Competency Based Assessment (CBA) – An Introduction for Assessors

Assessment is the process of identifying a participant's current knowledge, skills and attitudes sets against all elements of competency within a unit of competency.

Suggested Assessment Methods

For each unit of competency a number of assessment tools have been identified including:

- Work Projects
- Oral Questions
- Written Questions
- Third Party Statements
- Observation Checklists.

Instructions and Evidence Recording Sheets have been identified in this Assessment Manual for use by Assessors.

Alternative Assessment Methods

Whilst the above mentioned assessment methods are suggested assessment methods, the assessor may use an alternate method of assessment taking into account:

- a) The nature of the unit
- b) The strengths of participants
- c) The number of participants in the class
- d) Time required to complete assessments
- e) Time dedicated to assessment
- f) Equipment and resources required.

Alternate assessment methods include:

- Practical demonstrations
- Practical demonstrations in simulated work conditions
- Problem solving
- Portfolios of evidence
- Critical incident reports
- Journals
- Oral presentations
- Interviews
- Videos
- Visuals/slides/audiotapes

- Case studies
- Log books
- Projects and Role plays
- Group projects
- Recognition of Prior Learning.

Whilst there is no specific instruction or evidence collection documents for all the alternative assessment methods, assessors can record competency in the 'Other' section within the 'Competency Recording Sheet'.

Selection of Assessment Methods

Each assessor will determine the combination of Assessment Methods to be used to determine Competency for each Competency Unit on a student by student basis.

'Sufficient' evidence to support the 'Pass Competent'/'Not Yet Competent' decision must be captured.

In practice this means a minimum of 2 – 3 Assessment Methods for each candidate for each Competency Element is suggested.

At least one method should provide evidence of practical demonstration of competence.

The following assessment methods deemed to provide evidence of practical demonstration of competence include:

- Practical Work Projects
- Third Party Statement
- Observation Checklist.

Assessing Competency

Competency based assessment does not award grades, but simply identifies if the participant has the knowledge, skills and attitudes to undertake the required task to the specified standard.

Therefore, when assessing competency, an assessor has two possible results that can be awarded:

- 'Pass Competent' (PC)
- 'Not Yet Competent' (NYC).

Pass Competent (PC)

If the participant is able to successfully answer or demonstrate what is required, to the expected standards of the performance criteria, they will be deemed as 'Pass Competent' (PC).

The assessor will award a 'Pass Competent'(PC) if they feel the participant has the necessary knowledge, skills and attitudes in all assessment tasks for a unit.

Not Yet Competent' (NYC)

If the participant is unable to answer or demonstrate competency to the desired standard, they will be deemed to be 'Not Yet Competent' (NYC).

This does not mean the participant will need to complete all the assessment tasks again. The focus will be on the specific assessment tasks that were not performed to the expected standards.

The participant may be required to:

- a) Undertake further training or instruction
- b) Undertake the assessment task again until they are deemed to be 'Pass Competent'.

Regional Qualifications Framework and Skills Recognition System

The 'Regional Qualifications Framework and Skills Recognition System', also known as the 'RQFSRS' is the overriding educational framework for the ASEAN region.

The purpose of this framework is to provide:

- A standardised teaching and assessment framework
- Mutual recognition of participant achievement across the ASEAN region. This includes achievement in individual Units of Competency or qualifications as a whole.

The role of the 'RQFSRS' is to provide, ensure and maintain 'quality assurance' across all countries and educational providers across the ASEAN region.

Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL)

Recognition of Prior Learning is the process that gives current industry professionals who do not have a formal qualification, the opportunity to benchmark their extensive skills and experience against the standards set out in each unit of competency/subject.

This process is a learning and assessment pathway which encompasses:

- Recognition of Current Competencies (RCC)
- Skills auditing
- Gap analysis and training
- Credit transfer.

Code of Practice for Assessors

This Code of Practice provides:

- Assessors with direction on the standard of practice expected of them
- Candidates with assurance of the standards of practice expected of assessors
- Employers with assurance of the standards maintained in the conduct of assessment.

The Code detailed below is based on the International Code of Ethics and Practice (The National Council for Measurement in Education [NCME]):

- The differing needs and requirements of the person being assessed, the local enterprise and/or industry are identified and handled with sensitivity
- Potential forms of conflict of interest in the assessment process and/or outcomes are identified and appropriate referrals are made, if necessary
- All forms of harassment are avoided throughout the planning, conducting, reviewing and reporting of the assessment outcomes

- The rights of the candidate are protected during and after the assessment
- Personal and interpersonal factors that are not relevant to the assessment of competency must not influence the assessment outcomes
- The candidate is made aware of rights and process of appeal
- Evidence that is gathered during the assessment is verified for validity, reliability, authenticity, sufficiency and currency
- Assessment decisions are based on available evidence that can be produced and verified by another assessor
- Assessments are conducted within the boundaries of the assessment system policies and procedures
- Formal agreement is obtained from both the candidate and the assessor that the assessment was carried out in accordance with agreed procedures
- The candidate is informed of all assessment reporting processes prior to the assessment
- The candidate is informed of all known potential consequences of decisions arising from an assessment, prior to the assessment
- Confidentiality is maintained regarding assessment results
- The assessment results are used consistently with the purposes explained to the candidate
- Opportunities are created for technical assistance in planning, conducting and reviewing assessment procedures and outcomes.

Instructions and Checklist for Assessors

Instructions

General instructions for the assessment:

- Assessment should be conducted at a scheduled time that has been notified to the candidate
- Facilitators must ensure participants are made aware of the need to complete assessments and attend assessment sessions
- If a participant is unable to attend a scheduled session, they must make arrangements with the Assessor to undertake the assessment at an alternative time
- At the end of the assessment the Assessor must give feedback and advise the participant on their PC/NYC status
- Complete the relevant documentation and submit to the appropriate department.

Preparation

- Gain familiarity with the Unit of Competency, Elements of Competency and the Performance Criteria expected
- Study details assessment documentation and requirements
- Brief candidate regarding all assessment criteria and requirements.

Briefing Checklist

- Begin the assessment by implementing the following checklist and then invite the candidate to proceed with assessment.

Checklist for Assessors

Prior to the assessment I have:	Tick (✓)	Remarks
Ensured the candidate is informed about the venue and schedule of assessment.
Received current copies of the performance criteria to be assessed, assessment plan, evidence gathering plan, assessment checklist, appeal form and the company's standard operating procedures (SOP).
Reviewed the performance criteria and evidence plan to ensure I clearly understood the instructions and the requirements of the assessment process.
Identified and accommodated any special needs of the candidate.
Checked the set-up and resources for the assessment.
During the assessment I have:
Introduced myself and confirmed identities of candidates.
Put candidates at ease by being friendly and helpful.
Explained to candidates the purpose, context and benefits of the assessment.
Ensured candidates understood the assessment process and all attendant procedures.
Provided candidates with an overview of performance criteria to be assessed.
Explained the results reporting procedure.
Encouraged candidates to seek clarifications if in doubt.
Asked candidates for feedback on the assessment.
Explained legal, safety and ethical issues, if applicable.
After the assessment I have:
Ensured candidate is given constructive feedback.
Completed and signed the assessment record.
Thanked candidate for participating in the assessment.

Instructions for Recording Competency

Specifications for Recording Competency

The following specifications apply to the preparation of Evidence Gathering Plans:

- A Competency Recording Sheet must be prepared for each candidate to ensure and demonstrate all Performance Criteria and Competency Elements are appropriately assessed. This Sheet indicates how the Assessor will gather evidence during their assessment of each candidate
- This Competency Recording Sheet is located at the end of the Assessment Plan
- It is the overriding document to record competency
- The Assessor may vary the Competency Recording Sheet to accommodate practical and individual candidate and/or workplace needs
- Assessor must place a tick (✓) in the 'Assessment Method' columns to identify the methods of assessment to be used for each candidate
- Multiple Competency Elements/Performance Criteria may be assessed at the one time, where appropriate
- The assessor and participant should sign and date the Competency Recording Sheet, when all forms of evidence and assessment have been completed
- The assessor may provide and feedback or clarify questions which the participant may have in regards to the assessment grade or findings
- All documents used to capture evidence must be retained, and attached to the Competency Recording Sheet for each candidate for each Competency Unit.

Instructions for Different Assessment Methods

Specifications for Work Project Assessment

These guidelines concern the use of work projects.

The work projects identified in the Training Manuals involve a range of tasks, to be performed at the discretion of the Assessor.

Work project tasks can be completed through any form of assessment as identified in the Trainer and Trainee Manuals and stated at the start of this section.

Assessors should follow these guidelines:

- Review the Work Projects at the end of each 'Element of Competency' in the Trainee Manual to ensure you understand the content and what is expected
- Prepare sufficient resources for the completion of work activities including:
 - Time – whether in scheduled delivery hours or suggested time participants to spend outside of class hours
 - Resources – this may involve technical equipment, computer, internet access, stationery and other supplementary materials and documents
- Prepare assessment location (if done in class) making it conducive to assessment
- Explain Work Projects assessment to candidate, at the start of each Element of Competency. This ensures that participants are aware of what is expected and can collate information as delivery takes place

- Assessors can use the following phrase as a guide (where an 'X' is identified, please input appropriate information):
 "At the end of each Element of Competency there are Work Projects which must be completed. These projects require different tasks that must be completed.
 These work projects are part of the formal assessment for the unit of competency titled X:
- You are required to complete these activities:
 - Using the 'X' method of assessment*
 - At 'X' location*
 - You will have 'X time period' for this assessment*
 - You are required to compile information in a format that you feel is appropriate to the assessment
 - Do you have any questions about this assessment?"
- Commence Work Project assessment:
 - The assessor may give time for participants to review the questions at this time to ensure they understand the nature of the questions. The assessor may need to clarify questions
 - Participants complete work projects in the most appropriate format
 - Participants must submit Work Project evidence to the assessor before the scheduled due date
- Assessor must assess the participant's evidence against the competency standards specified in each Element of Competency and their own understanding. The assessor can determine if the participant has provided evidence to a 'competent' standard
- Transcribe results/details to Competency Recording Sheet
- Forward/file assessment record.

Specifications for Oral Question Assessment

These guidelines concern the use of oral questioning.

Assessors should follow these guidelines.

- Prepare Assessment Record for Oral Questioning. One record for each candidate:
 - Enter Student name
 - Enter Assessor name
 - Enter Location
- Familiarise self with Questions to be asked
- Prepare assessment location (table and chairs) making it conducive to assessment
- Explain Oral Questioning assessment to candidate, using the following phrase as a guide (where a 'X' is identified, please input appropriate information):
"These oral questions are part of the formal assessment for the unit of competency titled X.

There are X questions and you are required to answer all of them to the best of your ability and I will record whether or not you have answered correctly.

We have 60 minutes for this assessment.

- I will give you feedback at the end of the assessment
- Do you have any questions about this assessment?”
- Commence Oral Questioning assessment:
 - Complete Assessment Record for the Oral Questioning by:
 - a) Ticking PC or NYC, as appropriate
 - b) Entering ‘Remarks’ as required
 - c) Completing Oral Questioning within 60 minutes
- Complete Oral Questioning and provide feedback to candidate
- Transcribe results/details to Competency Recording Sheet
- Forward/file assessment record.

Specifications for Written Question Assessment

These guidelines concern the use of written questioning.

Assessors should follow these guidelines:

- Familiarise self with Questions and Answers provided
- Print and distribute copies of ‘Written Questions’ for participants. Ideally this should take place with adequate time for participants to answer all questions before the expected due date
- Explain Written Questioning assessment to candidate, using the following phrase as a guide (where a ‘X’ is identified, please input appropriate information):

“These written questions are part of the formal assessment for the unit of competency titled X.

There are X questions and you are required to answer all of them to the best of your ability.

You may refer to your subject materials, however where possible try to utilise your existing knowledge when answering questions.

Where you are unsure of questions, please ask the Assessor for further instruction. This may be answering the question orally or asking the assessor to redefine the question.

We have X time for this assessment:

- The due date for completion of this assessment is X
- On this date you must forward the completed questions to the assessor by X time on the date of X
- Do you have any questions about this assessment?”
- The assessor may give time for participants to review the questions at this time to ensure they understand the nature of the questions. The assessor may need to clarify questions
- Participants may record written answers (where possible)
- Participants must submit the written answers to the assessor before the scheduled due date

- Assessor must assess the participant's written answers against the model answers provided as a guide, or their own understanding. The assessor can determine if the participant has answered the questions to a 'competent' standard
- Transcribe results/details to Competency Recording Sheet
- Forward/file assessment record.

Specifications for Observation Checklist

These specifications apply to the use of the Observation Checklist in determining competency for candidates.

Only an approved assessor is authorised to complete the Observation Checklist.

The assessor is required to observe the participant, ideally in a simulated environment or their practical workplace setting and record their performance (or otherwise) of the competencies listed on the Observation Checklist for the Competency Unit.

To complete the Observation Checklist the Assessor must:

- Insert name of candidate
- Insert assessor name
- Insert identify of location where observations are being undertaken
- Insert date/s of observations – may be single date or multiple dates
- Place a tick in either the 'Yes' or 'No' box for each listed Performance Criteria to indicate the candidate has demonstrated/not demonstrated that skill
- Provide written (and verbal) feedback to candidate – as/if appropriate
- Sign and date the form
- Present form to candidate for them to sign and date
- Transcribe results/details to Competency Recording Sheet for candidate
- Forward/file Observation Checklist.

This source of evidence combines with other forms of assessment to assist in determining the 'Pass Competent' or 'Not Yet Competent' decision for the participant.

Specifications for Third Party Statement

These specifications relate to the use of a relevant workplace person to assist in determining competency for candidates.

The Third Party Statement is to be supplied by the assessor to a person in the workplace who supervises and/or works closely with the participant.

This may be their Supervisor, the venue manager, the Department Manager or similar.

The Third Party Statement asks the Supervisor to record what they believe to be the competencies of the participant based on their workplace experience of the participant. This experience may be gained through observation of their workplace performance, feedback from others, inspection of candidate's work etc.

A meeting must take place between the Assessor and the Third Party to explain and demonstrate the use of the Third Party Statement.

To complete the Third Party Verification Statement the Assessor must:

- Insert candidate name
- Insert name and contact details of the Third Party
- Tick the box to indicate the relationship of the Third Party to the candidate
- Present the partially completed form to the Third Party for them to finalise
- Collect the completed form from the Third Party
- Transcribe results/details to Competency Recording Sheet for candidate
- Forward/file Third Party Statement.

The Third Party must:

- Record their belief regarding candidate ability/competency as either:
 - Pass Competent = Yes
 - Not Yet Competent = No
 - Unsure about whether candidate is competent or not = Not Sure
- Meet briefly with the assessor to discuss and/or clarify the form.

This source of evidence combines with other forms of assessment to assist in determining the 'Pass Competent' or 'Not Yet Competent' decision for the candidate.

A separate Third Party Statement is required for each Competency Unit undertaken by the candidate.

UNIT TITLE: IMPLEMENT, MONITOR AND EVALUATE A TRAINING AND DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM		NOMINAL HOURS: 100
UNIT NUMBER: D1.HRD.CL9.03 D1.HRR.CL8.02 D2.TRD.CL8.08
UNIT DESCRIPTOR: This unit deals with skills and knowledge required to implement, monitor and evaluate a training and development program within a workplace context; it does not address the development of a training and development program.
ELEMENTS AND PERFORMANCE CRITERIA		UNIT VARIABLE AND ASSESSMENT GUIDE
Element 1: Implement a workplace training and development program 1.1 Identify activities contained in the established plans for the workplace training and development program 1.2 Prioritise activities contained in the workplace training and development program 1.3 Identify resources required to support the implementation of a workplace training and development program 1.4 Allocate roles and responsibilities to achieve the identified outcomes of the established workplace training and development program 1.5 Inform relevant personnel of their roles and responsibilities		Unit Variables The Unit Variables provide advice to interpret the scope and context of this unit of competence, allowing for differences between enterprises and workplaces. It relates to the unit as a whole and facilitates holistic assessment. This unit applies to all industry sectors that use training and development programs to enhance and maintain staff competency levels within the labour divisions of the hotel and travel industries and may include: 1. Front Office 2. Housekeeping 3. Food and Beverage Service 4. Food Production 5. Travel Agencies 6. Tour Operation Activities may include: Formal and informal training sessions including self-paced learning, on-the-job, blended learning, e-learning

1.6 Train staff as required to enable implementation of the workplace training and development program 1.7 Implement the workplace training and development program in accordance with established plans Element 2: Monitor a workplace training and development program 2.1 Track implementation and progress of the workplace training and development program 2.2 Record monitoring activities for the workplace training and development program 2.3 Identify variations from the established workplace training and development program plan 2.4 Investigate identified variations 2.5 Take remedial action to address identified variations Element 3: Evaluate a workplace training and development program 3.1 Review the implementation of the identified workplace training and development program	• Practice and drill sessions • Internal and/or external training provision • Mentoring • Coaching • Use of field trips, guest speakers, experiential learning • Involvement of other organisations • Role swapping including opportunities to act in higher positions, job exchange and secondments • Attendance of participants at meetings, seminars, conferences and workshops. Established plans refer to the plans developed by the organisation to guide the implementation of training and development programs and may include: • Identification of generic and/or individual staff needs • Timelines for implementation • Resources available to support implementation • Roles and responsibilities • Milestones for the program(s) • Targets, goals, expected outcomes and key performance indicators (KPIs) for the program(s) • Review dates • Recording and evaluation processes • Relevant scopes of authority.

3.2 Compare results of workplace training and development program against established targets 3.3 Solicit feedback from participants in the workplace training and development program 3.4 Produce an evaluation report on the workplace training and development program 3.5 Distribute the evaluation report 3.6 File the evaluation report 3.7 Initiate approved changes to the workplace training and development program as a result of the evaluation process	Prioritise activities may include: • Identifying immediate need including requirements of the plans, safety, service requirements, risk, upcoming identified staff shortages • Assessing the need for legal and other compliance requirements • Evaluating time-related considerations • Identifying associated costs • Determining resource availability • Determining operational restrictions such as back-filling, levels of business demand, legal imperatives regarding licensing/certificates, organisational policies and procedures relating to service delivery to internal and external customers. Resources should include: • Physical resources • Human resources • Financial resources • Time-related resources. Roles and responsibilities may include: • Development of program content • Development of supporting training materials and resources • Research into training and development opportunities • Clarification of individual and group needs • Acquisition of commercially available training materials and resources • Identification of locations/venues to be used

	• Identification of relevant staff to implement the program • Development of support structure for participants to underpin program implementation. Relevant personnel may include: • Trainers and assessors • Participants in the program • Training coordinators • Supervisors • Senior operational staff • Subject and technical experts. Train staff may include: • Informing staff in relation to internal protocols regarding the training and development program, including obligations, responsibilities, funding, documentation, record keeping • Providing specialist operational training where required • Providing train-the-trainer courses for trainers, mentors, coaches. Implement the workplace training and development program should include: • Following the guidelines presented in the relevant plans • Adjusting immediate implementation on the basis of unanticipated issues arising • Responding to individual needs of the participants and catering for individual differences to the best extent possible • Avoiding making unauthorised decisions that conflict with directives contained in the approved and established plans.

	Track implementation and progress may include: • Ensuring required and identified records are being maintained and updated as required • Observing expenses associated with program implementation • Liaising with participants • Making personal observations • Liaising with individuals who are impacted by the program including internal staff, suppliers and customers, as appropriate • Comparing actual achievements against projections. Record monitoring activities may include: • Recording statistical information including time involved/taken, expenses, numbers of staff involved, wastage and usage factors • Recording qualitative information including reference to service standards, satisfaction levels, value issues • Using paper-based and/or electronic records • Making records available to relevant others within the organisation. Identify variations should include: • Noting significant positive and/or negatives actual results when compared to initially generated targets, goals, expected outcomes and key performance indicators (KPIs).
--	--

	Investigate identified variations may include: • Undertaking activities designed to identify the root cause(s) of significant positive or negative variations from the established/projected targets, goals, expected outcomes and key performance indicators (KPIs) • Analysing implementation activities • Investigating individuals involved in the program including trainers and participants • Investigating the venue and support materials and resources being used in implementation • Interviewing participants • Identifying any changes that have occurred within the operational context of the host enterprise • Verifying results of monitoring activities to ensure that identified outcomes reflect reality. Remedial action may include: • Revising the established plans in the widest context • Adding and/or amending resource provision including physical and time-related resources • Removing, replacing or amending the structure and composition of groups involved in training and development programs • Changing the focus of the program on the basis of information discovered • Involving key stakeholders in the process • Cancelling or postponing the program.

	Review the implementation may include: • Interviewing participants • Reflecting on problems encountered • Considering the existing/revised environment within which the training and development program is operating to identify changes that need to be accommodated into the future • Gathering all relevant data and information that has been captured/recorded during program implementation • Identifying the business and strategic plans of the organisation. Compare results of workplace training and development program against established targets may include: • Matching actual outcomes against expected outcomes • Identifying points of significant variation • Factoring in the intangible factors that impact on overall results of the program • Noting extraordinary factors that impacted on program implementation including identification of the effects produced as a result • Calculating effectiveness of resources expended against outcomes achieved independently of projected targets/requirements. Solicit feedback may include: • Conducting review and feedback sessions • Providing evaluation and feedback forms • Facilitating electronic feedback • Asking for feedback in an active manner • Ensuring 360 degree feedback is received, as appropriate.

	Evaluation report may include: • Précis of initial training and development program, including expected outcomes • Resources used • Individuals involved • Problems and issues encountered • Actual outcomes achieved • Identified issues and training and development pending • Recommendations for change and future action related to training and development programs. Distribute the evaluation report may include: • Electronic and/or paper-based distribution • Explaining the report • Providing specific examples of issues and problems • Interpreting data contained in the report • Encouraging questions • Facilitating discussion and debate • Seeking approval and authorisations for recommendations contained in the report. Assessment Guide The following skills and knowledge must be assessed as part of this unit: • Knowledge of enterprise policies and procedures in regard to training and development • Knowledge of training and development programs and plans that exist within the organisation • Knowledge of training and development needs for the organisation
--	--

- Knowledge of resources allocated to underpin the delivery of training and development programs
- Ability to apply principles of access and equity
- Ability to use management techniques relating to implementation, monitoring and evaluation of programs
- Knowledge of expertise and other resources available to assist in the implementation of training and development programs.

Linkages To Other Units

- Maintain a paper-based filing and retrieval system
- Manage and implement small projects
- Evaluate the effectiveness of an assessment system
- Manage an assessment system for training outcomes
- Monitor and evaluate the effectiveness of training outcomes
- Plan and implement a series of training events
- Prepare and deliver training sessions
- Analyse competency requirements
- Develop assessment tools and procedures
- Plan and promote training courses
- Review training outcomes
- Prepare and monitor budgets
- Design and establish a training system.

	Critical Aspects of Assessment Evidence of the following is essential: • Understanding of host enterprise policies and procedures in regard to training and development • Demonstrated ability to effectively implement a nominated workplace training and delivery program for a nominated industry context and group of participants that may include: ▪ Prioritising listed activities and explaining the rationale for such prioritisation ▪ Identifying human, physical and financial resources required for implementation ▪ Allocating necessary roles and responsibilities for implementation ▪ Describing how relevant personnel will be notified of their roles and responsibilities ▪ Identifying training that is required to be delivered to trainers and relevant others to enable effective program delivery • Demonstrated ability to monitor a nominated workplace training and development program identifying: ▪ Processes and procedures for tracking implementation and progress of the program ▪ Aspects of the program that will be monitored ▪ How monitoring data will be recorded ▪ Remedial action that may be taken in response to positive and negative results • Demonstrated ability to evaluate a nominated workplace training and development program refers to: ▪ Identifying participants who may be involved ▪ Identifying techniques to involve participants, capture and record feedback
--	---

- Producing a hard copy evaluation report to reflect findings, including recommendations for action
- Presenting a verbal explanation of the evaluation report.

Context of Assessment

This unit may be assessed on or off the job:

- Assessment should include practical demonstration either in the workplace or through a simulation activity, supported by a range of methods to assess underpinning knowledge
- Assessment must relate to the individual's work area or area of responsibility.

Resource Implications

Training and assessment to include access to a real or simulated workplace; and access to workplace standards, procedures, policies, guidelines, tools and equipment.

Assessment Methods

The following methods may be used to assess competency for this unit:

- Observation of practical candidate performance
- Analysis of portfolio of documentation including plans, feedback, monitoring activities, responses to issues, communications with personnel
- Case studies
- Project work
- Oral and written questions
- Third party reports completed by a supervisor
- Project and assignment work.

	Key Competencies in this Unit Level 1 = competence to undertake tasks effectively Level 2 = competence to manage tasks Level 3 = competence to use concepts for evaluating
	Key Competencies	Level	Examples
	Collecting, organising and analysing information	3	Evaluate the implementation and progress of the training and development program
	Communicating ideas and information	2	Share information regarding implementation of the training and development program with relevant personnel
	Planning and organising activities	2	Manage implementation, monitoring and evaluation activities
	Working with others and in teams	2	Arrange support for participants in a training and development program
	Using mathematical ideas and techniques	2	Manage budgets associated with implementation of training and development programs
	Solving problems	2	Amend established programs to address identified issues
	Using technology	2	Use software to track and record information related to training and development program implementation

Written questions

Implement, monitor and evaluate a training and development program –

D1.HRD.CL9.03

D1.HRR.CL8.02

D2.TRD.CL8.08

Student Name: _____

Answer all the following questions and submit to your Trainer.

1. Give four examples of factors which will influence activities shown on established training and development plans.

2. Identify and briefly describe six examples of training sessions which may be listed as training activities on established training and development plans.

3. Give three possible generic locations for providing 'internal training' in a workplace.

4. Name four ways 'external training provision' may be delivered as part of workplace training and development.

5. Briefly describe 'mentoring' as a T&D activity.

11. Give three possible examples of external funding to support the provision of a workplace T&D program.

12. Describe four considerations in relation to the provision of staffing for a workplace T&D program.

13. Describe four considerations in relation to the provision of physical resources for a workplace T&D program.

14. Give four possible examples of roles and responsibilities which might be inherent in achieving identified outcomes for a workplace T&D program.

15. Give examples of six classifications of internal personnel who may have roles and responsibilities allocated to them in a workplace training and development program.

16. Give examples of four classifications of external personnel who may have roles and responsibilities allocated to them in a workplace T&D program.

17. Identify three ways people with roles allocated to them in a workplace T&D program could be notified of their responsibilities.

18. Describe four topics/considerations that training of staff to enable implementation of the workplace training and development program may need to address.

19. When implementing a workplace T&D program identify six activities which may be involved in 'Following the guidelines presented in the relevant plans'.

20. When implementing a workplace T&D program identify three activities which may be involved in 'Recruiting participants'.

21. When implementing a workplace T&D program identify four activities which may be involved in 'Briefing and inducting participants'.

22. Give four reasons there is a need to monitor implementation and progress of all workplace training and development programs.

23. Name three ways to monitor the implementation and progress of workplace training and development programs.

24. List four reasons to record progress/implementation of workplace T&D programs.

25. Give four considerations when recording monitoring activities involved for a workplace training and development program.

26. Name three ways to identify variations from established plans in a workplace T&D program.

27. Provide two reasons why only 'significant' variations should be identified in relation to variations from established plans in a workplace T&D program.

28. Use examples to explain the difference between 'quantitative data' and 'qualitative data'.

29. When deciding what a 'significant' variation in relation to variations is from established plans in a workplace T&D program identify four factors which could/should be considered.

30. Give two reasons investigations into variations between outcomes of a T&D program need to be undertaken.

31. Describe four activities which may be required when investigating significant variations in a training and development program.

32. Give six examples of remedial action which may be taken to address identified variations in a workplace T&D program.

33. Name the three common timing options for reviews of workplace training and development.

34. What is meant by 360° feedback?

35. Identify six activities which are traditionally used as part of the review of workplace training and development programs.

36. Describe five techniques commonly applied when comparing actual results of workplace training and development program against established targets.

37. Give six keys relating to soliciting and obtaining feedback.

38. Provide four techniques which have proved effective in soliciting and obtaining feedback.

39. Describe four factors to bear in mind when preparing an evaluation report for a workplace training and development program.

40. Give six examples of content which should/could be included when writing an evaluation report for a workplace training and development program.

41. In relation to distributing what is a 'Distribution List'?

42. Give three examples of activities possibly involved in distributing an evaluation report for a workplace T&D program.

43. Name four considerations which may be involved in filing for an evaluation report.

44. Give four keys in the process of initiating changes to a workplace training and development program.

45. Describe six activities which may be required when initiating changes to a workplace training and development program.

Answers to written questions

Implement, monitor and evaluate a training and development program –

D1.HRD.CL9.03

D1.HRR.CL8.02

D2.TRD.CL8.08

The following are model answers only – Trainers/Assessors must use discretion when determining whether or not an answer provided by a Student is acceptable or not.

1. Give four examples of factors which will influence activities shown on established training and development plans.

- Identified needs of employees
- Goals, objectives and targets of the business
- Ability and capacity of the organisation to provide and/or resource possible options
- Preferred learning styles and individual learning needs of individuals
- Urgency of the training that needs to be provided.

2. Identify and briefly describe six examples of training sessions which may be listed as training activities on established training and development plans.

- Accredited training – meaning it is training recognised by a formal vocational system in the country that results in the awarding of a recognised qualification or Statement of Attainment.
- Non-accredited training – which refers to training not recognised by training authorities of the country system but it does not mean the training is (necessarily) any less valuable, effective or beneficial.
- Formal training – this is ‘intentional’ training.
- Informal training delivery – this is training that is unstructured and not systemised but is nonetheless intentional
- Self-paced learning – which is learning where the pace of the learning can be varied to suit the individual needs of the learner.
- On-the-job – which is subject to interpretation by individual organisations but may be seen as/involving:
- Blended learning – which features the use of more than one training approach to deliver the training
- E-learning – which can feature the use of:

3. Give three possible generic locations for providing 'internal training' in a workplace.

- In an actual work setting working with actual customers
- In a simulated setting within the business
- In a training room

4. Name four ways 'external training provision' may be delivered as part of workplace training and development.

- By a recognised training institute provider
- By an industry representative body
- By a government authority/agency that services the industry sector
- By another business that supports/provides service to the organisation

5. Briefly describe 'mentoring' as a T&D activity.

Involves a mentor (a willing, experienced and senior employee) providing a learning relationship with a willing and less experienced member of staff (the 'mentee').

6. Name six topics which can be listed in established workplace training and development plans.

- Targets, goals, and expected outcomes for the plans
- Identification of staff need
- Timelines for implementation
- Resources available
- Roles and responsibilities
- Milestones/KPIs
- Review dates
- Recording processes for the program
- Evaluation process.

7. Describe five considerations which need to be taken into account when prioritising activities listed on established workplace training and development plans.

- Identifying immediate need
- Assessing the need for legal and other compliance requirements
- Evaluating time-related considerations
- Identifying associated costs
- Determining physical resource need and availability
- Determining operational restrictions.

8. Give four examples of human resources who may be required to support implementation of a workplace T&D program.

- Trainers and assessors
- Workplace coaches and mentors
- Guest speakers
- External professionals/consultants who may be required to assist with training provision or assessment tasks
- Resource writers
- Administration support.

9. Identify six examples of training delivery equipment that may be required to support implementation of a workplace T&D program.

- Desks/tables and chairs
- Computers (personal computers and/or laptops) with software appropriate to the needs of the training
- Data projectors and laser pointers
- Overhead projector and screens (for projection of images)
- White boards (standard or electric)
- Printers
- Photocopier
- TV monitor with DVD player/video machine
- Easels for flip charts.

10. Identify six examples of training and assessment resources that may be required to support implementation of a workplace T&D program.

- Notes and handouts
- Texts, manuals and reference books
- Exercise books
- Rolls/attendance registers
- Consumables – such as paper, general stationery, chalk, whiteboard markers, disks
- Assessment items – tests, checklist, question sheets, exercise sheets, case studies, work projects.

11. Give three possible examples of external funding to support the provision of a workplace T&D program.

- Co-contributions from partners
- Donations from providers, suppliers, carriers or other industry bodies
- Grants and/or subsidies from external sources.

12. Describe four considerations in relation to the provision of staffing for a workplace T&D program.

- Specifying the experience and expertise required by those who will be trainers (and assessors)
- Working out the qualifications required by those who will be doing the training and development
- Determining the ratio of learners to trainers and candidates for assessment to assessors
- Identifying the length of training and development sessions
- Determining the amount of time (number of hours per week) trainers can spend actually delivering training and development activities
- Engaging suitable and sufficient trainers and personnel (for coaching and mentoring)
- Allowing sufficient lead time
- Ensuring appropriate administration support.

13. Describe four considerations in relation to the provision of physical resources for a workplace T&D program.

- These resources must be sufficient in number
- Resources used must reflect actual workplace practice
- All items must be safe to use
- Included in session plans
- Allocated to cater for special needs learners
- May be purchased or otherwise acquired.

14. Give four possible examples of roles and responsibilities which might be inherent in achieving identified outcomes for a workplace T&D program.

- Development of program content
- Development of supporting materials
- Research into training and development options
- Clarification of individual and group needs
- Identification of locations/venues to be used
- Identification of relevant staff to implement the program
- Development of support structure for participants to underpin program implementation.

15. Give examples of six classifications of internal personnel who may have roles and responsibilities allocated to them in a workplace training and development program.

- Trainers and assessors
- Coaches and mentors
- Support/administration staff
- Learners and candidates – including past, current and future people
- Those who prepare rosters – and:
 - Allocate time for staff to attend training and development activities
 - Roster staff to back-fill those who attend training and development activities
- Senior-level management of the organisation – possibly including the Board of Management and/or representatives (where applicable) from Head Office
- Co-workers and Supervisors of staff who have participated previously in training and development activities
- Internal customers of those who have participated in training and development activities
- Cleaners – who clean, ready and prepare training rooms/areas.

16. Give examples of four classifications of external personnel who may have roles and responsibilities allocated to them in a workplace T&D program.

- Consultants – who may employed to develop the program and activities, or to assist with determining actual workplace need
- Resource writers – to prepare learning materials and/or assessment items
- Officials – from the Training Authority, where the organisation:
 - Is a registered/recognised training provider and is going to deliver accredited training
 - Has received funds/grants/subsidies from the government
- Customers – who have been recipients of products and services provided by staff who have completed T&D activities
- Other businesses the organisation deals with – and who interact with employees who have completed training and development activities.

17. Identify three ways people with roles allocated to them in a workplace T&D program could be notified of their responsibilities.

- Distributing a hard or soft copy plan or list to individuals
- Verbally explaining requirements
- Providing internal training.

18. Describe four topics/considerations that training of staff to enable implementation of the workplace training and development program may need to address.

- Arranging for management to address these people
- Presenting and explaining operational protocols staff have to comply with
- Providing specialist operational training where required
- Providing personnel with opportunities to gain experience relevant to their roles.

19. When implementing a workplace T&D program identify six activities which may be involved in 'Following the guidelines presented in the relevant plans'.

- Taking action to achieve stated objectives, targets and outcomes – linking activities to higher-level plans of the organisation
- Adhering to starting dates, timelines and completion/finishing dates
- Implementing all actions listed in the plans – as developed during the planning stage and approved by management
- Conducting required meetings and information sessions with trainers, coaches and mentors
- Allocating identified resources and relevant permissions/scopes of authority to those who will be delivering activities
- Scheduling of T&D activities
- Communicating with other stakeholders
- Monitoring activities and responses to/effects of same
- Reviewing and evaluating individual activities and the overall program.

20. When implementing a workplace T&D program identify three activities which may be involved in 'Recruiting participants'.

- Identify and describe available options within the T&D program
- Explain the benefits of engaging with the activities/program
- Illustrate the support available from the organisation for participants
- Describe how the program/activities will be delivered or implemented

21. When implementing a workplace T&D program identify four activities which may be involved in 'Briefing and inducting participants'.

- Presenting rationale/s for individual activities
- Identifying when and where the activities will take place
- Identifying trainers and personnel who will be involved in delivery (and assessment)
- Explaining specific contents/objectives for individual activities the participants will be involved in
- Detailing how content/activities integrate with organisational objectives/plans.

22. Give four reasons there is a need to monitor implementation and progress of all workplace training and development programs.

- Ensure required and identified records have been established – and are being maintained, updated and forwarded/presented as required
- Observe expenses associated with program implementation – and ensure they stay within budget parameters
- Determine whether or not activities are being conducted as planned – and identify issues causing problems with implementation
- Identify the impact of the program – on compliance obligations, contractual arrangements, employees, customers and organisational goals and targets
- Action is taken to address identified instances where ‘actual’ outcomes are failing to achieve ‘projected’ results.

23. Name three ways to monitor the implementation and progress of workplace training and development programs.

- Liaising with participants (the learners and candidates as well as the trainers and the assessors)
- Making personal observations
- Creating a safe environment where participants are encouraged to contribute feedback
- Liaising with individuals who have/should have been impacted by the program
- Comparing actual achievements against projections.

24. List four reasons to record progress/implementation of workplace T&D programs.

- Capture evidence
- Determine effectiveness
- Identify variations from the approved plan for the program
- Identify if there is a need to take remedial action
- Help resource control and management
- Meet criteria/specifications imposed by internal organisational quality-related schemes
- Use this data as a basis for future decision-making.

25. Give four considerations when recording monitoring activities involved for a workplace training and development program.

- Prepare the databases, infrastructure and personnel for recording the information
- Record quantitative information
- Recording qualitative information
- Record all the data
- Use paper-based and/or electronic records
- Make records available to relevant others within the organisation.

26. Name three ways to identify variations from established plans in a workplace T&D program.

- Observing implementation of activities within the program
- Analysing the data which has been collected
- Speaking to relevant stakeholders
- Following-up with relevant people.

27. Provide two reasons why only 'significant' variations should be identified in relation to variations from established plans in a workplace T&D program.

- Not all variations will/can be investigated and followed up – there is not sufficient time or money to do so
- Significant positive variations in certain areas of the program have the potential to save the organisation time and money in other areas – because positive actions may be able to replicated in other areas
- Significant negative variations have the potential to hinder, damage or jeopardise efforts in other aspects of organisational training and development.

28. Use examples to explain the difference between 'quantitative data' and 'qualitative data'.

- Quantitative data – that is:
 - Numbers – monetary figures and/or amounts/totals
 - Percentages and ratios
- Qualitative data – in terms of:
 - People's thoughts and opinions
 - Results of customer surveys.

29. When deciding what a 'significant' variation in relation to variations is from established plans in a workplace T&D program identify four factors which could/should be considered.

- The size of the original target/expected outcome
- KPIs which were set for the target/outcome
- Effort which has been made
- Time
- Priorities and internal importance of topics.

30. Give two reasons investigations into variations between outcomes of a T&D program need to be undertaken.

- Identify the root cause(s)
- Demonstrate management commitment to the program.

31. Describe four activities which may be required when investigating significant variations in a training and development program.

- Feature a combination of approaches
- Involve a team
- Verify results of the monitoring activities which were undertaken
- Analyse implementation activities
- Investigate individuals involved in the program
- Investigate the physical aspects of the programs.

32. Give six examples of remedial action which may be taken to address identified variations in a workplace T&D program.

- Re-visiting the context for the development of the initial plans
- Revising the established plans
- Re-allocating resources
- Changing the learner cohort
- Revising the planned delivery schedule
- Taking necessary action
- Adding or removing content or activities in the program
- Involving key stakeholders in the process
- Taking drastic action.

33. Name the three common timing options for reviews of workplace training and development.

- At pre-determined times/dates throughout the program – as identified in the plans for the initiative
- At the conclusion of individual or nominated activities – it is rare for a review to occur of every activity as this would be too time-consuming and, arguably, of relatively little benefit
- At the conclusion of the program – always a standard requirement regardless of other reviews which may have taken place throughout the program.

34. What is meant by 360° feedback?

Feedback from everyone/all directions.

35. Identify six activities which are traditionally used as part of the review of workplace training and development programs.

- Interviewing participants
- Undertaking personal reflection
- Using the training and development team
- Looking at problems encountered
- Identifying positive outcomes from activities and the program
- Identifying topics for coverage in subsequent T&D programs
- Considering the existing/revised environment within which the training and development program is operating
- Gathering all relevant data and information that has been captured/recorded during program implementation
- Re-visiting the business and strategic plans of the organisation.

36. Describe five techniques commonly applied when comparing actual results of workplace training and development program against established targets.

- Using the targets set out in the approved plan as the basis for the comparison
- Identifying points of significant variation
- Factoring in the intangible factors that impacted on overall results of the program
- Noting extraordinary factors that impacted on program implementation
- Identifying the effects produced as a result of the extraordinary factors identified above
- Calculating effectiveness of resources expended against outcomes achieved
- Gaining management's opinion.

37. Give six keys relating to soliciting and obtaining feedback.

- It must be actively pursued
- It must be sought on an ongoing basis
- It must be recorded when it is obtained
- It should be SOP within the program
- It must be 360° feedback
- It must be undertaken within a safe environment
- The organisation/those conducting the T&D program must make it easy for people to contribute feedback
- The organisation must demonstrate it actually heeds the feedback received
- Some organisations only elicit feedback from employees after they have completed their training – believing some workers feel negative feedback may be held against them and jeopardise their results/chance of succeeding.

38. Provide four techniques which have proved effective in soliciting and obtaining feedback.

- Conducting 'review and feedback sessions' during paid work hours
- Holding focus group sessions with customers
- Providing standard 'hard copy' evaluation and feedback forms to participants on a regular basis
- Facilitating electronic feedback
- Encouraging people to provide feedback
- Using staged testing.

39. Describe four factors to bear in mind when preparing an evaluation report for a workplace training and development program.

- Prepared in a timely manner
- Produced by the team that planned the program
- Based on plans approved by management
- Prepared with the known/intended audiences in mind
- Feature actual evidence gained during the monitoring phase
- Restricted in its release and distribution
- Maintained/filed for future reference.

40. Give six examples of content which should/could be included when writing an evaluation report for a workplace training and development program.

- Basic details of the program
- Rationale for the program
- Précis of the approved/initial training and development program
- Resources for the program
- Individuals involved
- Problems encountered
- Actual outcomes achieved
- Identified issues
- Recommendations for change and future action.

41. In relation to distributing what is a 'Distribution List'?

Specifies people who are authorised to be issued with a copy of the report – only those on the list can get a copy

42. Give three examples of activities possibly involved in distributing an evaluation report for a workplace T&D program.

- The release of the report should be controlled
- It may be distributed using electronic and hard copy
- The report is discussed at a scheduled and formal session.

43. Name four considerations which may be involved in filing for an evaluation report.

- Store two formats of the report (electronic and hard copy)
- Restrict access to the file
- Observe standard file management protocols used by the business
- Apply required version control protocols
- Distribute copies of the report to identified files
- Provide secure-keeping of the report

44. Give four keys in the process of initiating changes to a workplace training and development program.

- Ensure changes made are supported by evidence
- Obtain management approval to make changes
- Link changes to identified need
- Prepare a written plan
- Communicate with stakeholders.

45. Describe six activities which may be required when initiating changes to a workplace training and development program.

- Cancelling future activities and/or a tentative training and development program
 - Adding, deleting or modifying content and/or training topics/courses
 - Changing delivery days and times and/or the duration of sessions
 - Reformulating the mix and/or varying the numbers of learners in a group
 - Amending the training resources and/or delivery strategies used
 - Shifting from on-site delivery to an external location
 - Moving from accredited training to non-accredited training or vice versa
 - Providing more or different support to trainers and/or to learners
 - Using different people to provide training, conduct assessments and/or function as coaches and mentors
 - Promoting in a different way to better motivate employee engagement
 - Implementing more effective methods to monitor implementation
 - Taking action to solicit and capture more/different feedback.
