Competency Based Assessment (CBA) – An Introduction for Assessors

Assessment is the process of identifying a participant's current knowledge, skills and attitudes sets against all elements of competency within a unit of competency.

Suggested Assessment Methods

For each unit of competency a number of assessment tools have been identified including:

- Work Projects
- Oral Questions
- Written Questions
- Third Party Statements
- Observation Checklists.

Instructions and Evidence Recording Sheets have been identified in this Assessment Manual for use by Assessors.

Alternative Assessment Methods

Whilst the above mentioned assessment methods are suggested assessment methods, the assessor may use an alternate method of assessment taking into account:

- a) The nature of the unit
- b) The strengths of participants
- c) The number of participants in the class
- d) Time required to complete assessments
- e) Time dedicated to assessment
- f) Equipment and resources required.

Alternate assessment methods include:

- Practical demonstrations
- Practical demonstrations in simulated work conditions
- Problem solving
- Portfolios of evidence
- Critical incident reports
- Journals
- Oral presentations
- Interviews
- Videos
- Visuals/slides/audiotapes

- Case studies
- Log books
- Projects and Role plays
- Group projects
- Recognition of Prior Learning.

Whilst there is no specific instruction or evidence collection documents for all the alternative assessment methods, assessors can record competency in the 'Other' section within the 'Competency Recording Sheet'.

Selection of Assessment Methods

Each assessor will determine the combination of Assessment Methods to be used to determine Competency for each Competency Unit on a student by student basis.

'Sufficient' evidence to support the 'Pass Competent'/'Not Yet Competent' decision must be captured.

In practice this means a minimum of 2 – 3 Assessment Methods for each candidate for each Competency Element is suggested.

At least one method should provide evidence of practical demonstration of competence.

The following assessment methods deemed to provide evidence of practical demonstration of competence include:

- Practical Work Projects
- Third Party Statement
- Observation Checklist.

Assessing Competency

Competency based assessment does not award grades, but simply identifies if the participant has the knowledge, skills and attitudes to undertake the required task to the specified standard.

Therefore, when assessing competency, an assessor has two possible results that can be awarded:

- 'Pass Competent' (PC)
- 'Not Yet Competent' (NYC).

Pass Competent (PC)

If the participant is able to successfully answer or demonstrate what is required, to the expected standards of the performance criteria, they will be deemed as 'Pass Competent' (PC).

The assessor will award a 'Pass Competent' (PC) if they feel the participant has the necessary knowledge, skills and attitudes in all assessment tasks for a unit.

Not Yet Competent' (NYC)

If the participant is unable to answer or demonstrate competency to the desired standard, they will be deemed to be 'Not Yet Competent' (NYC).

This does not mean the participant will need to complete all the assessment tasks again. The focus will be on the specific assessment tasks that were not performed to the expected standards.

The participant may be required to:

- a) Undertake further training or instruction
- b) Undertake the assessment task again until they are deemed to be 'Pass Competent'.

Regional Qualifications Framework and Skills Recognition System

The 'Regional Qualifications Framework and Skills Recognition System', also known as the 'RQFSRS' is the overriding educational framework for the ASEAN region.

The purpose of this framework is to provide:

- A standardised teaching and assessment framework
- Mutual recognition of participant achievement across the ASEAN region. This includes achievement in individual Units of Competency or qualifications as a whole.

The role of the 'RQFSRS' is to provide, ensure and maintain 'quality assurance' across all countries and educational providers across the ASEAN region

Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL)

Recognition of Prior Learning is the process that gives current industry professionals who do not have a formal qualification, the opportunity to benchmark their extensive skills and experience against the standards set out in each unit of competency/subject.

This process is a learning and assessment pathway which encompasses:

- Recognition of Current Competencies (RCC)
- Skills auditing
- Gap analysis and training
- Credit transfer.

Code of Practice for Assessors

This Code of Practice provides:

- Assessors with direction on the standard of practice expected of them
- Candidates with assurance of the standards of practice expected of assessors
- Employers with assurance of the standards maintained in the conduct of assessment.

The Code detailed below is based on the International Code of Ethics and Practice (The National Council for Measurement in Education [NCME]):

- The differing needs and requirements of the person being assessed, the local enterprise and/or industry are identified and handled with sensitivity
- Potential forms of conflict of interest in the assessment process and/or outcomes are identified and appropriate referrals are made, if necessary
- All forms of harassment are avoided throughout the planning, conducting, reviewing and reporting of the assessment outcomes

- The rights of the candidate are protected during and after the assessment
- Personal and interpersonal factors that are not relevant to the assessment of competency must not influence the assessment outcomes
- The candidate is made aware of rights and process of appeal
- Evidence that is gathered during the assessment is verified for validity, reliability, authenticity, sufficiency and currency
- Assessment decisions are based on available evidence that can be produced and verified by another assessor
- Assessments are conducted within the boundaries of the assessment system policies and procedures
- Formal agreement is obtained from both the candidate and the assessor that the assessment was carried out in accordance with agreed procedures
- The candidate is informed of all assessment reporting processes prior to the assessment
- The candidate is informed of all known potential consequences of decisions arising from an assessment, prior to the assessment
- Confidentiality is maintained regarding assessment results
- The assessment results are used consistently with the purposes explained to the candidate
- Opportunities are created for technical assistance in planning, conducting and reviewing assessment procedures and outcomes.

Instructions and Checklist for Assessors

Instructions

General instructions for the assessment:

- Assessment should be conducted at a scheduled time that has been notified to the candidate
- Facilitators must ensure participants are made aware of the need to complete assessments and attend assessment sessions
- If a participant is unable to attend a scheduled session, they must make arrangements with the Assessor to undertake the assessment at an alternative time
- At the end of the assessment the Assessor must give feedback and advise the participant on their PC/NYC status
- Complete the relevant documentation and submit to the appropriate department.

Preparation

- Gain familiarity with the Unit of Competency, Elements of Competency and the Performance Criteria expected
- Study details assessment documentation and requirements
- Brief candidate regarding all assessment criteria and requirements.

Briefing Checklist

- Begin the assessment by implementing the following checklist and then invite the candidate to proceed with assessment.

Checklist for Assessors

Prior to the assessment I have:	Tick (✓)	Remarks
Ensured the candidate is informed about the venue and schedule of assessment.
Received current copies of the performance criteria to be assessed, assessment plan, evidence gathering plan, assessment checklist, appeal form and the company's standard operating procedures (SOP).
Reviewed the performance criteria and evidence plan to ensure I clearly understood the instructions and the requirements of the assessment process.
Identified and accommodated any special needs of the candidate.
Checked the set-up and resources for the assessment.
During the assessment I have:
Introduced myself and confirmed identities of candidates.
Put candidates at ease by being friendly and helpful.
Explained to candidates the purpose, context and benefits of the assessment.
Ensured candidates understood the assessment process and all attendant procedures.
Provided candidates with an overview of performance criteria to be assessed.
Explained the results reporting procedure.
Encouraged candidates to seek clarifications if in doubt.
Asked candidates for feedback on the assessment.
Explained legal, safety and ethical issues, if applicable.
After the assessment I have:
Ensured candidate is given constructive feedback.
Completed and signed the assessment record.
Thanked candidate for participating in the assessment.

Instructions for Recording Competency

Specifications for Recording Competency

The following specifications apply to the preparation of Evidence Gathering Plans:

- A Competency Recording Sheet must be prepared for each candidate to ensure and demonstrate all Performance Criteria and Competency Elements are appropriately assessed. This Sheet indicates how the Assessor will gather evidence during their assessment of each candidate
- This Competency Recording Sheet is located at the end of the Assessment Plan
- It is the overriding document to record competency
- The Assessor may vary the Competency Recording Sheet to accommodate practical and individual candidate and/or workplace needs
- Assessor must place a tick (✓) in the 'Assessment Method' columns to identify the methods of assessment to be used for each candidate
- Multiple Competency Elements/Performance Criteria may be assessed at the one time, where appropriate
- The assessor and participant should sign and date the Competency Recording Sheet, when all forms of evidence and assessment have been completed
- The assessor may provide and feedback or clarify questions which the participant may have in regards to the assessment grade or findings
- All documents used to capture evidence must be retained, and attached to the Competency Recording Sheet for each candidate for each Competency Unit.

Instructions for Different Assessment Methods

Specifications for Work Project Assessment

These guidelines concern the use of work projects.

The work projects identified in the Training Manuals involve a range of tasks, to be performed at the discretion of the Assessor.

Work project tasks can be completed through any form of assessment as identified in the Trainer and Trainee Manuals and stated at the start of this section.

Assessors should follow these guidelines:

- Review the Work Projects at the end of each 'Element of Competency' in the Trainee Manual to ensure you understand the content and what is expected
- Prepare sufficient resources for the completion of work activities including:
 - Time – whether in scheduled delivery hours or suggested time participants to spend outside of class hours
 - Resources – this may involve technical equipment, computer, internet access, stationery and other supplementary materials and documents
- Prepare assessment location (if done in class) making it conducive to assessment
- Explain Work Projects assessment to candidate, at the start of each Element of Competency. This ensures that participants are aware of what is expected and can collate information as delivery takes place

- Assessors can use the following phrase as a guide (where an 'X' is identified, please input appropriate information):
 "At the end of each Element of Competency there are Work Projects which must be completed. These projects require different tasks that must be completed.
 These work projects are part of the formal assessment for the unit of competency titled X:
- You are required to complete these activities:
 - Using the 'X' method of assessment*
 - At 'X' location*
 - You will have 'X time period' for this assessment*
 - You are required to compile information in a format that you feel is appropriate to the assessment
 - Do you have any questions about this assessment?"
- Commence Work Project assessment:
 - The assessor may give time for participants to review the questions at this time to ensure they understand the nature of the questions. The assessor may need to clarify questions
 - Participants complete work projects in the most appropriate format
 - Participants must submit Work Project evidence to the assessor before the scheduled due date
- Assessor must assess the participant's evidence against the competency standards specified in each Element of Competency and their own understanding. The assessor can determine if the participant has provided evidence to a 'competent' standard
- Transcribe results/details to Competency Recording Sheet
- Forward/file assessment record.

Specifications for Oral Question Assessment

These guidelines concern the use of oral questioning.

Assessors should follow these guidelines.

- Prepare Assessment Record for Oral Questioning. One record for each candidate:
 - Enter Student name
 - Enter Assessor name
 - Enter Location
- Familiarise self with Questions to be asked
- Prepare assessment location (table and chairs) making it conducive to assessment
- Explain Oral Questioning assessment to candidate, using the following phrase as a guide (where a 'X' is identified, please input appropriate information):
"These oral questions are part of the formal assessment for the unit of competency titled X.

There are X questions and you are required to answer all of them to the best of your ability and I will record whether or not you have answered correctly.

We have 60 minutes for this assessment.

- I will give you feedback at the end of the assessment
- Do you have any questions about this assessment?”
- Commence Oral Questioning assessment:
 - Complete Assessment Record for the Oral Questioning by:
 - a) Ticking PC or NYC, as appropriate
 - b) Entering ‘Remarks’ as required
 - c) Completing Oral Questioning within 60 minutes
- Complete Oral Questioning and provide feedback to candidate
- Transcribe results/details to Competency Recording Sheet
- Forward/file assessment record.

Specifications for Written Question Assessment

These guidelines concern the use of written questioning.

Assessors should follow these guidelines:

- Familiarise self with Questions and Answers provided
- Print and distribute copies of ‘Written Questions’ for participants. Ideally this should take place with adequate time for participants to answer all questions before the expected due date
- Explain Written Questioning assessment to candidate, using the following phrase as a guide (where a ‘X’ is identified, please input appropriate information):

“These written questions are part of the formal assessment for the unit of competency titled X.

There are X questions and you are required to answer all of them to the best of your ability.

You may refer to your subject materials, however where possible try to utilise your existing knowledge when answering questions.

Where you are unsure of questions, please ask the Assessor for further instruction. This may be answering the question orally or asking the assessor to redefine the question.

We have X time for this assessment:

- The due date for completion of this assessment is X
- On this date you must forward the completed questions to the assessor by X time on the date of X
- Do you have any questions about this assessment?”
- The assessor may give time for participants to review the questions at this time to ensure they understand the nature of the questions. The assessor may need to clarify questions
- Participants may record written answers (where possible)
- Participants must submit the written answers to the assessor before the scheduled due date

- Assessor must assess the participant's written answers against the model answers provided as a guide, or their own understanding. The assessor can determine if the participant has answered the questions to a 'competent' standard
- Transcribe results/details to Competency Recording Sheet
- Forward/file assessment record.

Specifications for Observation Checklist

These specifications apply to the use of the Observation Checklist in determining competency for candidates.

Only an approved assessor is authorised to complete the Observation Checklist.

The assessor is required to observe the participant, ideally in a simulated environment or their practical workplace setting and record their performance (or otherwise) of the competencies listed on the Observation Checklist for the Competency Unit.

To complete the Observation Checklist the Assessor must:

- Insert name of candidate
- Insert assessor name
- Insert identify of location where observations are being undertaken
- Insert date/s of observations – may be single date or multiple dates
- Place a tick in either the 'Yes' or 'No' box for each listed Performance Criteria to indicate the candidate has demonstrated/not demonstrated that skill
- Provide written (and verbal) feedback to candidate – as/if appropriate
- Sign and date the form
- Present form to candidate for them to sign and date
- Transcribe results/details to Competency Recording Sheet for candidate
- Forward/file Observation Checklist.

This source of evidence combines with other forms of assessment to assist in determining the 'Pass Competent' or 'Not Yet Competent' decision for the participant.

Specifications for Third Party Statement

These specifications relate to the use of a relevant workplace person to assist in determining competency for candidates.

The Third Party Statement is to be supplied by the assessor to a person in the workplace who supervises and/or works closely with the participant.

This may be their Supervisor, the venue manager, the Department Manager or similar.

The Third Party Statement asks the Supervisor to record what they believe to be the competencies of the participant based on their workplace experience of the participant. This experience may be gained through observation of their workplace performance, feedback from others, inspection of candidate's work etc.

A meeting must take place between the Assessor and the Third Party to explain and demonstrate the use of the Third Party Statement.

To complete the Third Party Verification Statement the Assessor must:

- Insert candidate name
- Insert name and contact details of the Third Party
- Tick the box to indicate the relationship of the Third Party to the candidate
- Present the partially completed form to the Third Party for them to finalise
- Collect the completed form from the Third Party
- Transcribe results/details to Competency Recording Sheet for candidate
- Forward/file Third Party Statement.

The Third Party must:

- Record their belief regarding candidate ability/competency as either:
 - Pass Competent = Yes
 - Not Yet Competent = No
 - Unsure about whether candidate is competent or not = Not Sure
- Meet briefly with the assessor to discuss and/or clarify the form.

This source of evidence combines with other forms of assessment to assist in determining the 'Pass Competent' or 'Not Yet Competent' decision for the candidate.

A separate Third Party Statement is required for each Competency Unit undertaken by the candidate.

Competency standard

UNIT TITLE: PLAN, DEVELOP AND EVALUATE INTERPRETIVE ACTIVITIES		NOMINAL HOURS: 80
UNIT NUMBER: D2.TTG.CL3.14
UNIT DESCRIPTOR: This unit deals with skills and knowledge required to prepare and develop an interpretive activity ready for presentation to a tour group, and to evaluate the activity after it has been presented. It does not cover the skills and knowledge required to conduct the interpretive activity
ELEMENTS AND PERFORMANCE CRITERIA		UNIT VARIABLE AND ASSESSMENT GUIDE
Element 1: Identify the basis for the interpretive activity 1.1 Describe the context for the interpretive activity 1.2 Specify customer requests and needs in relation to the interpretive activity and the interpretative approach to be adopted 1.3 Investigate local community requirements and/or preferences in relation to the interpretive activity 1.4 Determine final objectives for the interpretive activity 1.5 Identify the type of interpretive activity to be presented 1.6 Identify opportunities for local community participation in the interpretive activity 1.7 Research the subject that is the focus of the interpretive activity		Unit Variables The Unit Variables provide advice to interpret the scope and context of this unit of competence, allowing for differences between enterprises and workplaces. It relates to the unit as a whole and facilitates holistic assessment. This unit applies to staff responsible for preparing and developing an interpretive activity ready for presentation to a tour group and to evaluating the activity after it has been presented within the labour divisions of the hotel and travel industries and may include: 1. Tour Operation Context for the interpretive activity may be related to: • Integration into wider or diverse interpretive activities and tour experiences including the need to factor in product and site development initiatives and general, as opposed to local, community needs • Location and cultural background to the activity • Contemporary thoughts and opinions in relation to the activity that is the focus of the eventual presentation • Time and budget available to develop the presentation

Element 2: Plan and develop the interpretive activity 2.1 Identify and develop possible messages and themes for the interpretive activity 2.2 Generate and develop activities to support the identified themes and messages for the interpretive activity 2.3 Incorporate risk management principles into the final interpretive activity 2.4 Develop resources and materials to support the on-tour delivery of the interpretive activity 2.5 Prepare contingency plans 2.6 Promote the tour and the interpretive activity Element 3: Evaluate the interpretive activity 3.1 Establish and implement a scheduled system for evaluating the presentation of interpretive activities 3.2 De-brief with colleagues 3.3 Seek feedback from customers 3.4 Evaluate actual presentation of the interpretive activity against target performance criteria for the activity 3.5 Revise operations on the basis of the review data	• Need to comply with legislated obligations imposed by the country in which the interpretive activity takes place • The need to apply the principles of the interpretive approach to guiding • The subject that is the basis of the activity • Feedback that has been received from past tour group members. Customer requests and needs may include: • Timing and duration considerations • Budget • Location of the interpretive activity • Access to and requirements for unimpeded lines of sight and hearing regarding the interpretive activity • The specific activities to be included within the overall interpretive activity • Information to be communicated • Level of engagement with the activity • Variations to the interpretive activity to meet specific tour group characteristics including variations to cater for groups such as school groups, senior citizens, local and international travellers, as appropriate. Interpretive activity can apply to a wide range of subjects and activities and may include: Subjects: • Flora and fauna • Domestic and farm animals • History and heritage • Culture, arts and entertainment

	• Sport and recreation • The general natural environment • The built environment • Festivals, seasons and religious observances. Activities: • Guided walks • Guided site activities • Touring activities • Spotting activities • Any activity that facilitates engagement with the subject that is the focus of the activity. The interpretive approach commonly uses face-to-face methods and is frequently supported by interpretive media and aids. The interpretive approach includes: • Engaging the participants • Providing a verbal commentary to explain and translate the characteristics, significance and features of the tour • Attributing local and cultural meaning to sites, sights and activities • Facilitating learning, understanding and awareness • Contextualising the tour/activities within a local framework and flavour • Generating respect and appreciation for the local customs, history and people • Provoking curiosity, thought and encouraging personal reflection • Bringing the tour to life by providing opportunities for learning and participation • Building a relationship between the tour groups and the environment/focus of the tour.

	Local community requirements may be related to: • Prohibitions and permissions in relation to information that may be shared • Timing concerns for presentation of the activity and the presence of tour groups • Determinations regarding ancillary activities such as retail opportunities • Required behaviour of group members • Types of activities that may or may not be undertaken. Final objectives may relate to: • Educational, historical and cultural issues • Commercial imperatives • Social agendas • Identification of specific themes and/or messages to be contained within the interpretive activity • Compliance with obligations imposed by local communities, authorities and other bodies. Opportunities for local community participation may relate to: • Use of local guides, demonstrators, interpreters and facilitators • Capitalising on supplementary retail opportunities • Increased levels of public exposure for issues • Chance to redress public misconceptions. Research the subject may include: • Talking and listening to relevant people including visiting communities and interacting with local communities, where applicable and where possible • Organising information from personal memory and personal experiences
--	---

	• Watching, reading and listening to the media including specific articles and programs on the subject that is the focus of the interpretive activity • Reading books and other targeted reference sources • Undertaking internet desktop research • Visiting museums and cultural centres including discussions with curators. Messages and themes may include: • Support and align with identified objectives • Be approved by the wider community and the local communities, where applicable • Integrate with the interpretive approach to guiding • Comply with ethical standards including the requirements for truth, full disclosure and absence of fabrication of information. Generate and develop activities should include: • Completing an interpretive activity planner for each identified activity • Involving relevant specialists who may include: ▪ Subject matter experts ▪ Cultural advisers ▪ Technical experts ▪ Creative designers ▪ Actors and performers ▪ Marketers ▪ Environmental educators ▪ Interpretive consultants. Activities may include: • Commentaries

	• Story-telling • Interactive activities including demonstrations, hands-on activities, games, sightings and observations, completing checklists, gathering on-site information, explorations, problem solving challenges • Activities to meet all sensory needs, as far as practicable • Activities to engage the widest range of potential tour group members. Incorporate risk management principles must include: • Implementing risk identification, risk analysis and risk control practices for all interpretive activities • Ensuring the safety of all tour group members • Preserving the environment • Respecting the requests and needs of local communities. Resources and materials may include: • Natural resources • Handouts including take away materials such as fact sheets/brochures for tour group members and 'tips for guides' sheets to background the interpretive activity for them and to assist in the presentation of the interpretive activity • Costumes and props • Equipment and items specific to the individual activity • Performers, actors and guest speakers • Involvement of special interest organisations and groups • Equipment to present the activity including microphones, megaphones, audio-visual equipment and systems, such as overhead projectors, data projectors, slides, transparencies, and laser pointers.

	Contingency plans may be prepared to address special circumstances that can be expected to arise when the interpretive activity is conducted, which may include: • Adverse weather conditions • Very large groups • Very small groups • People who do not speak or understand the language in which the interpretive activity is normally presented • Instances where the interpretive activity has to be conducted in a reduced amount of time. Promote the tour and the interpretive activity may include: • Writing advertisements • Designing promotional material • Selecting the media to be used • Allocating resources to support the promotion. Establish and implement a scheduled system for evaluating may include: • Identifying personnel to be involved in the process • Allocating specific responsibilities in relation to the evaluation • Setting dates for formal evaluations • Creating feedback sheets for distribution to group tour members • Identifying the external community who will be included in the process • Establishing facilities to facilitate after tour feedback from tour group members including telephone, mail, fax or e-mail responses • Establishing a process for handling complaints about the interpretive activity.

	De-briefing may include: • Soliciting verbal and written feedback from colleagues • Analysing incident reports • Evaluating staff perceptions of levels of customer satisfaction • Identifying complaints received, or overheard, from customers. Feedback from customers may include: • Verbal feedback • Written feedback • Feedback received during, on the conclusion of the interpretive activity or tour, or later via letter or electronic format • Web page feedback. Revise operations may include: • Altering plans • Acquiring extra or different resources/information • Preparing different activities and/or commentaries • Changing the promotional activities for the tour • Amending staffing for the tour • Imposing or easing restrictions or limitations on tour customers • Changing the itinerary for the tour. Assessment Guide The following skills and knowledge must be assessed as part of this unit: • Enterprise policies and procedures in regard to the development, promotion, conduct and evaluation of interpretive activities
--	---

	• Principles of guiding and the interpretive approach to activities • Ability to use research, planning and preparation techniques to develop interpretive activities for the required tour destinations, sites, groups and objectives • Ability to use basic communication and tour guiding equipment • Knowledge of and skills relating to the focus for the tour • Understanding of the principles of guiding • Ability to prepare plans • General knowledge about communities and their culture • Ability to communicate and negotiate with communities • Sensitivity to cultural issues of unique cultures • Ability to produce or acquire resources and support materials to enable the presentation of an interpretive activity • Ability to determine customer requirements in relation to an interpretive activity at a designated location/site. Linkages To Other Units • Develop and update tourism industry knowledge • Follow safety and security procedures • Work as a tour guide • Allocate tour resources • Conduct interpretive activities in the field • Co-ordinate and operate a day-tour (or short excursions) • Demonstrate/observe respect for indigenous cultures • Manage and facilitate an extended tour experience

	• Research and share information on indigenous cultures • Prepare and present tour commentaries • Develop interpretive content for eco-tourism activities • Develop and monitor culturally appropriate tourism activity. Critical Aspects of Assessment Evidence of the following is essential: • Understanding of host enterprise policies, procedures and plans relating to the conduct of tours and to the preparation, presentation and evaluation of interpretive activities • Demonstrated ability to identify an interpretive activity suitable for inclusion in a nominated tour type and produce a written plan; for example, an interpretive activity planner and supporting resources and materials to enable and guide the successful, effective and engaging implementation of that activity. The planned and developed interpretive activities to be assessed against criteria provided to a tour group. This does not include the delivery of the interpretive activity • Demonstrated ability to obtain written and/or verbal feedback from colleagues and customers on a nominated interpretive activity presented on tour • Demonstrated ability to identify how feedback received from colleagues and customers on a nominated interpretive activity can be integrated in to standard operating procedures and plans for the future. Context of Assessment Assessment must ensure: • Actual or simulated workplace application of planning, development and evaluation skills and a local community context for the research of material and negotiation of content for the interpretive activity.

	Resource Implications Training and assessment must include the use of real locations/sites and communities, real contexts, real people for the evaluation and real materials, props and support materials; and access to workplace standards, procedures, policies, guidelines, tools and equipment. Assessment Methods The following methods may be used to assess competency for this unit: • Observation of practical candidate performance • Portfolio of documentation including interpretive activity planners, materials to support the implementation of interpretive activities and feedback sheets • Role plays • Oral and written questions • Third party reports completed by a supervisor • Project and assignment work • Simulations. Key Competencies in this Unit Level 1 = competence to undertake tasks effectively Level 2 = competence to manage tasks Level 3 = competence to use concepts for evaluating
--	--

	Key Competencies	Level	Examples
	Collecting, organising and analysing information	3	Research and develop general knowledge about the interpretive activity
	Communicating ideas and information	3	Communicate and negotiate with a community to determine information that can be shared with tour groups
	Planning and organising activities	2	Organise arrangements with communities to use a local interpreter and/or guide
	Working with others and in teams	3	Liaise with specialists in the development of the interpretive activity
	Using mathematical ideas and techniques	1	Calculate costs
	Solving problems	3	Negotiate solutions to problems and issues raised by communities
	Using technology	1	Use the internet for research; use audio-visual systems and equipment

Oral questions

Unit of competency	Plan, develop and evaluate interpretive activities D2.TTG.CL3.14
Instructions	1. Ask student questions from the attached list to confirm knowledge, as necessary 2. Place tick in boxes to reflect student achievement (Pass Competent 'PC' or Not Yet Competent 'NYC') 3. Write short-form student answer in the space provided for each question.

Questions	Response
	PC	NYC
1. With reference to your previous work, describe the content for interpretive activities.	☐	☐
2. Give an example of how customer requests/needs have impacted an interpretive activity and the interpretive approach used.	☐	☐

Questions	Response
	PC	NYC
3. Use an example to demonstrate how you have investigated local community requirements and/or preferences in relation to an interpretive activity being planned/developed explaining how this research translated into an opportunity for them to participate.	☐	☐
4. Name an interpretive activity you have researched and developed describing the research undertaken and identifying the objectives explaining why they were chosen.	☐	☐
5. Describe an interpretive activity you developed explaining how you identified and developed messages and themes for it, and generated activities and resources/materials to support them for the activity.	☐	☐

Questions	Response
	PC	NYC
6. Use an example to show me how you incorporated risk management principles into the planning on an interpretive activity.	☐	☐
7. Give me an example of the contingency plan/s you put in place for an interpretive activity of your choice.	☐	☐
8. Describe how you promoted one of the interpretive activities you have planned/developed.	☐	☐

Questions	Response
	PC	NYC
9. Name an interpretive activity you have developed and describe the review for it explaining scheduling of the process, involvement of others and the evaluation of the activity against the expectations for it.	☐	☐
10. Tell me about a situation where you revised an interpretive activity based on the evaluation/review of it: what did you change and why?	☐	☐

Written questions

Plan, develop and evaluate interpretive activities – D2.TTG.CL3.14

Student Name: _____

Answer all the following questions and submit to your Trainer.

1. In your own words describe/explain 'interpretive guiding'.

2. List five factors which will assist in providing a context for interpretive activities provided as part of a tour.

3. Identify four general guiding principles.

4. In relation to interpretive guiding what does the acronym 'POETRY' stand for?

5. Special requirements for tours which may impact interpretive guiding will take one of two forms; what are they?

6. Identify six examples of generic 'special requests' interpretive guiding may be asked to take into consideration.

7. Name four practical and effective ways to identify local community requirements and/or preferences in relation to tours and tour-related activities.

8. List four examples of generic issues, requirements and/or preferences local communities may have in relation to interpretive activities and guiding.

9. Give four examples of topics which general final objectives for interpretive activities may relate to.

10. Give six examples of possible specific objectives for interpretive activities.

11. Give six examples of issues to be taken into account when identifying the type of interpretive activity to be presented.

12. Explain four ways 'different voice techniques' can be used as part of presenting an interpretive activity.

13. Other than 'different voice techniques' identify and explain two types of interpretive activities.

This image shows a blank sheet of white paper with horizontal ruling lines. The lines are evenly spaced and extend across the width of the page. There are no margins, text, or other markings on the paper.

14. Name four general opportunities local communities have for participating in interpretive activities.

15. Identify three activities involved in 'consulting' as part of the research process when developing an interpretive activity.

16. Explain three ways 'touring and travelling' can assist with researching an interpretive activity.

17. Describe six keys to effective research.

18. Identify and differentiate between the 'theme' and the 'message' for an interpretive activity.

19. List three important considerations in relation to messages and themes being considered for conversion into an interpretive activity.

20. Give two reasons it is necessary to identify and understand a clearly defined theme when writing a theme.

21. Select and describe one of the two options available in terms of 'interpretive activity planners'.

22. Identify four examples of specialist personnel who may be engaged to assist with development of interpretive activities giving a brief explanation of the services they can contribute.

23. List the tasks in the basic development process for a scripted commentary.

24. List four reasons 'demonstrations' are effective when used as part of interpretive activities.

25. Identify and explain one type of 'demonstration' which might be used in an interpretive activity.

26. What two generic obligations are placed under businesses under 'Duty of Care'?

27. Give six reasons it is necessary to implement risk management principles into interpretive activities and all guiding activities.

28. What are the three basic steps/stages in the formal risk management process?

29. Name six activities involved in implementing risk management in relation to interpretive activities.

30. List the six controls available under the Hierarchy of Controls

31. Which control under the Hierarchy of Controls is most effective, and which is least effective?

32. Describe four points which need to be addressed when considering resources and materials to support the on-tour delivery of an interpretive activity.

33. What are the two generic options for obtaining required resources and materials to support delivery of interpretive activities?

34. What are the three types/levels of plans normally prepared for tours?

35. Give four pre-requisites which need to exist in order for tour plans to be effective.

36. Define 'contingency plans' in relation interpretive activities.

37. Give four reasons contingency plans need to be prepared.

38. Identify the standard components of a contingency plan.

39. Identify six important consideration in relation to promoting a tour and/or activity.

40. Identify six activities which might be involved in promoting a tour and/or activity.

41. What advice have you obtained from the ASEAN Tourism Marketing Strategy 2012 - 2015 which assists with decisions regarding promotions of tours/activities?

42. Give four reasons interpretive activities need to be evaluated.

43. Identify and describe the two basic evaluation options/approaches to evaluations of interpretive activities.

44. Describe four keys in the scheduled approach to evaluations of interpretive activities.

45. Name eight activities which might be involved in implementing a scheduled approach to evaluating interpretive activities.

46. When might staff de-briefings be conducted in relation to evaluating interpretive activities?

47. Name five classifications of people who may participate in staff de-briefings.

48. Identify four activities which may be involved in a staff de-briefing.

49. List three ways customer feedback about interpretive activities may be obtained.

50. Name four keys/important factors in relation to feedback from customers.

51. Identify four keys in relation to using performance criteria to evaluate interpretive activities.

52. Give six generic examples of possible revisions which may be made to interpretive activities following their evaluation.

Answers to written questions

Plan, develop and evaluate interpretive activities – D2.TTG.CL3.14

The following are model answers only – Trainers/Assessors must use discretion when determining whether or not an answer provided by a Student is acceptable or not.

1. In your own words describe/explain 'interpretive guiding'.

Answer must address:

- Interpretive guiding can be seen as the use of interpretive activities and presentation techniques by a Tour Guide when leading/presenting a tour
- Their use makes a tour for participants a much more memorable experience
- Interpretive guiding goes beyond the basic provision of information which is seen by many as their sole objective when conducting a tour
- Interpretive guiding refers to interpretation of the topics/areas (see below) which are the focus of the tour or encountered along the way
- In many ways interpretive guiding seeks to make people care about, and care for, topics and subjects which are the focus of interpretive activities.

2. List five factors which will assist in providing a context for interpretive activities provided as part of a tour.

- The subject that is the basis of the activity
- Integration into other considerations
- Background to the activity
- Resources available
- Thoughts and opinions
- Need to comply with mandatory obligations
- Feedback that has been received from past tour group members
- The need to apply relevant guiding principles.

3. Identify four general guiding principles.

- Need to ensure the safety and security
- Need for care and respect
- Need for appropriate skills and abilities
- Need for knowledge
- Need to provide a positive and memorable tour
- Need for ethical conduct
- Need to cater for special needs individuals and groups.

4. In relation to interpretive guiding what does the acronym 'POETRY' stand for?

- P = Purposeful
- O = Organised
- E = Enjoyable or Engaging, or Entertaining
- T = Thematic
- R = Relevant to the audience
- Y = You – highlighting that the Tour Guide needs to be themselves and inject their own personality and enthusiasm into what they do.

5. Special requirements for tours which may impact interpretive guiding will take one of two forms: what are they?

- Private/custom tours – as defined by contracts and discussions/negotiations with clients
- Special requests received from upcoming tour participants.

6. Identify six examples of generic 'special requests' interpretive guiding may be asked to take into consideration.

- Timing
- Budget
- Location of the interpretive activity
- Access to interpretive activities
- Specific activities
- Information
- Level of engagement
- Variations.

7. Name four practical and effective ways to identify local community requirements and/or preferences in relation to tours and tour-related activities.

- Speak to management of the Tour Operator organisation
- Talk to other Tour Guides
- Consult and engage with the community
- Read relevant documentation relating.

- 8. List four examples of generic issues, requirements and/or preferences local communities may have in relation to interpretive activities and guiding.
- Prohibitions and permissions
 - Timing concerns
 - Determinations regarding ancillary activities
 - Required behaviour of group members
 - Types of activities.
- 9. Give four examples of topics which general final objectives for interpretive activities may relate to.
- Educational, historical and/or cultural issues
 - Commercial imperatives
 - Social agendas
 - Content of the tour
 - Compliance requirements.
- 10. Give six examples of possible specific objectives for interpretive activities.
- Provide a verbal commentary (often a blend of scripted and unscripted)
 - Facilitate understanding – through a combination of actions
 - Give local and cultural context
 - Conduct appropriate and meaningful activities
 - Contextualise the tour/activities
 - Generate respect and appreciation
 - Provoke and encourage intellectual activity
 - Bring the tour to life
 - Build relationships
 - Provide explanations and give examples of information provided.

11. Give six examples of issues to be taken into account when identifying the type of interpretive activity to be presented.

The chosen activities must:

- Present required content – as advised by customers, contracts or communities
- Align with a stated theme – as indicated by the name/title of the tour
- Give an appropriate context – for the issue or tour being presented
- Meet advertised promises – made in promotional material for the tour
- Operate within applicable parameters – of time and budget
- Be safe to conduct – for participants, observers and others
- Integrate into wider/other interpretive activities – and the general/overall tour experience
- Accommodate development initiatives – of products and sites
- Match host communities' needs, wants and preferences
- Demonstrate compliance – with mandated and other self-imposed obligations and agreements
- Be environmentally sensitive – and sustainable
- Reflect identified customer needs, wants and preferences – to the best extent commensurate with other considerations
- Engage the tour group members – mentally and/or physically
- Optimise use of available resources
- Represent the most suitable and appropriate choice of option/activity – for the issue/content being delivered
- Factor in the content/situation – in which they are to be implemented
- Be appropriate for individual audiences – for whom they are being used
- Be do-able – the Tour Guide must be able to do them.

12. Explain four ways 'different voice techniques' can be used as part of presenting an interpretive activity.

- Speaking faster or slower
- Pausing/stopping and allowing silence/a pause in the commentary
- Speaking louder/shouting or speaking more quietly/whispering.
- Putting a Tour Guide 'in character' when discussing a certain person/individual
- Using local names, terms and pronunciations
- Using local dialects and accents.

13. Other than ‘different voice techniques’ identify and explain two types of interpretive activities.

No model answer.

14. Name four general opportunities local communities have for participating in interpretive activities.

- Employing or engaging (in an unpaid capacity) local people in nominated roles
- Capitalising on retail opportunities
- Increasing levels of public exposure for issues
- Chance to redress public misconceptions.

15. Identify three activities involved in ‘consulting’ as part of the research process when developing an interpretive activity.

- Talking and listening to relevant people
- Visiting communities
- Holding community meetings.

16. Explain three ways ‘touring and travelling’ can assist with researching an interpretive activity.

- Participating in other tours and interpretive activities conducted by the employer tour organisation
- Taking part in tours and interpretive activities operated by other tour organisations
- Visiting museums and cultural centres and holding discussions with curators.

17. Describe six keys to effective research.

- Ask questions
- Make notes
- Ensure the sources of all information are recorded
- Read and review
- Organise information for reference and research purposes
- Validate the information gained
- Obtain necessary permissions
- Check back with the client (where applicable)
- Update the research.

18. Identify and differentiate between the ‘theme’ and the ‘message’ for an interpretive activity.

Answer must address:

- Terms ‘message’ and ‘theme’ often used interchangeably
- A ‘message’ (interpretive message) is a stand-alone but important statement which makes sense on its own but underpins/supports the theme for an activity
- The ‘theme’ is ‘the take home message’ for the visitors – the word ‘message’ in this commonly used definition is partly responsible for the confusion that exists regarding distinction between the two terms
- The take home message is one, big idea that the tour/activity wants people to leave with/thinking about
- There is no limit to the exact nature of the ‘messages and themes’ which may be developed
- ‘Messages and themes’ may be seen as the story-lines for activities
- They flow from the ‘topic’, title or focus for the tour.

19. List three important considerations in relation to messages and themes being considered for conversion into an interpretive activity.

It is necessary to ensure the messages and themes being considered for conversion into an interpretive activity within a tour:

- Support and align with identified objectives
- Be approved
- Integrate and align with the interpretive approach to guiding
- Factor in the expected delivery environment
- Comply with required and expected business principles and ethical standards.

20. Give two reasons it is necessary to identify and understand a clearly defined theme when writing a theme.

- Underpins the next stage of the process – developing the activities necessary to deliver the theme
- Provides a focal point for the tour group – which must be (as appropriate to the group and the tour type) engaging, entertaining and/or thought-provoking.

21. Select and describe one of the two options available in terms of ‘interpretive activity planners’.

No model answer.

22. Identify four examples of specialist personnel who may be engaged to assist with development of interpretive activities giving a brief explanation of the services they can contribute.

No model answer.

23. List the tasks in the basic development process for a scripted commentary.

- Identify commentary information that needs to be conveyed
- Research the selected commentary information that needs to be conveyed
- Classify commentary information
- Develop themes for the commentary information that needs to be conveyed
- Prepare draft scripts, trial and revise as required
- Learn ancillary/supporting (secondary – ‘nice to know’) information
- Implement the scripted commentary and revise/update on the basis of feedback/lessons learned.

24. List four reasons ‘demonstrations’ are effective when used as part of interpretive activities.

- They are active and illustrate the commentary
- They add variety, interest and entertainment
- They can demonstrate the competency of the Tour Guide and hence build credibility
- They can provide an opportunity to include the local community
- They enhance understanding and encourage engagement and questions.

25. Identify and explain one type of ‘demonstration’ which might be used in an interpretive activity.

No model answer.

26. What two generic obligations are placed under businesses under ‘Duty of Care’?

- Create and maintain a workplace or (touring) environment that does not pose a risk to people (staff, members of the public, customers)
- Take action to avoid causing foreseeable harm to people/customers/tour group members or their property/belongings.

27. Give six reasons it is necessary to implement risk management principles into interpretive activities and all guiding activities.

- Avoid legal action for breach of Duty of Care – that is, being sued for damages
- Protect the safety of tour group members, tour staff, members of the public and the local community
- Guard against damage to the site
- Make better operational decisions
- Protect the environment from negative impacts
- Keep the physical resources used safe from damage or loss
- Make sure the activity can be undertaken in a safe manner/identified hazards are controlled
- Maintain the safe reputation of the Tour Operator
- Keep insurance premiums low.

28. What are the three basic steps/stages in the formal risk management process?

- Risk identification
- Risk analysis and assessment
- Risk control.

29. Name six activities involved in implementing risk management in relation to interpretive activities.

- Comply with internal risk management protocols
- Involve others in the risk management process
- Consider the activity from a theoretical perspective as a primary starting point
- Visit the site for the activity
- Produce written risk management plans
- Provide all necessary PPE as required for all activities for tour group members (and staff)
- Produce and provide relevant safety information and advice (including demonstrations of requirements, and [where appropriate] practice/drill prior to engagement with activities etc.) to tour group members
- Check the personal health and capacity of tour group members.

30. List the six controls available under the Hierarchy of Controls

- Elimination
- Substitution
- Isolation
- Engineering controls
- Administrative controls
- Personal protective clothing and equipment.

31. Which control under the Hierarchy of Controls is most effective, and which is least effective?

- Most effective = Elimination
- Least effective = Personal protective clothing and equipment.

32. Describe four points which need to be addressed when considering resources and materials to support the on-tour delivery of an interpretive activity.

- Requirements for internal staff training
- Materials and requirements needed for inclusion as part of the pre-tour briefing
- Preparation of on-tour documents/information for use and/or distribution on-tour
- Activity-related physical resources
- Human resources
- Presentation equipment required to present, explain and/or conduct the activity.

33. What are the two generic options for obtaining required resources and materials to support delivery of interpretive activities?

- Development
- Acquisition.

34. What are the three types/levels of plans normally prepared for tours?

- Operational plans
- Emergency plans
- Contingency plans.

35. Give four pre-requisites which need to exist in order for tour plans to be effective.

- They need to be properly and adequately resourced
- They need to be trialled and tested
- The trials/tests need to be reviewed and the plans revised, as/if necessary
- They need to be communicated to staff
- Demonstrations, practice and/or drills must underpin actual implementation
- They need to be reviewed and updated as tours and requirements/relevant issues alter.

36. Define 'contingency plans' in relation to interpretive activities.

- Contingency plans are plans prepared for tour staff to follow in case certain predictable, foreseeable or likely events actually materialise
- They are Plan B – they detail what will be done when Plan A (what should normally occur as planned/as usual according to standard 'operational' plans) cannot happen.

37. Give four reasons contingency plans need to be prepared.

- Ensure tours/activities operate smoothly even when there are difficulties/problems
- Control costs, timing and activities where there is a need to deviate from standard operational plans
- Optimise potential to meet customer expectations even where unexpected situations occur
- Give direction to Tour staff when things go wrong
- Comply with legislation and legal obligations.

38. Identify the standard components of a contingency plan.

- Name/title of the activity
- Name of the Tour to which the plan applies
- Relevant dates
- Trigger points
- Action to take
- Required notifications
- Prompts/lists of other factors which may potentially need to be considered as a consequence.

39. Identify six important consideration in relation to promoting a tour and/or activity.

- Adhere to the budget for advertising
- Target intended customers
- Use language appropriate to each target market
- Leverage joint-venture promotions
- Time the promotion to coincide with delivery/availability of the tour/activity
- Use a variety of advertising mediums and channels
- Develop and use a promotion plan
- Update/revise as required.

40. Identify six activities which might be involved in promoting a tour and/or activity.

- Writing advertisements
- Designing promotional material
- Selecting the media to be used
- Supplying media releases to the media
- Conducting media events
- Inviting agents to participate
- Providing free tours (and travel and accommodation) to the media
- Creating merchandise to support the tour/attraction
- Allocating resources to support the promotion
- Distributing promotional materials to targeted outlets
- Participating in a variety of shows
- Using personalities.

41. What advice have you obtained from the ASEAN Tourism Marketing Strategy 2012 – 2015 which assists with decisions regarding promotions of tours/activities?

No model answer.

42. Give four reasons interpretive activities need to be evaluated.

- Determine if the activities are effective
- Assess whether or not the activities remain relevant
- Identify satisfaction levels of tour group members
- Determine matching against Advertisements and Expectations
- Calculate the cost of conducting the activities
- Meet quality assurance obligations
- Provide current and actual data to management to help with decision-making
- Confirm all management protocols remain valid and effective.

43. Identify and describe the two basic evaluation options/approaches to evaluations of interpretive activities.

- Option 1 = all activities are evaluated every (say) 12 months.
This is the best/most effective evaluation option but is time consuming, costs more and (some argue) moves the focus away from delivery to less relevant matters
- Option 2 = certain/nominated activities are evaluated on a regular basis (say every 3 months) and at the end of a lengthier period (say 2 years) all activities will have been evaluated.
This spreads the workload out over a longer period yet may still provide feedback and information needed to make operational decisions.

44. Describe four keys in the scheduled approach to evaluations of interpretive activities.

- The evaluation must be planned and prepared for
- A formal written plan/schedule needs to be produced
- Decisions need to be made about:
 - The interpretive activities to be evaluated
 - When to evaluate
 - Who will conduct/be part of the evaluation – see below
 - What aspects of activities to evaluate
 - Stages/milestones
- Training.

45. Name eight activities which might be involved in implementing a scheduled approach to evaluating interpretive activities.

- Holding meetings with groups/stakeholders
- Reviewing customer feedback obtained 'over time'
- Distributing feedback forms to those from whom feedback is required
- Encouraging feedback and asking people to comment/provide input
- Interviewing stakeholders face-to-face
- Gathering together sales data/revenue and expenditure/cost figures
- Observing implementation/conduct of activities to capture/record required data
- Entering data into the system for analysis
- Determining whether or not more data needs to be obtained and/or if current data requires clarification
- Assessing and analysing the information against the objectives set for the review process and making recommendations
- Reporting on the process.

46. When might staff de-briefings be conducted in relation to evaluating interpretive activities?

- After every tour or activity – as a standard operating procedure to be completed before the tour/activity has been completely finalised
- After every X tours/activities – such as 'after every 10 tours/activities'
- At designated times – such as 'at the end of every week' or 'every 3 months' or on pre-determined dates.

47. Name five classifications of people who may participate in staff de-briefings.

- Tour Guides who present the tours and/or activities
- Drivers who assist with the tours/activities
- Internal sales staff – who sell tickets/tours/activities
- Agents and partners who assist in selling the tours/activities
- Presenters, performers and others used in the interpretive activities.

48. Identify four activities which may be involved in a staff de-briefing.

- Soliciting verbal feedback
- Obtaining written feedback
- Analysing written reports
- Evaluating staff perceptions
- Considering complaints received, or overheard, from customers.

49. List three ways customer feedback about interpretive activities may be obtained.

- Making personal observations of customers by tour staff – watching and listening
- Soliciting written feedback provided by tour group members
- Using other market research techniques
- Analysing comments made by and input received from third party providers, co-chair operators and/or joint-venture partners.

50. Name four keys/important factors in relation to feedback from customers.

- It must be asked for – there is a need to be proactive
- The feedback process must be formalised
- Contributions received must be Acknowledged, Recorded, Investigated, Analysed
- Obvious requests/suggestions for change must not be ignored
- Changes made to interpretive activities and tours on the basis of feedback received from customers must be communicated to them.

51. Identify four keys in relation to using performance criteria to evaluate interpretive activities.

- The stated performance criteria as stated in the plans are the standards which must be used
- Actual evidence, proof or data must be used in the evaluation
- Statistical analysis is at the heart of the process
- The evaluation itself is a simple process of comparing the projected/required/expected figure for each performance criteria as stated in the relevant plan with the findings of the actual data
- The process should result in the generation of findings
- The performance criteria used for the evaluation need to be reviewed and revised where necessary at every evaluation.

52. Give six generic examples of possible revisions which may be made to interpretive activities following their evaluation.

- Undertaking new or additional risk management protocols to ensure all proposed changes have has their risks identified and effectively controlled
 - Altering plans
 - Acquiring extra or different resources
 - Acquiring extra information
 - Preparing revised or new activities
 - Generating revised or new commentaries
 - Changing the promotional activities for the tour
 - Amending staffing for the tour
 - Changing parameters relating to tour customers
 - Changing the itinerary for the tour.
