extend timelines and the timeframe for the project
- Endorsing the existing plans – with a view to reproducing the previous results during the next monitoring/research cycle: this is acceptable where everyone is happy with things ‘as they are’ and do not want extra growth, visitor numbers, jobs or other positive indicators
- Producing revised/enhanced targets for outcomes – seeking to increase results for the next/designated time period
- Continuing support for initiatives /elements which have generated these results – in terms of:
 - Funding
 - Moral support
 - Other resources
 - Stakeholder engagement – including possible search for additional stakeholders
- Transferring lessons learned – as a result of these initiatives to:
 - Other elements of the program
 - Other programs, proposals or initiatives
- Promoting success – by:
 - Celebrating with the local community
 - Making sure the media knows about it
- Congratulating necessary participants – such as:
 - Relevant persons, groups or supporters
 - Businesses
 - Government and community organisations
- Developing associated programs – which:
 - Expand the focus of the initial program
 - Extend the scope of the initial program
 - Involve more people and/or communities
- Addressing compensation arrangements – to:
 - Check whether previous payments remain acceptable
 - Negotiate acceptable compensation.

51. List six possible options for action in response to monitoring data which show negative findings for a host community awareness program.

Actions may include:

- Holding a formal enquiry into the outcomes – which should:
 - Involve the local community and stakeholders
 - Check/confirm/verify the conclusions
 - Evaluate/interrogate the analysis which produced the negative outcome
- Conducting additional or different research – to:
 - Identify if results/outcomes are different
 - Determine if monitoring techniques/data collection is reason for outcomes
- Undertaking different data analysis techniques – to:
 - See if the outcomes differ
 - See if previous results are confirmed
- Reviewing and revising plans – to:
 - Alter allocation of responsibilities of key persons especially where it is believed there is a demonstrable need to do so
 - Amend/reduce targets
 - Increase funding/resources – to help achieve initial targets
 - Reduce funding/resources – to reflect the reduced outcomes
 - Provide more time for objectives to be achieved
 - Include/upgrade risk management protocols relating to the program
- Providing more training to participants – which may involve:
 - Supplying formal training – addressing (as required/requested) training in Attitudes, Skills and/or Knowledge
 - Conducting tours for local community persons to other communities where successful tourism programs are being implemented so they can talk to these people, observe their actions and learn from them
- Conducting more or different advertising
- Apologising and explaining the outcomes
- Accepting the outcomes and being satisfied with the less-than-expected results
- Withdrawing from the program – and:
 - Considering an alternative program
 - Waiting for a later/different time to re-introduce the previous program
 - Deciding to walk away from further engagement.
