Competency Based Assessment (CBA) – An Introduction for Assessors

Assessment is the process of identifying a participant's current knowledge, skills and attitudes sets against all elements of competency within a unit of competency.

Suggested Assessment Methods

For each unit of competency a number of assessment tools have been identified including:

- Work Projects
- Oral Questions
- Written Questions
- Third Party Statements
- Observation Checklists.

Instructions and Evidence Recording Sheets have been identified in this Assessment Manual for use by Assessors.

Alternative Assessment Methods

Whilst the above mentioned assessment methods are suggested assessment methods, the assessor may use an alternate method of assessment taking into account:

- a) The nature of the unit
- b) The strengths of participants
- c) The number of participants in the class
- d) Time required to complete assessments
- e) Time dedicated to assessment
- f) Equipment and resources required.

Alternate assessment methods include:

- Practical demonstrations
- Practical demonstrations in simulated work conditions
- Problem solving
- Portfolios of evidence
- Critical incident reports
- Journals
- Oral presentations
- Interviews
- Videos
- Visuals/slides/audiotapes

- Case studies
- Log books
- Projects and Role plays
- Group projects
- Recognition of Prior Learning.

Whilst there is no specific instruction or evidence collection documents for all the alternative assessment methods, assessors can record competency in the 'Other' section within the 'Competency Recording Sheet'.

Selection of Assessment Methods

Each assessor will determine the combination of Assessment Methods to be used to determine Competency for each Competency Unit on a student by student basis.

'Sufficient' evidence to support the 'Pass Competent'/'Not Yet Competent' decision must be captured.

In practice this means a minimum of 2 – 3 Assessment Methods for each candidate for each Competency Element is suggested.

At least one method should provide evidence of practical demonstration of competence.

The following assessment methods deemed to provide evidence of practical demonstration of competence include:

- Practical Work Projects
- Third Party Statement
- Observation Checklist.

Assessing Competency

Competency based assessment does not award grades, but simply identifies if the participant has the knowledge, skills and attitudes to undertake the required task to the specified standard.

Therefore, when assessing competency, an assessor has two possible results that can be awarded:

- 'Pass Competent' (PC)
- 'Not Yet Competent' (NYC).

Pass Competent (PC)

If the participant is able to successfully answer or demonstrate what is required, to the expected standards of the performance criteria, they will be deemed as 'Pass Competent' (PC).

The assessor will award a 'Pass Competent' (PC) if they feel the participant has the necessary knowledge, skills and attitudes in all assessment tasks for a unit.

Not Yet Competent' (NYC)

If the participant is unable to answer or demonstrate competency to the desired standard, they will be deemed to be 'Not Yet Competent' (NYC).

This does not mean the participant will need to complete all the assessment tasks again. The focus will be on the specific assessment tasks that were not performed to the expected standards.

The participant may be required to:

- a) Undertake further training or instruction
- b) Undertake the assessment task again until they are deemed to be 'Pass Competent'.

Regional Qualifications Framework and Skills Recognition System

The 'Regional Qualifications Framework and Skills Recognition System', also known as the 'RQFSRS' is the overriding educational framework for the ASEAN region.

The purpose of this framework is to provide:

- A standardised teaching and assessment framework
- Mutual recognition of participant achievement across the ASEAN region. This includes achievement in individual Units of Competency or qualifications as a whole.

The role of the 'RQFSRS' is to provide, ensure and maintain 'quality assurance' across all countries and educational providers across the ASEAN region.

Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL)

Recognition of Prior Learning is the process that gives current industry professionals who do not have a formal qualification, the opportunity to benchmark their extensive skills and experience against the standards set out in each unit of competency/subject.

This process is a learning and assessment pathway which encompasses:

- Recognition of Current Competencies (RCC)
- Skills auditing
- Gap analysis and training
- Credit transfer.

Code of Practice for Assessors

This Code of Practice provides:

- Assessors with direction on the standard of practice expected of them
- Candidates with assurance of the standards of practice expected of assessors
- Employers with assurance of the standards maintained in the conduct of assessment.

The Code detailed below is based on the International Code of Ethics and Practice (The National Council for Measurement in Education [NCME]):

- The differing needs and requirements of the person being assessed, the local enterprise and/or industry are identified and handled with sensitivity
- Potential forms of conflict of interest in the assessment process and/or outcomes are identified and appropriate referrals are made, if necessary
- All forms of harassment are avoided throughout the planning, conducting, reviewing and reporting of the assessment outcomes

- The rights of the candidate are protected during and after the assessment
- Personal and interpersonal factors that are not relevant to the assessment of competency must not influence the assessment outcomes
- The candidate is made aware of rights and process of appeal
- Evidence that is gathered during the assessment is verified for validity, reliability, authenticity, sufficiency and currency
- Assessment decisions are based on available evidence that can be produced and verified by another assessor
- Assessments are conducted within the boundaries of the assessment system policies and procedures
- Formal agreement is obtained from both the candidate and the assessor that the assessment was carried out in accordance with agreed procedures
- The candidate is informed of all assessment reporting processes prior to the assessment
- The candidate is informed of all known potential consequences of decisions arising from an assessment, prior to the assessment
- Confidentiality is maintained regarding assessment results
- The assessment results are used consistently with the purposes explained to the candidate
- Opportunities are created for technical assistance in planning, conducting and reviewing assessment procedures and outcomes.

Instructions and Checklist for Assessors

Instructions

General instructions for the assessment:

- Assessment should be conducted at a scheduled time that has been notified to the candidate
- Facilitators must ensure participants are made aware of the need to complete assessments and attend assessment sessions
- If a participant is unable to attend a scheduled session, they must make arrangements with the Assessor to undertake the assessment at an alternative time
- At the end of the assessment the Assessor must give feedback and advise the participant on their PC/NYC status
- Complete the relevant documentation and submit to the appropriate department.

Preparation

- Gain familiarity with the Unit of Competency, Elements of Competency and the Performance Criteria expected
- Study details assessment documentation and requirements
- Brief candidate regarding all assessment criteria and requirements.

Briefing Checklist

- Begin the assessment by implementing the following checklist and then invite the candidate to proceed with assessment.

Checklist for Assessors

Prior to the assessment I have:	Tick (✓)	Remarks
Ensured the candidate is informed about the venue and schedule of assessment.
Received current copies of the performance criteria to be assessed, assessment plan, evidence gathering plan, assessment checklist, appeal form and the company's standard operating procedures (SOP).
Reviewed the performance criteria and evidence plan to ensure I clearly understood the instructions and the requirements of the assessment process.
Identified and accommodated any special needs of the candidate.
Checked the set-up and resources for the assessment.
During the assessment I have:
Introduced myself and confirmed identities of candidates.
Put candidates at ease by being friendly and helpful.
Explained to candidates the purpose, context and benefits of the assessment.
Ensured candidates understood the assessment process and all attendant procedures.
Provided candidates with an overview of performance criteria to be assessed.
Explained the results reporting procedure.
Encouraged candidates to seek clarifications if in doubt.
Asked candidates for feedback on the assessment.
Explained legal, safety and ethical issues, if applicable.
After the assessment I have:
Ensured candidate is given constructive feedback.
Completed and signed the assessment record.
Thanked candidate for participating in the assessment.

Instructions for Recording Competency

Specifications for Recording Competency

The following specifications apply to the preparation of Evidence Gathering Plans:

- A Competency Recording Sheet must be prepared for each candidate to ensure and demonstrate all Performance Criteria and Competency Elements are appropriately assessed. This Sheet indicates how the Assessor will gather evidence during their assessment of each candidate
- This Competency Recording Sheet is located at the end of the Assessment Plan
- It is the overriding document to record competency
- The Assessor may vary the Competency Recording Sheet to accommodate practical and individual candidate and/or workplace needs
- Assessor must place a tick (✓) in the 'Assessment Method' columns to identify the methods of assessment to be used for each candidate
- Multiple Competency Elements/Performance Criteria may be assessed at the one time, where appropriate
- The assessor and participant should sign and date the Competency Recording Sheet, when all forms of evidence and assessment have been completed
- The assessor may provide and feedback or clarify questions which the participant may have in regards to the assessment grade or findings
- All documents used to capture evidence must be retained, and attached to the Competency Recording Sheet for each candidate for each Competency Unit.

Instructions for Different Assessment Methods

Specifications for Work Project Assessment

These guidelines concern the use of work projects.

The work projects identified in the Training Manuals involve a range of tasks, to be performed at the discretion of the Assessor.

Work project tasks can be completed through any form of assessment as identified in the Trainer and Trainee Manuals and stated at the start of this section.

Assessors should follow these guidelines:

- Review the Work Projects at the end of each 'Element of Competency' in the Trainee Manual to ensure you understand the content and what is expected
- Prepare sufficient resources for the completion of work activities including:
 - Time – whether in scheduled delivery hours or suggested time participants to spend outside of class hours
 - Resources – this may involve technical equipment, computer, internet access, stationery and other supplementary materials and documents
- Prepare assessment location (if done in class) making it conducive to assessment
- Explain Work Projects assessment to candidate, at the start of each Element of Competency. This ensures that participants are aware of what is expected and can collate information as delivery takes place

- Assessors can use the following phrase as a guide (where an 'X' is identified, please input appropriate information):
 "At the end of each Element of Competency there are Work Projects which must be completed. These projects require different tasks that must be completed.
 These work projects are part of the formal assessment for the unit of competency titled X:
- You are required to complete these activities:
 - Using the 'X' method of assessment*
 - At 'X' location*
 - You will have 'X time period' for this assessment*
 - You are required to compile information in a format that you feel is appropriate to the assessment
 - Do you have any questions about this assessment?"
- Commence Work Project assessment:
 - The assessor may give time for participants to review the questions at this time to ensure they understand the nature of the questions. The assessor may need to clarify questions
 - Participants complete work projects in the most appropriate format
 - Participants must submit Work Project evidence to the assessor before the scheduled due date
- Assessor must assess the participant's evidence against the competency standards specified in each Element of Competency and their own understanding. The assessor can determine if the participant has provided evidence to a 'competent' standard
- Transcribe results/details to Competency Recording Sheet
- Forward/file assessment record.

Specifications for Oral Question Assessment

These guidelines concern the use of oral questioning.

Assessors should follow these guidelines.

- Prepare Assessment Record for Oral Questioning. One record for each candidate:
 - Enter Student name
 - Enter Assessor name
 - Enter Location
- Familiarise self with Questions to be asked
- Prepare assessment location (table and chairs) making it conducive to assessment
- Explain Oral Questioning assessment to candidate, using the following phrase as a guide (where a 'X' is identified, please input appropriate information):
"These oral questions are part of the formal assessment for the unit of competency titled X.

There are X questions and you are required to answer all of them to the best of your ability and I will record whether or not you have answered correctly.

We have 60 minutes for this assessment.

- I will give you feedback at the end of the assessment
- Do you have any questions about this assessment?”
- Commence Oral Questioning assessment:
 - Complete Assessment Record for the Oral Questioning by:
 - a) Ticking PC or NYC, as appropriate
 - b) Entering ‘Remarks’ as required
 - c) Completing Oral Questioning within 60 minutes
- Complete Oral Questioning and provide feedback to candidate
- Transcribe results/details to Competency Recording Sheet
- Forward/file assessment record.

Specifications for Written Question Assessment

These guidelines concern the use of written questioning.

Assessors should follow these guidelines:

- Familiarise self with Questions and Answers provided
- Print and distribute copies of ‘Written Questions’ for participants. Ideally this should take place with adequate time for participants to answer all questions before the expected due date
- Explain Written Questioning assessment to candidate, using the following phrase as a guide (where a ‘X’ is identified, please input appropriate information):

“These written questions are part of the formal assessment for the unit of competency titled X.

There are X questions and you are required to answer all of them to the best of your ability.

You may refer to your subject materials, however where possible try to utilise your existing knowledge when answering questions.

Where you are unsure of questions, please ask the Assessor for further instruction. This may be answering the question orally or asking the assessor to redefine the question.

We have X time for this assessment:

- The due date for completion of this assessment is X
- On this date you must forward the completed questions to the assessor by X time on the date of X
- Do you have any questions about this assessment?”
- The assessor may give time for participants to review the questions at this time to ensure they understand the nature of the questions. The assessor may need to clarify questions
- Participants may record written answers (where possible)
- Participants must submit the written answers to the assessor before the scheduled due date

- Assessor must assess the participant's written answers against the model answers provided as a guide, or their own understanding. The assessor can determine if the participant has answered the questions to a 'competent' standard
- Transcribe results/details to Competency Recording Sheet
- Forward/file assessment record.

Specifications for Observation Checklist

These specifications apply to the use of the Observation Checklist in determining competency for candidates.

Only an approved assessor is authorised to complete the Observation Checklist.

The assessor is required to observe the participant, ideally in a simulated environment or their practical workplace setting and record their performance (or otherwise) of the competencies listed on the Observation Checklist for the Competency Unit.

To complete the Observation Checklist the Assessor must:

- Insert name of candidate
- Insert assessor name
- Insert identify of location where observations are being undertaken
- Insert date/s of observations – may be single date or multiple dates
- Place a tick in either the 'Yes' or 'No' box for each listed Performance Criteria to indicate the candidate has demonstrated/not demonstrated that skill
- Provide written (and verbal) feedback to candidate – as/if appropriate
- Sign and date the form
- Present form to candidate for them to sign and date
- Transcribe results/details to Competency Recording Sheet for candidate
- Forward/file Observation Checklist.

This source of evidence combines with other forms of assessment to assist in determining the 'Pass Competent' or 'Not Yet Competent' decision for the participant.

Specifications for Third Party Statement

These specifications relate to the use of a relevant workplace person to assist in determining competency for candidates.

The Third Party Statement is to be supplied by the assessor to a person in the workplace who supervises and/or works closely with the participant.

This may be their Supervisor, the venue manager, the Department Manager or similar.

The Third Party Statement asks the Supervisor to record what they believe to be the competencies of the participant based on their workplace experience of the participant. This experience may be gained through observation of their workplace performance, feedback from others, inspection of candidate's work etc.

A meeting must take place between the Assessor and the Third Party to explain and demonstrate the use of the Third Party Statement.

To complete the Third Party Verification Statement the Assessor must:

- Insert candidate name
- Insert name and contact details of the Third Party
- Tick the box to indicate the relationship of the Third Party to the candidate
- Present the partially completed form to the Third Party for them to finalise
- Collect the completed form from the Third Party
- Transcribe results/details to Competency Recording Sheet for candidate
- Forward/file Third Party Statement.

The Third Party must:

- Record their belief regarding candidate ability/competency as either:
 - Pass Competent = Yes
 - Not Yet Competent = No
 - Unsure about whether candidate is competent or not = Not Sure
- Meet briefly with the assessor to discuss and/or clarify the form.

This source of evidence combines with other forms of assessment to assist in determining the 'Pass Competent' or 'Not Yet Competent' decision for the candidate.

A separate Third Party Statement is required for each Competency Unit undertaken by the candidate.

Competency standard

UNIT TITLE: DEMONSTRATE/OBSERVE RESPECT FOR INDIGENOUS CULTURES		NOMINAL HOURS: 90
UNIT NUMBER: D2.TTG.CL3.06
UNIT DESCRIPTOR: This unit deals with skills and knowledge required to interpret aspects of local indigenous culture in a sensitive and respectful manner to tour groups.
ELEMENTS AND PERFORMANCE CRITERIA		UNIT VARIABLE AND ASSESSMENT GUIDE
Element 1: Research local indigenous culture 1.1 Identify local indigenous communities that may be visited by tour groups 1.2 Identify the aspects of indigenous cultures that may be interpreted 1.3 Describe the interpretive approach to guiding 1.4 Explain why there is a need to demonstrate/observe respect for indigenous cultures Element 2: Consult with the local community 2.1 Contact local community members about cultural tourism activities 2.2 Identify and resolve potential conflict that may occur when sharing and respecting local indigenous culture		Unit Variables The Unit Variables provide advice to interpret the scope and context of this unit of competence, allowing for differences between enterprises and workplaces. It relates to the unit as a whole and facilitates holistic assessment. This unit applies to organisations that are involved in producing brochures and marketing materials within the labour divisions of the hotel and travel industries and may include: 1. Travel Agencies 2. Tour Operation Culture refers to: • The socially constructed and learned ways of behaving and believing that identify individual and distinct social groups Local indigenous communities refers to any community that is in the vicinity of a tour group while the tour is being conducted and may include communities and cultural sites that are: • Domestic or foreign • Small or large • Nearby or remote

2.3 Develop tourism activities that demonstrate respect for local indigenous culture Element 3: Interpret aspects of indigenous culture for customers 3.1 Brief customers in relation to the local community 3.2 Conduct activities in accordance with agreements made with local communities 3.3 Interpret cultural aspects of the indigenous community in accordance with agreements made 3.4 Monitor tour group behaviour 3.5 Comply with ancillary arrangements agreed to with local communities Element 4: Maintain contact with the local community 4.1 Liaise with local community to identify and respond to changed circumstances 4.2 Modify tours in accordance with issues raised by the local community	• Towns/villages including individual homes and/or buildings, significant sites, galleries, cultural centres, ceremonies, activities and natural sites. Aspects of indigenous cultures may include: • Art, dance and music • Story telling including legends and histories • Tools and implements • Foods • Artefacts • Symbols and symbolic actions • Rituals, rites, ceremonies and celebrations • Heroes, significant figures and individuals • Beliefs, assumptions, values and attitudes • Language • Religion • Education • Social institutions • The environment. The interpretive approach commonly uses face-to-face methods and is frequently supported by interpretive media and aids. The interpretive approach includes: • Engaging the participants • Providing a verbal commentary to explain and translate the characteristics, significance and features of the tour • Attributing local and cultural meaning to sights and activities

- Facilitating learning, understanding and awareness
- Contextualising the tour within a local framework and flavour
- Generating respect and appreciation for the local customs, history and people
- Provoking curiosity, thought and encouraging personal reflection
- Bringing the tour to life by providing opportunities for learning and participation
- Building a relationship between the tour groups and the environment/focus of the tour.

Need to demonstrate/observe respect for indigenous cultures may be related to:

- Preserving unique cultures
- Sharing knowledge
- Changing attitudes
- Valuing individuals for who they are
- Acknowledging the right of different people to live in different ways
- Ensuring no offence is given
- Protecting their way of life.

Contact local community members may include:

- Identifying the elders, relevant members and key decision makers within the community
- Establishing appropriate communication styles
- Identifying protocols for making contact
- Arranging an agreed consultative and meeting process and schedule
- Meeting and talking with local indigenous people to gain their approval and permission for tourism activities to be conducted

	- Deciding tour-related issues in conjunction with appropriate indigenous representatives including identification of: - Information that can and cannot be shared with tour groups - Who is authorised to speak on behalf of the community - Which members of the indigenous community are prepared to speak to tour groups and share information - What activities can be shared and explained to tour groups - Who from the indigenous community should be involved in the activities in both the preparatory and the actual tour phase - Payment or recompense that needs to be made - Timing and other restrictions that apply to engaging with the indigenous community - Where tour-related activities can occur. Identify and resolve potential conflict could relate to: - Engaging in appropriate consultation with the indigenous community - Defining the boundaries of what can and cannot be shared - Defining timing-related issues - Defining group sizes - Defining acceptable behaviour by tour groups - Identifying activities, behaviour and products that are not welcome within the indigenous community - Describing the communication process to be used when a conflict arises - Agreeing on a process to address problems that may arise in the future.

	Develop tourism activities that demonstrate respect could include: • Developing activities in conjunction with key local people • Seeking approval for all activities that are proposed as opposed from imposing activities on the local people • Involving local people in the planning and delivery stages • Making appropriate recompense for the involvement of local people • Ensuring accuracy and honesty in all activities • Protecting the secrets of the local people • Staying within the boundaries previously defined • Allowing local people to witness or participate in activities before they are used with tour groups • Modifying activities on the basis of feedback from the local people • Ensuring the integrity of the site is understood. Brief customers may include: • Explaining the history and context of the local community and culture • Identifying specific prohibitions that apply to tour group presence within the local community • Prescribing required behaviours while in the local community • Presenting points to note for customers • Explaining the interpretive nature of the visit to the local community • Prescribing required dress while in the local community • Providing handouts of explanatory, supporting materials for the tour.

	Conduct activities in accordance with agreements may include: • Introducing active participants from the local community to the group • Involving local community members as agreed and arranged including not requiring or requesting them to undertake additional tasks, performances, activities or explanations that have not been arranged or agreed • Honouring promises that have been made • Limiting visitation to those areas agreed to • Respecting the privacy of the local community • Maintaining the amenity of the area during the tour • Limiting activities only to those things that have been agreed to • Explaining the background and history to activities including the specific contextualising of activities to reflect and respect the indigenous culture • Thanking the local community on departure. Monitor tour group behaviour may include: • Ensuring tour group behaviour remains within acceptable and agreed parameters • Requesting modification to unacceptable behaviour • Terminating activities and visitations where tour group behaviour fails to conform with local community expectations • Apologising immediately to the local community for unacceptable tour group behaviour.

	Comply with ancillary arrangements may include: • Notifying the local community of impending tours • Formally requesting permission to access the local community prior to the tour, where applicable • Arriving and departing at agreed times • Ensuing the location is cleaned and/or left in the original condition prior to or immediately after tour group departure • Facilitating retail sales of items and artefacts by the indigenous community, where agreed. Maintain contact with local communities may include: • Keeping the lines of communication open • Identifying and addressing small problems before they become big ones • Adjusting and/or removing activities and/or the provision of information to tour groups on the basis of feedback from the local community • Adding new activities to the itinerary as ideas are generated with the local community • Responding appropriately to examples where tourist activity is having a negative impact on the local community • Honouring promises that have been made. Liaise with local community may include: • Keeping in regular contact with the local community to encourage communication • Demonstrating a willingness to vary tours and activities to suit local community needs • Being available to meet with the local community when requested • Demonstrating a willingness to vary tours and activities as a result of local ceremonies.

	Modify tours may involve: • Altering scheduled itineraries and activities on the basis of feedback received from the local community • Being receptive to suggestions for change including suggestions to reduce or extend existing arrangements • Following-up on issues that may have arisen during previous tours in order to continue the demonstration of respect for the indigenous culture. Assessment Guide The following skills and knowledge must be assessed as part of this unit: • Enterprise policies and procedures in regard to dealing with local indigenous communities • Principles of interpretive guiding • Knowledge about the local community and its cultural elements • Ability to communicate and negotiate with local indigenous communities • Sensitivity to issues of unique indigenous cultures. Linkages To Other Units • Develop and update tourism industry knowledge • Work as a tour guide • Coordinate and operate a day-tour or short excursions • Manage and facilitate an extended tour experience • Plan, develop and evaluate interpretive activities • Prepare and present tour commentaries • Develop interpretive content for eco-tourism activities
--	---

- Conduct interpretive activities in the field
- Develop and coordinate appropriate cultural tourism activity
- Research and share information on indigenous cultures.

Critical Aspects of Assessment

Evidence of the following is essential:

- Understanding of host enterprise policies and procedures for dealing with local indigenous communities
- Demonstrated ability to liaise with, research and make tour group arrangements with a nominated local indigenous community in relation to tour group activities and visitations
- Demonstrated ability to conduct a nominated tour/visit to an indigenous cultural site to undertake agreed interpretive and other nominated activities in cooperation with the local community, as previously arranged, in a way that demonstrates respect for the local indigenous culture and imparts significant and accurate knowledge to the members of the tour group
- Demonstrated ability to maintain contact with the nominated local indigenous community in order to identify changed requirements and/or circumstances and to respond effectively to tour-related issues raised by that community.

Context of Assessment

Assessment must ensure:

- Actual workplace application of tour guiding activities in conjunction with an actual local indigenous community.

Resource Implications

Training and assessment must include an actual tour involving engagement with an actual local indigenous community including the use of real materials, sites, locations and other items as required by the nature, context and objectives of the tour.

	Assessment Methods The following methods may be used to assess competency for this unit: • Observation of practical candidate performance • Role plays • Oral and written questions • Third party reports completed by a supervisor • Project and assignment work. Key Competencies in this Unit Level 1 = competence to undertake tasks effectively Level 2 = competence to manage tasks Level 3 = competence to use concepts for evaluating
	Key Competencies	Level	Examples
	Collecting, organising and analysing information	3	Research and develop knowledge about the local indigenous culture
	Communicating ideas and information	3	Communicate and negotiate with a local indigenous community to determine suitable tour group access to their culture
	Planning and organising activities	2	Arrange tour details that comply with the parameters established in consultation with the local community
	Working with others and in teams	3	Liaise with local community members in relation to their culture and agreed arrangements for tour groups

	Using mathematical ideas and techniques	-
	Solving problems	2	Resolve situations where the behaviour of the tour group has given offence to the local community
	Using technology	1	Use the internet for research activity; use equipment as part of the tour and interpretive activities

Written questions

Demonstrate / observe respect for indigenous cultures – D2.TTG.CL3.06

Student Name: _____

Answer all the following questions and submit to your Trainer.

1. In your own words define 'culture' as it applies to local communities and tourism.

2. How would you define/describe a 'local indigenous community'?

3. List four ways a Tour Guide might determine indigenous communities which may be visited by tour groups.

4. Describe four ways a Tour Guide can determine the aspects of an indigenous culture to be interpreted on a particular tour.

5. What are 'Site/Culture-specific Guides'?

6. Name ten examples of topics/aspects of an indigenous culture/local community which may be/need to be addressed as part of a tour.

7. Give four examples of 'practical engagement' with a local community/indigenous culture that might occur on a tour.

8. In your own words describe 'interpretive guiding'.

9. Describe four possible objectives of interpretive guiding.

10. Name six techniques and/or activities which can be used to deliver interpretive guiding.

11. Factors/reasons for needing to demonstrate/observe respect for indigenous cultures are not 'constant': give four examples of this.

Answers to written questions

Demonstrate / observe respect for indigenous cultures – D2.TTG.CL3.06

The following are model answers only – Trainers/Assessors must use discretion when determining whether or not an answer provided by a Student is acceptable or not.

1. In your own words define ‘culture’ as it applies to local communities and tourism.

Answer must address:

- Culture refers to the socially constructed and learned ways of behaving and believing that identify individual and distinct social groups
- It can refer to a multitude of factors which differ between each different culture, such as:
 - Ideas, thoughts, beliefs and values of those people
 - Their customs, traits, religion, and social behaviours
 - Their music, art, literature, language and dress
 - The characteristics of the people and their unique cuisine
- Simply put the culture of a people is all about the way they are and the way they live their life.

2. How would you define/describe a ‘local indigenous community’?

Answer must address:

- Local indigenous communities’ refers to any community that is in the vicinity of a tour group while the tour is being conducted and may include communities and cultural sites that are:
 - Domestic or foreign – depending on whether the tour/travel is a domestic tour or whether it involves another country
 - Small or large – local communities may range from several people to several hundred or several thousand
 - Nearby or remote – communities may be geographically anywhere
 - Towns/villages – including:
 - Individual homes and/or buildings
 - Significant sites
 - Galleries
 - Cultural centres
 - Ceremonies
 - Activities
 - Natural sites.

3. List four ways a Tour Guide might determine indigenous communities which may be visited by tour groups.

- Reading the tour schedule – which will list the upcoming tours by name/type and date and time
- Reading the itineraries for each tour – which will always identify where the tour goes and what tour group members will be seeing and doing
- Reading the advertisements generated to promote tours conducted by the business – which will detail what the tour covers, where it goes and what people can expect to do and see
- Talking to management and other/experienced Tour Guides – who can advise about:
 - Where tours go
 - What indigenous communities are visited
 - Arrangements which have been negotiated with each community
 - Codes of Practice which need to be observed
- Reading contracts which have been signed – for any tours, especially custom or private tours
- Participating in in-house training with the employer – where the Tour Operator presents/provides information about the trips and tours they sell.

4. Describe four ways a Tour Guide can determine the aspects of an indigenous culture to be interpreted on a particular tour.

- Identifying the specific requirements for each tour – as stated/laid out in the:
 - Advertising and promotion for the trip/tour
 - The itinerary for the tour
- Participating in the tour prior to conducting one – as a tour group member
- Striving to meet customer expectations – as identified:
 - Through Customer Comment cards
 - Via special requests received for a tour
 - In written form as part of the contract for a custom/private tour.
- Talking to experienced Tour Guides
- Speaking with nominated or recognised people from the community – such as:
 - Elders
 - Community Leaders
 - Liaison personnel
 - Tour Coordinators
 - Site/Culture-specific Guides.

5. What are 'Site/Culture-specific Guides'?

- These are Tour Guides which may exist within various communities
- They take over the tour group when the tour enters the community
- In several cases, using a Site/Culture-specific Guide is a mandatory part of the deal when negotiating access to a community as they see it as one way they can bring money/economic gain to the community.

6. Name ten examples of topics/aspects of an indigenous culture/local community which may be/need to be addressed as part of a tour.

- Art
- Dance
- Music
- Story telling
- Tools and implements
- Food
- Artefacts
- Symbols and symbolic actions
- Rituals, rites, ceremonies and celebrations
- Heroes, significant figures and individuals
- Beliefs, assumptions, values and attitudes
- Language
- Religion
- Education
- Social institutions
- The environment.

7. Give four examples of 'practical engagement' with a local community/indigenous culture that might occur on a tour.

- Food preparation, cooking and tasting/sampling
- Creating art using the techniques and materials of the culture being visited
- Taking part on dance
- Using tools, implements and artefacts
- Playing musical instruments.

8. In your own words describe 'interpretive guiding'.

Answer must address:

- Interpretive guiding can be seen as the use of face-to-face methods, activities and presentation techniques and is frequently supported by interpretive media and aids (props)
- Their use makes a tour for participants a much more memorable experience
- Interpretive guiding includes but goes beyond the basic provision of information which is seen by many as the sole objective when conducting a tour
- Interpretive guiding refers to interpretation of the topics/areas which are the focus of the tour or encountered along the way.

9. Describe four possible objectives of interpretive guiding.

- Give local and cultural context by attributing meaning
- Conduct appropriate and meaningful activities
- Contextualise the tour/activities
- Generate respect and appreciation
- Provoke and encourage intellectual activity
- Bring the tour to life
- Supply a detailed and informative scripted commentary
- Build relationships
- Provide explanations and give examples of information provided
- Facilitate understanding, learning and awareness.

10. Name six techniques and/or activities which can be used to deliver interpretive guiding.

- Role playing
- Different voice techniques
- Story telling
- Games and activities
- Demonstrations
- Participant interaction
- Sensory awareness exercises
- Use of materials to enhance illustration and experiences
- Use of technology to assist with delivery.

11. Factors/reasons for needing to demonstrate/observe respect for indigenous cultures are not 'constant': give four examples of this.

- Factors are not 'constant' and may:
 - Alter over time
 - Vary between different tour group
 - Change between specialised custom/private tours
 - Differ between different communities and cultures.

12. Identify four factors generally related to/underpinning the need for respect for indigenous cultures.

- The need to preserve unique cultures
- A desire to share knowledge
- A need change the attitudes of visitors
- Realisation by society in general, a country/Government of a range of issues including:
 - Valuing individuals and different cultures and communities for who they are and the individual way they live their lives
 - Recognising the contribution people/communities have made to other cultures and/or the wider world
 - Acknowledging the right of different people to live in different ways
- Acceptance on the part of society in relation changing attitudes – such that what was ignored or treated with suspicion or indifference years ago is now a valid and legitimate way of life or orientation
- A need on the part of the Tour Operator (and associated Government agencies/tourism bodies) to ensure no offence is given by tour group when they visit indigenous communities/cultures
- A desire of the part of tours/Tour Operators to protect the 'normal' way of life of indigenous cultures – from unintended consequences/unwanted intrusion
- A vested interest on the part of a Tour Operator in creating a more positive relationship/rapport with the communities which will be more conducive to:
 - Future deals/negotiations involving tours and visitations to their communities
 - More lucrative financial arrangements between the parties
 - Better working relationships between everyone
- An obligation to comply with legislation.

13. What are the three reasons identified in the notes as the need for consultation with community members about tourism activities?

- Meet mandatory obligations
- Meet non-compulsory local agreements
- Demonstrate respect for the community.

14. Name the five factors given as essential when discussing and negotiating with local communities in order to generate a genuine partnership.

- A genuine partnership arrangement between the local community and the Tour Operator
- Mutual benefit
- Inclusivity
- Confidentiality
- Ethical conduct.

15. Identify four factors which provide a context for discussions/negotiations as part of meetings with local communities.

- The matters which are the focus of talks will/can vary between communities – different groups can have different needs for protection of their culture
- Issues will change over time – usually the number of issues tend to increase and there is often a need for arrangements to more detailed
- Different topics will carry different weight – that is, some matters may be negotiable and some can be non-negotiable
- Discussions, meetings, communication, negotiations and agreements take time – the process of consultation cannot be rushed. Sufficient time must be allocated to this procedure and planning should allow for delays and unexpected set-backs.

16. Describe four topics which may be addressed when communicating and consulting with local communities.

- Identifying the key stakeholders
- Establishing appropriate communication styles
- Agreeing on meeting arrangements
- Gaining a basic understanding of the community
- Identifying protocols for making contact
- Meeting and talking with local indigenous people
- Deciding tour-related issues – including identification of:
 - Information that can and cannot be shared with tour groups
 - Who is authorised to speak on behalf of the community
 - Which members of the community are prepared to speak to tour groups
 - What activities can be the focus of tours
 - Who from the community should be involved in tour-related activities
 - Payment or recompense that needs to be made
 - Timing and other restrictions that apply to engaging with the indigenous community
 - The location/areas where tour-related activities can occur.

17. Describe four important pre-requisites in relation to conflict resolution.

- There is an ongoing need to identify potential conflict/issues of concern at the earliest opportunity – so appropriate responses can be taken
- The way the first conflict situation/potential conflict is handled will set the scene for all future negotiations – so it is vital the first issue is dealt with properly and promptly
- Tour Operators must ‘walk the talk’ – many problems and conflicts can be avoided if the organisation simply does exactly what it promises it will do
- One of the early subjects to be arranged with a local community is an agreed ‘Conflict resolution protocol’.

18. What are the six steps in the ‘Six-Step Method of Conflict Resolution’?

- Listen carefully
- Acknowledge
- Respond
- Take action
- Report
- Follow-up.

19. List four personal characteristics to employ when resolving conflict.

- Being assertive
- Being constructive
- Being well-informed
- Exercising patience
- Showing tolerance
- Understanding the total picture
- Compromising
- Being courteous.

20. Name four issues which may provide the basis for potential conflict when dealing with local communities.

- Failing to engage in appropriate consultation with the indigenous community
- Not defining the boundaries of what can and cannot be shared with tour groups
- Failing to determine access issues
- Not defining timing-related issues
- Lack of definition regarding tour group composition
- Not defining acceptable behaviour by tour groups
- Failing to make proper/acceptable arrangements relating to economic activity/opportunities for the local community.

21. Describe four considerations during discussions/planning which have emerged as being relevant to certain indigenous cultures when tourism activities are to be conducted in their communities.

- Developing activities in conjunction with key local people
- Seeking approval for all activities
- Involving local people in the planning and delivery stages
- Making appropriate recompense for the involvement of local people
- Ensuring accuracy and honesty in all activities
- Ensuring the integrity of the site is understood.

22. Identify four ways a Tour Operator may provide recompense to a local community for tours conducted in their community.

- Cash – payment for visiting the local community and/or their negotiated involvement in tours.
- Provision of services to the community – there is really no limit to what these can be but might include services relating to Construction, Health care, Education
- Provision of goods to the community – such as Food and beverages, Building materials, Nominated resources
- Access to the tour groups – in terms of Allowing local communities to sell to the group, Including shops in the tour itinerary
- Employment – such as using local people as Site Guides., Using local people as performers in activities.

23. Give three occasions when/where tour briefings may be provided.

- Prior to departing the tour company premises
- On the coach/transport while travelling to the destination
- On arrival at the site.

24. Identify four necessary requirements for all tour briefings.

It is necessary for briefings to:

- Be included as a standard part of all tours conducted to indigenous cultures and/or local communities – that is, the briefing must be included/scheduled as part of the tour itinerary
- Cover all aspects/information:
 - Identified by the community as being necessary
 - Promised by the Tour Operator as being communicated
- Set the scene for the tour
- Build excitement and expectations about the tour and what it will deliver
- Provide an opportunity for the Tour Guide to meet the tour group members – and for the tour group to meet the Tour Guide and each other.

25. Describe eight examples of material/content a tour briefing needs to address.

- It must be tailor-made for the individual trip/tour to be conducted
- Contents needs to be reviewed on a regular basis
- An explanation of the history and context of the local community and culture
- Identification of specific prohibitions that apply to tour group presence within the local community – together with Rationale for these, Consequences of failing to abide by what is required
- Description and/or demonstration of required behaviours while in the local community – in terms of:
 - Actions and activities
 - Verbal and body language
 - Observances of and respect for local issues
- Indication to tour group members of points to note – such as:
 - Things to look for in the natural and built environment
 - Things to look for in terms of the people, their dress, appearance and behaviour
 - Seasonal factors to note
 - Rites, ceremonies and rituals occurring at tour times
- Explaining the interpretive nature of the visit to the local community – by:
 - Highlighting the tour will not only provide information but will interpret this information by giving it context, reality and perspective
 - Indicating the active elements of the tour where participants will be able to engage with the community/culture
 - Encouraging people to think about and reflect on what they see, hear, learn and experience as a result of their tour experience
- Prescribing dress while in the local community
- Providing handouts relating to the tour and the culture/community to be visited
- Lists of additional references tour group members can use for additional information.

26. Name four keys in relation to tour implementation when conducting activities.

- ‘Walk the talk’ – and do what has been promised even though doing so may be inconvenient, more expensive or uncomfortable
- Never assume anything – if unsure about what can and cannot be done, always ask someone/a local/designated person
- Proceed slowly – it takes time for trust to be established and communities tend to distrust those who appear to rush/push things and issues
- Observe all applicable local Codes of Conduct/Practice/Ethics – as they apply to the operation of tours, visitor behaviour, sustainable tourism and the natural environment, interactions with local people and other issues deemed important to local communities.

27. Identify two ways the conduct of this tour may have future impact for Tour Operators.

This tour will:

- Impact future negotiations with the community for future tours to the same locations
- Influence the negotiations the Tour Operator has with other communities – because word quickly spreads about how trustworthy the organisation is, and whether or not other communities can trust it.

28. Describe six activities implicit in ensuring tour activities are conducted in accordance with agreements made with local communities.

- Introducing active participants from the local community to the group
- Involving local community members – as agreed and arranged
- Honouring promises which have been made
- Limiting tour group movement
- Respecting the privacy of the local community
- Maintaining the amenity of the area during the tour
- Limiting activities only to those things that have been agreed to
- Explaining the background and history to activities
- Thanking the local community on departure.

29. Provide four critical points which must be observed in relation to interpreting cultural aspects of indigenous communities when on tour.

- All arrangements and promises made to the local community MUST be observed
- False promises to the tour group about what they can do while on tour MUST be avoided
- Creating false expectations about what tour group participants can expect from their on-tour experience MUST be avoided
- All advertisements and promotions about the tour MUST be based in the reality of the agreements made with the host communities
- Staff involved in the tour (Tour Guides, drivers, cooks) MUST be informed and sufficiently trained about what their obligations and responsibilities are in relation to the community and to the requirements of the agreement/s in place
- All tour groups MUST be suitable briefed prior to the tour and before engaging with the local community
- Tour Guides MUST monitor the behaviour and actions of all tour group participants and take prompt and effective action where necessary to bring unacceptable action back in-line with what is required
- Interpretive guiding activities and presentation techniques used while on tour need to be prepared and trialled before they are used in a real-list tour situation.

30. Name one technique or activity used to deliver interpretive guiding and describe how it may be applied.

No model answer

31. What are the two basic ways to monitor the tour group while on tour?

- Visual observation
- Listening to the group.

32. Describe four important points/keys in optimising required/appropriate group behaviour while on tour.

- Making sure all tour group members have been advised of requirements
- Checks have been made to ensure required dress standards are met
- On-tour behaviour requirements are reinforced immediately before entering the local community
- All members of the tour group are treated equally and impartially when there is a need to intervene
- Being alert to the first unacceptable word or inappropriate behaviour
- Keeping the tour group together.

33. Describe four tips which can be used to help handle problems with tour group members when on tour.

- Realise no problem will ever resolve itself – problems require the Tour Guide to take action to fix/address them
- The Tour Guide must take responsibility for taking action
- All identified issues must be addressed
- If appropriate/possible, look for 'safety angle' on which to focus the conversation to be had with those creating/causing a problem or issue
- Treat people with respect
- Aim to make the other person feel special, not to feel victimised
- Talk with people who need to be spoken to away from others in order to respect their right not to be embarrassed or challenged in front of others.
- Try to stay calm when a need to intervene - 'act' but do not 'over-react'
- Avoid using a loud voice and try to speak so the conversation is private, and so the participant/s do not feel as if they are being reprimanded
- Phrase what is said so it is not a personal 'attack' on the other person
- Try phrasing statements asking people to modify their behaviour as 'requests' rather than 'commands' and give reasons why the request is being made
- Be willing and prepared to take extreme action in severe cases.

34. Give six examples of ancillary arrangements which may apply to tours conducted to local communities.

- Developing and preparing a list of tours to be conducted
- Conducting all tours on the days and at the times which have been arranged
- Arriving as expected
- Formally requesting permission to access the local community prior to the tour
- Departing by agreed times
- Making sure areas and facilities used by the tour group are returned to their original condition
- Facilitating retail sales of items and artefacts by the indigenous community, where agreed.

35. Describe four actions which will assist a Tour Operator in ‘keeping the lines of communication open’ as part of the process of maintaining contact with local communities.

- Talking honestly
- Being available when required
- Returning calls
- Being prepared to use a variety of different communication options
- Using different communication methods for individual stakeholders
- Being proactive in initiating contact
- Communicating in the way/manner preferred by the local community
- Being flexible in meetings times
- Maintaining and distributing hard copy information regarding information shared, decisions reached and arrangements which have been made
- Honouring promises that have been made – this is arguably the single biggest element in maintaining a positive relationship with a local community.

36. Give four activities which will enable Tour Operators to actively monitor the relationship between themselves and local communities.

- Obtaining feedback/input from relevant stakeholders
- Creating opportunities for feedback from the community
- Supplying the means and methods for providing feedback
- Soliciting suggestions
- Factoring in feedback from tour groups
- Asking the community about the relationship and arrangements been made
- Identifying and addressing small problems before they become big ones
- Doing no harm – this must always be a primary priority in the relationship: no harm should come to the community, individuals in it, its reputations, its environment or anything to do with the people or their culture.

37. Provide four activities which will facilitate Tour Operators in liaising with local communities.

- Keeping in regular contact with the local community to encourage communication
- Responding to community concerns
- Adjusting and/or removing activities and/or the provision of information to tour groups
- Suggesting and/or assisting with the development of new tours and/or activities
- Responding appropriately to any examples where tourist activity is having a negative impact on the local community.

38. Detail four actions a Tour Operator may be able to take in response to issues/concerns raised by local communities regarding tours and touring arrangements.

- Altering tour schedules in terms of the dates for tours to accommodate local needs/concerns
- Conducting fewer or more tours
- Changing duration of tours
- Starting scheduled tours at different times
- Amending activities
- Varying the composition of the tour group
- Changing travel and transportation arrangements
- Changing the recompense paid to the community
- Providing additional maintenance
- Involving other, different or additional organisations in the tourist activity
- Following-up on identified issues that may have arisen during previous tours
- Affirming preparedness to withdraw completely from the relationship and cease all contact/engagement with the community – where a genuine threat to the community is deemed to exist.
